Must Be Submitted To Union Vote

Airline Strike Negotiators Give OK To Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators for striking mechanics and the five grounded airlines agreed today to try to settle the dispute by voluntary arbitration and thus avoid legislation by Congress.

But the question will have to be submitted to the union members for a vote before arbitration is attempted. President P.L. Siemiller of the International Association of Machinists told the House Commerce Committee. He said this would take about three and a half days.

Speaking for the carriers, William J. Curtain accepted the idea in principle.

The agreement was reached as the committee moved toward action on back-to-work legislation after failure of a new negotiating effort Tuesday night.

The hearing went ahead.

The dispute centers on wages, with particular emphasis by the union on a demand for a cost-of-living escalator clause.

Under the arbitration plan the procedure would be for the negotiators to get together and see how many items in a possible settlement they could agree on and how many would be left for submission to voluntary binding arbitration.

Presenting the idea to the principals as they appeared for the hearing today, Committee Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., told them:

"The time when this committee must stop playing around has come and both sides must be brought to their senses some way. There will be amendments to this bill that neither labor nor management will like."

The bill before the committee, already passed by the Senate, would make it possible to order the strikers back to work for as much as 180 days. There have been various suggestions for some pressure on the airlines during this period to bargain for a settlement. One proposal would involve impounding profits.

The committee planned to complete its hearings today with testimony from Curtin.

Korean-Sized War By Christmas

U.S. Buildup In Viet Nam Expected To Hit 470,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs mount that the United States may have a Korean-sized war on its hands in Viet Nam around Christmas.

This would mean an American commitment of about 470,000 men in Southeast Asia, the peak level of U.S. forces used directly and in support of Korean operations in 1953.

Present U.S. strength in activity tied to the Viet Nam war is estimated at 375,000, including 290,000 troops in Viet Nam, 60,000 seamen offshore and at least 25,000 military personnel spread over bases, supply complexes and other facilities in Guam, Thailand, the Philippines and Okinawa.

Reports persist, and are not officially denied, that by the end of this year American troops within Viet Nam will total about 400,000 — some 110,000 greater than at present.

From President Johnson on down, various leaders have talked of bolstering American forces as a means of trying to pressure Communists to negotiate a settlement of the conflict.

"More manpower will be required," President Johnson told a news conference July 20. "We shall send Gen. Westmoreland such men as he shall require and request."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland is U.S. commander in Viet Nam.

Today, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., told The Associated Press the force "necessary to do the job on the ground" could eventually run as high as 500,000 to 600,000.

"It's very apparent we're going to need more men there," Stennis, chairman of a Defense subcommittee, said. He predicted in January U.S. troops in Viet Nam would hit 400,000 by the end of this year.

One Pentagon official, who must remain unnamed, estimated the actual 1966 yearend strength in Viet Nam probably will be nearer 375,000. But he said defense officials have talked of a 450,000-man ground force to be available within coming months.

The official emphasized that such discussions center around capability and that at this point there has been no firm decision to deploy men in such numbers.

The whole question of the spiraling U.S. buildup drew fresh attention this week with word of two studies casting doubt on the adequacy, over the long run, of the present level of American forces in Viet Nam.

About the same time, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was saying in Saigon after meeting with top military officials he felt a half million men would be needed to win the war.

Speculation immediately arose that Nixon was reflecting the view of Westmoreland.

The two studies — whose existence coincidentally became known in Saigon — attracted sudden official downgrading from the Pentagon in Washington.

One report compiled by the Marine Corps indicated that Hanoi could keep up its present war pace indefinitely unless the United States increased its forces to about 750,000.

The other, described as an Army study, stated that with the present rate of progress in the war, the Communist regime could hold out eight years.

Begins Month-Long Recess

Pennsylvania's Assembly OK's $1.3 Billion Budget

HARRISBURG (AP) — The general assembly began a month - long recess today after passing the bulk of Gov. Scranton's $1.5 billion budget Tuesday.

Both chambers, acting on the heels of a bipartisan agreement reached last week, unanimously approved a $1.3 billion general appropriations bill to finance 90 per cent of state spending in the fiscal year which began July 1.

The Senate, meanwhile, sent another $11.3 million in non-preferred appropriations to the governor, including funds for the three state - related universities: $39.2 million for Penn State, $20.1 million for Temple, and $19.7 million for Pitt.

All of the money bills, representing the break in a three - month stalemate between the Democratic - controlled House and Republican Senate, will be on Scranton's desk awaiting his signature when he returns from a European vacation.

Senate Democrats had threatened to block approval of the non - preferred appropriations, which needed a two - thirds vote, if more state funds for college scholarships were not made available. They withdrew their opposition, however, when informed that $5 million more could be provided without a new appropriation.

There was no debate in the Senate on the huge general appropriations bill, and only brief discussion in the House.

Rep. Martin P. Mullen, Philadelphia Democrat who heads the Appropriations Committee, recommended adoption of the compromise legislation hammered out by a six - member joint conference committee on which he served.

"This is a good report," he said. "I think everyone can be happy with it."

Rep. William F. Renwick, D-Elk, said he would vote for the bill, but objected to a provision setting aside $50 million for increased school subsidy payment in the next fiscal year.

"We ought to be putting that money back into the districts right now," Renwick said, "because this is the time the districts need it."

While the lawmakers cut most of the administration's requests, they provided themselves with several increases in contingent expenses for leadership offices in both chambers.

The biggest additional expense however, was $25,000 each to the senior minority members of the House and Senate Appropriation Committees for setting up their own budget staffs.

Overnight Retirement

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miss Sarah Baker's retirement at the age of 69 didn't last long. Johnson Wins Governor Bid In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Jim Johnson, a segregationist and unrelenting critic of the federal government, won the Democratic nomination for governor of Arkansas in a runoff primary Tuesday.

The 41-year-old former State Supreme Court justice, who compares his conservative views to those of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, defeated Frank Holt, 55, in a campaign in which the federal-state relationship was a prime issue.

Johnson is still a long step away from the governor's chair, however. Ready to challenge him in November is Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, who has breathed new life into his party during the last six years.

Wheeling Steel Joins Others In Price Hike

A spokesman for the company said the increases included 15-cent boost per 100 pounds on hot and cold rolled sheets and cold rolled strip steel, and lesser increases for tinplate and secondary grades of strip steel.

More Than 80 Combat Missions

Kasler, Top U.S. Pilot In Viet War, Shot Down

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force considered him its No. 1 pilot of the Viet Nam war.

Maj. James H. Kasler, 40, flew more than 80 combat missions over North Viet Nam, excelling at picking out camouflaged targets. Four times enemy bullets riddled his F105 Thunderchief jet but he always made it back.

The pilot's luck ran out Monday when he was shot down deep in the Red River Valley 70 miles northwest of Hanoi. Other fliers saw him parachute from his disabled plane and talked to him by radio after he landed but rescue helicopters were unable to snatch him from enemy soil.

He was presumed captured although the official U.S. announcement listed him as missing.

Kasler's Thunderchief was one of three shot down Monday. His wingman went down a few minutes earlier.

A veteran of 22 years of flying, Kasler was an 18-year-old tailgunner at the close of World War II and flew 100 combat missions in Korea, knocking down six Communist MIGs.

He was the second Korean ace shot down in North Viet Nam. The other Lt. Col. Robinson Risner, an eight-MIG ace, went down in an F105 a year ago and was captured by the North Vietnamese.

MAJ. JAMES H. KASLER
Shot Down In Viet Nam.

Kasler's loss cast a pall over the war rooms, where his fellow pilots had marveled at his feats. They called him "The Destroyer" for his skill at precision bombing and the official Air Force spokesman said he was "the hottest pilot we had."

"It was a black day," the spokesman told newsmen in the same briefing room where he jubilantly introduced Kasler six weeks ago as coleader of the first raid on Hanoi's oil installations.

Kasler, who had released eight 750-pound bombs on the storage tanks, commented: "It was really a beautiful mission. It went precisely as planned."

As a bonus on his way back to his base in Thailand, the hawk-eyed flier spotted 25 trucks on a mountain road and his flight of Thunderchiefs shot up 12.

The father of three teen-agers who lived with his wife Martha in Indianapolis, Ind., Kasler volunteered five times before the Air Force gave him his transfer from Germany to Viet Nam.

In Zanesville, Ind., his mother, Mrs. Rex Kasler, said: "He was very determined about anything he set his mind to doing. Everything he did he tried to do his best."

She said her husband, a retired insurance company employe, dreamed on Sunday night that they had been notified their son was shot down in North Viet Nam.

"It was a premonition and we felt terrible all day Monday," she said. "Rex was just sick all day."

Then came the actual message from the Air Force.

140 Of Viet Cong Killed By Marines

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines struck the Viet Cong today and as fighting continued into the night reported killing 140 enemy troops.

The Viet Cong, armed with recoilless rifles and mortar, were dug in behind trees, hedges and bunkers five miles west of Tam Ky, which is about 35 miles south of Da Nang, the northern Marine base.

It was the heaviest encounter with the enemy since the Marine operation — known as Colorado — began five days ago. Marine casualties were described as light.

The Air Force announced that the two platoons of Viet Cong took over a village in the Mekong Delta Tuesday night and provoked an attack by two U.S. jets that killed 15 Vietnamese and wounded 182.

A spokesman said the attack was ordered by the province chief after a spotter plane was fired on from the village. He said an account from an American in the area said the guerrillas held the villagers at gunpoint while two F100 Super Sabre jets hit with bombs and 20mm cannon fire.

Three of the victims of the attack were identified as Viet Cong. Reports indicated that almost all the rest of the dead and wounded were Vietnamese villagers.

The attack took place eight miles from Can Tho, the largest town in the Mekong Delta and headquarters of the Vietnamese army 4th corps.

Help was rushed to the scene after the Americans were told they had hit a friendly village and the injured were taken to the U.S. hospital in Can Tho.

In the Central Highlands, an outnumbered company of the Korean Tiger Division decimated a North Vietnamese battalion of about 600 men in a bitter all-night battle lit by flares from circling American planes.

The Koreans killed 170 Red soldiers and held the jungle battlefield when dawn came, raking in an unusually high total of 78 Communist weapons.

The battle flared west of Pleiku seven miles from the Cambodian border in an area where three North Vietnamese regiments are reported by intelligence.

While the Koreans held the field, American warplanes swept in with rockets and bombs.

The Red battalion hit the Koreans late Tuesday night. For three hours they held out alone before Korean reinforcements arrived and armored vehicles of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division ploughed up in support. Six hours later the Communists retreated into the jungle.

In both North and South Viet Nam, U.S. planes made hundreds of strikes, including a B52 raid on a suspected troop hideout 40 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese coastal town of Qui Nhon.

For the first time in two days, the U.S. command announced no aircraft losses in the Communist North.

Racial Riots Rock Detroit And Grenada

Violence Flares Short Time After Rights Bill Passage

By The Associated Press

Racial violence erupted in Detroit and Grenada, Miss., Tuesday night only a short time after the House passed a civil rights bill giving new legal weapons to Negroes wanting better housing opportunities.

A white man was hospitalized in Detroit after he was beaten by a group of Negroes who attacked him when he attempted to retrieve a hub cap knocked off his car by a rock-throwing mob.

A force of 150 police, including 17 cars with riot-trained officers, quickly moved into the integrated East Side Detroit neighborhood and brought the violence under control in 90 minutes. Three Negroes who were involved in a brawl with police, setting off the trouble, were charged with inciting to riot, said Police Commissioner Ray Girardin.

In Grenada, several Negroes were injured, none seriously, when a crowd of whites threw rocks, bottles and firecrackers into a group of Negroes staging a civil rights demonstration in the town square.

Police kept the two groups apart, standing with rifles at the ready to block the whites from the street where the Negroes were gathered. But the presence of the officers did not stop the barrage of missiles or shouts of "White power!"

The battle over civil rights for Negroes, including the right to live in any neighborhood, moves to the Senate today. A last-ditch effort by Republican leaders to strike the controversial housing proposal failed and the 1966 civil rights bill was passed by the House Tuesday night 259 to 157.

Winona Phones Hit

Lightning Hurts 2 In Salem Storm

SALEM — A 9-year-old boy and a 16-year-old youth escaped death Tuesday afternoon when struck by lighting in a severe storm that raged through the Salem district. Lightning also was believed the cause of a $75,000 blaze that caused severe damage to the interior of the Winona Exchange of the General Telephone Co.

Michael M. Rugala, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rugala of Benton Rd., was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with burns of both feet and the abdomen that were suffered when lightning struck as he was playing on a swing at his home.

Mark Riffle, 16, of N. Ellsworth Ave., escaped with burns of the left side when lightning struck a car on which he was working.

Court Eyes Jail Sentence For Income Tax Charges

In an announcement from the bench this morning, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff declared he is considering imposing jail sentences, rather than fines, as a stronger deterrent to persons who fail to comply with the city income tax law.

The judge made the announcement after disposing of seven more affidavits in which local residents were accused of violating the ordinance, either by failure to file a final return on 1965 income or furnish an estimate of 1966 earnings.

Three defendants who promised to make settlements with Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson were granted continuances.

They were identified as Edward D. Pack of 2207 Harvey Ave. and Earl R. Golden of 1217 Riverview St., both due to return to court next Wednesday, and Richard G. Joy of 305½ W. 9th St., whose hearing will be held on Aug. 23. Each was charged with failure to file either a 1965 final return or a 1966 estimate.

The court also ordered bench warrants for two defendants who failed to appear for scheduled hearings. They were identified as Fred Rayl of 246 W. 4th St., charged with failure to file a final return for 1965, and Kenneth Yost of 257 Pennsylvania Ave., accused of failure to file an estimate on 1966 income. When Rayl is taken into custody, a $100 bond will be required for his appearance, the

Supporters Optimistic On Passage

Sen. Dirksen Says He's Opposed To Housing Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fight over a federal open housing law shifted to the Senate today after House passage of the 1966 civil rights bill with the controversial provision intact.

The bill, which would arm the federal government with broad new powers to protect Negroes' rights, was passed 259 to 157 Tuesday night but it was a fight to the finish for the housing provision.

Republican leaders made a last ditch effort to kill the proposed ban on racial discrimination by anyone in the housing business, but failed by a vote of 222 to 190.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has called the provision totally unacceptable to him. There are grave doubts it can pass the Senate without his support.

Despite this, the bill's House backers and civil rights groups expressed cautious optimism that it would win final approval and become law.

"If it is killed, it will be by the Republicans," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and the bill's chief sponsor. "I don't see how, in an election year, the Republicans can afford to let that happen. In any case the monkey is now on the Senate's back."

The House-passed bill would put the government into new areas in the civil rights struggle. Besides seeking to improve housing opportunities for Negroes it would classify as federal crimes a new series of offenses involving racial violence.

On one side, the federal government could move against anyone who used force or violence against a Negro or civil rights worker lawfully engaged in any activity sanctioned by federal law.

On the other hand, it also would be a federal crime for anyone to go from one state into another for the purpose of leading, encouraging or taking part in a riot.

That amendment was put to a separate roll call vote Tuesday and won approval by a thundering 389-25 margin.

Crash Injury Claims Life Of Area Woman

A Pennsylvania woman died about 7 a. m. today at City Hospital from injuries received July 31 in a head-on collision at Taylor's Bend on Route 30 east of Chester.

She was Miss Mary Meska, 52, of Allison, a passenger in an auto driven by Mary Gara, 50, also of Allison. The car was struck by another driven by Mitchell Zarnich, 19, of Aliquippa, which crossed over the center line, according to the report of the Hancock County sheriff's department.

Five other persons were injured in the accident and received treatment at the hospital.

Miss Meska was born Aug. 13, 1913, the daughter of the late Joseph and Catherine Meska. A brother, Joseph Meska, resides in Parma, Ohio.

It was the heaviest encounter with the enemy since the Marine operation — known as Colorado — began five days ago. Marine casualties were described as light.

The Air Force announced that the two platoons of Viet Cong took over a village in the Mekong Delta Tuesday night and provoked an attack by two U.S. jets that killed 15 Vietnamese and wounded 182.

A spokesman said the attack was ordered by the province chief after a spotter plane was fired on from the village. He said an account from an American in the area said the guerrillas held the villagers at gunpoint while two F100 Super Sabre jets hit with bombs and 20mm cannon fire.

Three of the victims of the attack were identified as Viet Cong. Reports indicated that almost all the rest of the dead and wounded were Vietnamese villagers.

The attack took place eight miles from Can Tho, the largest town in the Mekong Delta and headquarters of the Vietnamese army 4th corps.

Help was rushed to the scene after the Americans were told they had hit a friendly village and the injured were taken to the U.S. hospital in Can Tho.

In the Central Highlands, an outnumbered company of the Korean Tiger Division decimated a North Vietnamese battalion of about 600 men in a bitter all-night battle lit by flares from circling American planes.

The Koreans killed 170 Red soldiers and held the jungle battlefield when dawn came, raking in an unusually high total of 78 Communist weapons.

The battle flared west of Pleiku seven miles from the Cambodian border in an area where three North Vietnamese regiments are reported by intelligence.

While the Koreans held the field, American warplanes swept in with rockets and bombs.

The Red battalion hit the Koreans late Tuesday night. For three hours they held out alone before Korean reinforcements arrived and armored vehicles of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division ploughed up in support. Six hours later the Communists retreated into the jungle.

In both North and South Viet Nam, U.S. planes made hundreds of strikes, including a B52 raid on a suspected troop hideout 40 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese coastal town of Qui Nhon.

For the first time in two days, the U.S. command announced no aircraft losses in the Communist North.

Wheeling Steel Joins Others In Price Hike

A spokesman for the company said the increases included 15-cent boost per 100 pounds on hot and cold rolled sheets and cold rolled strip steel, and lesser increases for tinplate and secondary grades of strip steel.

More Than 80 Combat Missions

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force considered him its No. 1 pilot of the Viet Nam war.

Maj. James H. Kasler, 40, flew more than 80 combat missions over North Viet Nam, excelling at picking out camouflaged targets. Four times enemy bullets riddled his F105 Thunderchief jet but he always made it back.

The pilot's luck ran out Monday when he was shot down deep in the Red River Valley 70 miles northwest of Hanoi. Other fliers saw him parachute from his disabled plane and talked to him by radio after he landed but rescue helicopters were unable to snatch him from enemy soil.

He was presumed captured although the official U.S. announcement listed him as missing.

Kasler's Thunderchief was one of three shot down Monday. His wingman went down a few minutes earlier.

A veteran of 22 years of flying, Kasler was an 18-year-old tailgunner at the close of World War II and flew 100 combat missions in Korea, knocking down six Communist MIGs.

He was the second Korean ace shot down in North Viet Nam. The other Lt. Col. Robinson Risner, an eight-MIG ace, went down in an F105 a year ago and was captured by the North Vietnamese.

MAJ. JAMES H. KASLER
Shot Down In Viet Nam.

Kasler's loss cast a pall over the war rooms, where his fellow pilots had marveled at his feats. They called him "The Destroyer" for his skill at precision bombing and the official Air Force spokesman said he was "the hottest pilot we had."

"It was a black day," the spokesman told newsmen in the same briefing room where he jubilantly introduced Kasler six weeks ago as coleader of the first raid on Hanoi's oil installations.

Kasler, who had released eight 750-pound bombs on the storage tanks, commented: "It was really a beautiful mission. It went precisely as planned."

As a bonus on his way back to his base in Thailand, the hawk-eyed flier spotted 25 trucks on a mountain road and his flight of Thunderchiefs shot up 12.

The father of three teen-agers who lived with his wife Martha in Indianapolis, Ind., Kasler volunteered five times before the Air Force gave him his transfer from Germany to Viet Nam.

In Zanesville, Ind., his mother, Mrs. Rex Kasler, said: "He was very determined about anything he set his mind to doing. Everything he did he tried to do his best."

She said her husband, a retired insurance company employe, dreamed on Sunday night that they had been notified their son was shot down in North Viet Nam.

"It was a premonition and we felt terrible all day Monday," she said. "Rex was just sick all day."

Then came the actual message from the Air Force.

Violence Flares Short Time After Rights Bill Passage

By The Associated Press

Racial violence erupted in Detroit and Grenada, Miss., Tuesday night only a short time after the House passed a civil rights bill giving new legal weapons to Negroes wanting better housing opportunities.

A white man was hospitalized in Detroit after he was beaten by a group of Negroes who attacked him when he attempted to retrieve a hub cap knocked off his car by a rock-throwing mob.

A force of 150 police, including 17 cars with riot-trained officers, quickly moved into the integrated East Side Detroit neighborhood and brought the violence under control in 90 minutes. Three Negroes who were involved in a brawl with police, setting off the trouble, were charged with inciting to riot, said Police Commissioner Ray Girardin.

In Grenada, several Negroes were injured, none seriously, when a crowd of whites threw rocks, bottles and firecrackers into a group of Negroes staging a civil rights demonstration in the town square.

Police kept the two groups apart, standing with rifles at the ready to block the whites from the street where the Negroes were gathered. But the presence of the officers did not stop the barrage of missiles or shouts of "White power!"

The battle over civil rights for Negroes, including the right to live in any neighborhood, moves to the Senate today. A last-ditch effort by Republican leaders to strike the controversial housing proposal failed and the 1966 civil rights bill was passed by the House Tuesday night 259 to 157.

Winona Phones Hit

Lightning Hurts 2 In Salem Storm

SALEM — A 9-year-old boy and a 16-year-old youth escaped death Tuesday afternoon when struck by lighting in a severe storm that raged through the Salem district. Lightning also was believed the cause of a $75,000 blaze that caused severe damage to the interior of the Winona Exchange of the General Telephone Co.

Michael M. Rugala, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rugala of Benton Rd., was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with burns of both feet and the abdomen that were suffered when lightning struck as he was playing on a swing at his home.

Mark Riffle, 16, of N. Ellsworth Ave., escaped with burns of the left side when lightning struck a car on which he was working.

High wind and hail accompanied the driving storm. The amount of rainfall was not measured because the storm knocked out the official gauge at the Salem sewage plant.

Most of the damage appar-

City Escapes Heavy Damage From Storm

Although seven-tenths of an inch of rain fell on East Liverpool during the brief but heavy storm late Tuesday afternoon, neither the fire department nor municipal officials received any reports of damage.

Water rushed in wide streams down hillside streets, cutting ruts on unimproved thoroughfares and washing away slag and ashes in some instances. Storm sewers were reported blocked in some areas by debris picked up by the heavy runoff

Court Eyes Jail Sentence For Income Tax Charges

In an announcement from the bench this morning, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff declared he is considering imposing jail sentences, rather than fines, as a stronger deterrent to persons who fail to comply with the city income tax law.

The judge made the announcement after disposing of seven more affidavits in which local residents were accused of violating the ordinance, either by failure to file a final return on 1965 income or furnish an estimate of 1966 earnings.

Three defendants who promised to make settlements with Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson were granted continuances.

They were identified as Edward D. Pack of 2207 Harvey Ave. and Earl R. Golden of 1217 Riverview St., both due to return to court next Wednesday, and Richard G. Joy of 305½ W. 9th St., whose hearing will be held on Aug. 23. Each was charged with failure to file either a 1965 final return or a 1966 estimate.

The court also ordered bench warrants for two defendants who failed to appear for scheduled hearings. They were identified as Fred Rayl of 246 W. 4th St., charged with failure to file a final return for 1965, and Kenneth Yost of 257 Pennsylvania Ave., accused of failure to file an estimate on 1966 income. When Rayl is taken into custody, a $100 bond will be required for his appearance, the

Supporters Optimistic On Passage

Sen. Dirksen Says He's Opposed To Housing Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fight over a federal open housing law shifted to the Senate today after House passage of the 1966 civil rights bill with the controversial provision intact.

The bill, which would arm the federal government with broad new powers to protect Negroes' rights, was passed 259 to 157 Tuesday night but it was a fight to the finish for the housing provision.

Republican leaders made a last ditch effort to kill the proposed ban on racial discrimination by anyone in the housing business, but failed by a vote of 222 to 190.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has called the provision totally unacceptable to him. There are grave doubts it can pass the Senate without his support.

Despite this, the bill's House backers and civil rights groups expressed cautious optimism that it would win final approval and become law.

"If it is killed, it will be by the Republicans," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and the bill's chief sponsor. "I don't see how, in an election year, the Republicans can afford to let that happen. In any case the monkey is now on the Senate's back."

The House-passed bill would put the government into new areas in the civil rights struggle. Besides seeking to improve housing opportunities for Negroes it would classify as federal crimes a new series of offenses involving racial violence.

On one side, the federal government could move against anyone who used force or violence against a Negro or civil rights worker lawfully engaged in any activity sanctioned by federal law.

On the other hand, it also would be a federal crime for anyone to go from one state into another for the purpose of leading, encouraging or taking part in a riot.

That amendment was put to a separate roll call vote Tuesday and won approval by a thundering 389-25 margin.

Crash Injury Claims Life Of Area Woman

A Pennsylvania woman died about 7 a. m. today at City Hospital from injuries received July 31 in a head-on collision at Taylor's Bend on Route 30 east of Chester.

She was Miss Mary Meska, 52, of Allison, a passenger in an auto driven by Mary Gara, 50, also of Allison. The car was struck by another driven by Mitchell Zarnich, 19, of Aliquippa, which crossed over the center line, according to the report of the Hancock County sheriff's department.

Five other persons were injured in the accident and received treatment at the hospital.

Miss Meska was born Aug. 13, 1913, the daughter of the late Joseph and Catherine Meska. A brother, Joseph Meska, resides in Parma, Ohio.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

The judge also ordered collection of court costs from another defendant, George Clark of 1527 Wyoming Ave. Wilkinson advised the court Clark had paid the tax, but has not settled the costs. Clark was not present.

Mrs. Charles W. Hughes of 930 St. Clair Ave. appeared in place of her husband, who was charged with failure to file either the 1965 or the 1966 returns. She told the court she was prepared to settle with the tax office. The judge instructed her to deal with Wilkinson.

The charges heard today were among a series of about 20 filed July 20 by Wilkinson.

In the course of the hearing, the judge commented: "I think I am through fining people who do not pay this tax; I think I will start putting them in jail. After all, every good citizen pays the tax when it is due."

Nationalism Increase Held Threat To Peace

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The World Jewish Congress warned Tuesday that extreme nationalism is increasing in Germany and threatens world peace.

In a resolution adopted at the closing session of its fifth plenary meeting, the congress expressed "deep concern at the re-emergence in Germany of extreme nationalism in the political field led by former Nazis whose program and propaganda are fraught with the danger of stimulating an upsurge of neonazism." In another resolution, the congress urged a negotiated end to the war in Viet Nam, and a peaceful settlement of other conflicts.

5, 4 In One Family, Killed In 2-Car Crash

REMSEN, N.Y. (AP) — Five persons, four of them members of one family, were killed and two others were injured critically Tuesday in a two-car crash near this central New York community.

Dead are:

Doyle Derr, 26; his wife, Katherine, 29; their daughter, Rhonda, 6, and son, Paul 3, of Berwick, Pa., in one car and Mrs. Fiorina Nucci, 52, of Syracuse in the other.

Southern Local Met, Not Stanton's Board

An item which appeared on Page 2 of The Review Tuesday concerning a meeting of the Southern Local Board of Education inadvertently carried a headline referring to the Stanton Local district.

The account was correct, but the headline should have referred to the Southern Local District.

Auto Driver Killed As Car, Taxi Collide

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A car and a taxicab collided on Ohio River Boulevard on Pittsburgh's North Side Tuesday night, fatally injuring the auto driver.

Thomas McCurdy, 61, of nearby Avalon died in St. John's General Hospital about four hours after the crash.

Reading The Riot Act

In the manner to which Congress is accustomed, it is in a mood now to legislate in haste and repent at leisure on a souped-up federal version of the "riot act."

Unless cooler heads prevail, it may bull through a law making it possible for capricious public officials to block interstate travel of individuals and stop ordinary personal communication on grounds an individual and his views might cause trouble.

Without being aware of what is involved, the House of Representatives Monday shouted approval of an amendment to the civil rights bill that would demolish the basic principle of Anglo-Saxon riot acts.

Britain and the United States always have clung to the principle that a group of at least three must be involved before the riot act can be invoked. "Reading the riot act," now a common expression in English-speaking countries, refer to the necessity of forewarning the members of such a group of the consequences of their apparent intention to engage in riotous behavior.

The House amendment whooped through on Monday with no debate and apparently no realization of the way it could be misused would narrow down the definition of riot to the unwelcome presence of merely one person. It would be up to the police to determine his intentions.

Moreover, this would be an attempt to supersede with federal legislation all state and local laws dealing with conspiracy to cause riots.

The whole thing comes close to burning down a barn to get a horse out. Before Congress does anything hasty about riot acts, it should do its homework, to make sure it knows what such laws are supposed to do and how they have evolved, beginning two and a-half centuries ago in England.

How Much Consultation?

Interstate Commerce Commission has been asked by the U.S. Department of Justice for more hearings on the Pennsy-New York Central merger, now scheduled to go through early in October.

Justice Department lawyers say the B & O, C & O and Norfolk & Western may have objections to the merger. This seems highly probable. But when does the time finally come for the ICC to quit being concerned more about possible objections than about the purpose it would fulfill by letting New York Central proceed with their merger plans?

It goes without saying that this momentous merger will have a tremendous impact on railroading east of the Mississippi.

It cannot be denied or even doubted that the merger will change the nature of competition between the merged lines and other systems competing for the same traffic.

But it also goes without saying that if there had been no ICC authority over railroads the merger would have been consummated years ago and the new system long since would have been operating with the efficiency so long contemplated by the management of the two rail systems.

Surely there is a time to quit consulting about the possible effects of something that hasn't been done yet and do something about talking the subject to death before it's too late.

Who Wants To Live There?

Sociologists are becoming concerned about the effect of city living on the human mind. Violence in recent weeks — and recent summers —raises the question of whether large parts of cities aren't becoming unlivable.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., chairman of a Senate subcommittee about to look into city problems, told the Senate Aug. 1: "Despite $2.3 billion in federal hospital construction since 1947, there is still no hospital in Watts. Today four million urban families live in substandard housing. Today 14,000 infants suffer death, injury, and infection each year due to rat bites."

City troubles run far beyond ghettos, urban decay, bad schools, deficient hospitals and crowding. New York's recent troubles include a power blackout in November, some or all newspapers struck three times in the past four years, taxi and subway strikes, dirtiest air in America and chronic water shortage made worse by pollution of the rivers.

Half the junkies in America live in New York. Greenwich Village and certain other places swarm with homosexuals. Streets and parks are unsafe at night.

And New York is only an elargement of other cities. Crowding of Negroes — often recently migrated from the rural South — into white schools and white housing over the past decade of whites to the suburbs. The result is a substantial loss to cities of tax revenues while municipal welfare burden mounts.

President Johnson has proposed a "demonstration cities" program. It would create opportunities to put to work both old and new techniques to improve housing of the urban poor.

That program is now on the move in Congress, but it is subject to heavy pressures from all sorts of vested interests, including the U.S. Conference of Mayors. President Johnson will be lucky to get anything like the five-year $2.3 billion scheme originally envisaged.

Actually even $2.5 billion would be only a starter toward rebuilding the cities and improving educational opportunities and living conditions.

Worming Through Maine

It is doubtful if Americans who never have gone fishing in Maine are throbbing in synchronized sympathy for the organized worm-diggers of that state asking higher rates per 100 worms.

Only a thwarted fisherman who has neglected to lay by enough bait and is thrown on his own resources can understand what a Maine worm-digger is up against. His may not be a highly skilled occupation as far as actually digging worms is concerned. But it demands that its practitioners know where to dig.

A worm digger in Maine is paid for knowledge. And as any fisherman who ever has been frustrated in that rock-bound state when looking for worms can attest, a man who knows where to find an assured supply could be likened to the owner of a diamond mine in South Africa, a gambling hall in Nevada, a toll bridge, or the beer concession in a ball park.

He would be sitting on a fortune, in other words, and $1.90 a hundred for digging sand worms and $2.50 for blood worms seems cheap at the price—for anyone who ever ran out of fishworms in Maine.

Up late this a.m. waiting for sunlight to warm the chilly air before letting some waft under tail and past neither parts.

Wonder if American hairless understand problems of underslung, short-haired canine when dew lies on too-high grass for too-low dog. Notice American hairless always wear pants when outside the house.

Admit admiration for head of household who resists impulse to throw me out when he makes begrudging exit to earn daily biscuits. He thinks I am asleep because my eyelids are closed, but there's nothing wrong with my ears and I have heard him say a hundred times, "You unprintable mut of mutts, lying there in a soft chair with your short paws for station identification. I should turn you over to the authorities and let you know how the other half of the mutt world lives."

I am not interested in the other half of the mutt world, or the fractional existence of any world. This is one of the secrets of canine happiness and contentment. We dogs have the good life.

We are existentialists. We think of existence as something of the immediate moment. We see a rabbit flirting his cotton tail at us and we chase it. We see something edible and eat it. We hear something exciting and we bark.

Our purpose in life is to react according to our instincts. When nothing is going on, we plop down and sleep. We never worry. It's that simple.

After making morning rounds, I looked pathetic and got king-size biscuit for breakfast. These big biscuits are a plus. They buy them for the Ferocious Monster, who swallows them whole, but I get one very time she gets two. They would be surprised if they knew where I hid the ones I cannot eat. I am a very small dog.

That lady who sometimes sleeps in the guest room was surprised when she found one under her pillow that one night. She thought it was a pork-chop bone, but she was wrong. I hid the pork-chop bone under the cushion of the green chair.

This was a quiet day—only one truck to get excited about, no riding horses, and let's face it—when you've seen one red tractor out here in this fence corner of Rosy Fingered Dawn you've seen 'em all. Yah.

I rested a lot today—first on the bed with the red bedspread, then on the bed with the white bedspread, then on the couch downstairs and finally under the trumpet vine outside, where The Monster usually sleeps.

She was hunting groundhogs. I think she has a glandular disturbance. Unless she is killing something she feels nervous.

On the other hand, unless she is killing something I feel nervous, because I am about the size of a groundhog, myself.

I rely on the axiom among us dogs that only humans kill their own kind for sport. "People eat people," as we always say, but we never worry about it. While people are bashing up other people they aren't hurting us dogs.

Spots Before His Eyes!

Air Empire Is Hoffa's Dream

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Hoffa has a whim of iron. But it's rusting a bit.

For the fourth time since last February — when transfusions poured 16 pints of blood into sters' leader slipped quietly him — the pile-driving Team- into a hospital here. His bleeding ulcers pained him.

Victor Riesel

The pain has not dulled his thrust. Disdainful of the $6.2 million his union has paid to lawyers in the last 14 years, scarcely noticing the $1 million he personally has rolled up in legal fees, Hoffa now is telling his intimates that the Teamsters will have at least two million members by 1970.

Having conquered transport, he now is fascinated by transportation. His first new goal is the flying global network known as Pan American Airways.

To move in on Pan American's world, Hoffa must first move another union out. For a year he's been preparing to do this. Last August he began his assault.

HIS ORGANIZERS, always well paid, always tailored for their job, began working on Pan Am's white collar staff in cities ranging from San Juan to Seattle, from Miami to Los Angeles, from Cape Kennedy to Kennedy Airport.

These are the centers of the airline's 7,000 white collar workers — clerks, counter gents, reservations people, secretaries, computer handlers and data processing personnel. Their union now is the sedate Brotherhood of Railway Clerks (BRC), once led by George Meany's intimate friend, the seriously ailing George Harrison.

Thus a Teamster victory would be as sweet to Hoffa as it would be bitter to AFL-CIO president Meany, since Harrison has been the head of the federation's resolutions committee for many a year—including 1957 when the Teamsters were ousted.

Furthermore, Hoffa has been quietly, and with what merriment his pain will allow, observing the hysteria over the airline strike.

He's not certain how it will affect his own final push on Pan American, which is at its climax now.

Ballots went to the 7,000 white collar workers on the morning of Aug. 8 for a month-long referendum which will decide whether the Pan Am people want Hoffa and the Teamsters.

THOUGH THE BROTHERHOOD of Railway Clerks now is the certified union on the airline, space base and Patrick Air Force complex, the union is boycotting the secret mail vote. So the question being voted on simply asks if the 7,000 employes want to have the Teamsters or anybody else represent them.

The BRC's strategy lies in the fact that a majority of all employes must cast ballots or Hoffa loses. Thus there will be some question whether any union at all will be recognized.

The final date for balloting is Sept. 7. Should he win, Hoffa will have some 19,000 airline employes in his vast fold—12,000 now are already under contract ranging from Flying Tiger personnel to the Western Airlines.

Those 19,000 will be all the base the restless one needs. It would be the beginning of a network of unions covering not only transport on wheels, but on the rails and in the air.

HE ALWAYS HAS DREAMED — if he dreams —of a huge labor Conference of Transportation Unity. If he wins on Pan Am, there appears no doubt that he will go after the rebellious employes on the other airlines.

Somewhere in that dream is the scene at a bargaining table with transport and transportation executives signing contracts with common expiration dates — such as now cover 400,000 over-the-road truck drivers.

Should this happen, Jimmy Hoffa really could start building a movement—if his ulcers let him.

Hold That Line!

It's Tough Johnson Discovers

WASHINGTON

President Johnson is sorely puzzled.

He would like to find something better than he has now for trying to keep prices and wages in line, although what he has now has had holes kicked in it.

Meanwhile, having nothing better, he's holding on to what he has.

And what he has, and has had for years, is a so-called and now out-of-date guideline: A voluntary rule that wages should not go up more than 4.2 per cent — representing the annual increase in productivity. Under this formula, industry is expected to maintain relatively stable prices.

TRYING TO hold on to it means he hasn't had new ideas on it since the steel companies last week ignored his pleas and raised prices and the airline machinists rejected as not enough the wage agreement he approved. The strikers continued their walkout, now over a month old.

Johnson proudly told newsmen at his conference how the United States is better off than any other big country in fighting inflation, saying: "We have the best stabilization record of any industrial nation in the world."

But when a reporter reminded him that because of inflation per capita buying power in 1958 prices is actually down from $2,287 to $2,277, Johnson said he didn't know about those figures, although he cited a raft of other figures to show how other nations had more inflation.

He admitted his 3.2 per cent guideline had been exceeded in some cases. And he admitted no effort will be made in all cases to keep annual wage increases to 3.2 per cent.

This can be interpreted as meaning wage and price increases will be all over the lot, that the 3.2 per cent guideline doesn't and won't mean much if anything, and that a new one will have to be found.

"We have nothing better to suggest at the moment," Johnson said.

IT DOESN'T need a prophet to foresee that unions and businessmen are not going to sit still to accept the guideline when they see their neighbors being allowed to do better.

For instance, take the airlines dispute where Johnson approved the wage agreement which the airlines and the machinists' negotiators agreed to although the rank-and-file machinists turned it down.

This would have given the machinists an increase figured at 6 to 7 per cent with fringe benefits, which with Johnson's consent broke the very 3.2 per cent guideline he wanted others to accept.

And other businesses, after seeing the steel industry kick over the traces and even ignore the administration's plea to consult with it before boosting its prices last week, will hardly hold back from raising prices.

Johnson practically admitted a realization of this without saying so when he told the newsmen:

Every effort is being made to "find formulas and procedures that would be fair to the worker and management. We are constantly looking for something better."

"Let's reason together." This has been President Johnson's philosophy. And it worked, for a while, but he will have to change it a bit now.

Johnson has had some golden days in the White House, with business and labor, although irked about it, going along with him quite a while in his efforts to keep down prices and wages.

And for a long time he had Congress eating out of his hand. How much this was due to Johnson's political genius and how much to the reaction after President John F. Kennedy's assassination will never be known.

But after the shock of Kennedy's death there did seem in this country a broad desire for tranquility and eagerness to help Kennedy's successor get the country rolling again without turmoil.

AT ANY RATE, for a couple of years Johnson looked pretty much like the master of all he surveyed. Then the change set in.

It showed most clearly in the criticism he got for the war in Viet Nam and for his sudden decision to send American troops into the Dominican Republic to prevent what he feared would be a Communist takeover.

He was criticized for both actions, in and out of Congress, but particularly in Congress where some members, like Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., still keep up the drumbeat.

And bit by bit labor and business began kicking up their heels, with labor angry because it felt Johnson didn't press hard enough to get what it wanted from Congress and business sore because of the restraints on higher prices.

Call it flexibility — or just politics — but Johnson, who can be tough, began to show he isn't always tough and that at times he could even look timid.

But this is a congressional election year and it might be more plausibly argued that Johnson doesn't want to give labor, which supported him so fully in 1964, any fresh reason for not voting for Democrats in November.

Johnson, with inflation steadily increasing as living costs go up, can't let prices and wages run wild. He'll have to assert some control and leadership. His problem now is to figure out what kind.

The pain has not dulled his thrust. Disdainful of the $6.2 million his union has paid to lawyers in the last 14 years, scarcely noticing the $1 million he personally has rolled up in legal fees, Hoffa now is telling his intimates that the Teamsters will have at least two million members by 1970.

Having conquered transport, he now is fascinated by transportation. His first new goal is the flying global network known as Pan American Airways.

To move in on Pan American's world, Hoffa must first move another union out. For a year he's been preparing to do this. Last August he began his assault.

HIS ORGANIZERS, always well paid, always tailored for their job, began working on Pan Am's white collar staff in cities ranging from San Juan to Seattle, from Miami to Los Angeles, from Cape Kennedy to Kennedy Airport.

These are the centers of the airline's 7,000 white collar workers — clerks, counter gents, reservations people, secretaries, computer handlers and data processing personnel. Their union now is the sedate Brotherhood of Railway Clerks (BRC), once led by George Meany's intimate friend, the seriously ailing George Harrison.

Thus a Teamster victory would be as sweet to Hoffa as it would be bitter to AFL-CIO president Meany, since Harrison has been the head of the federation's resolutions committee for many a year—including 1957 when the Teamsters were ousted.

Furthermore, Hoffa has been quietly, and with what merriment his pain will allow, observing the hysteria over the airline strike.

He's not certain how it will affect his own final push on Pan American, which is at its climax now.

Ballots went to the 7,000 white collar workers on the morning of Aug. 8 for a month-long referendum which will decide whether the Pan Am people want Hoffa and the Teamsters.

THOUGH THE BROTHERHOOD of Railway Clerks now is the certified union on the airline, space base and Patrick Air Force complex, the union is boycotting the secret mail vote. So the question being voted on simply asks if the 7,000 employes want to have the Teamsters or anybody else represent them.

The BRC's strategy lies in the fact that a majority of all employes must cast ballots or Hoffa loses. Thus there will be some question whether any union at all will be recognized.

The final date for balloting is Sept. 7. Should he win, Hoffa will have some 19,000 airline employes in his vast fold—12,000 now are already under contract ranging from Flying Tiger personnel to the Western Airlines.

Those 19,000 will be all the base the restless one needs. It would be the beginning of a network of unions covering not only transport on wheels, but on the rails and in the air.

HE ALWAYS HAS DREAMED — if he dreams —of a huge labor Conference of Transportation Unity. If he wins on Pan Am, there appears no doubt that he will go after the rebellious employes on the other airlines.

Somewhere in that dream is the scene at a bargaining table with transport and transportation executives signing contracts with common expiration dates — such as now cover 400,000 over-the-road truck drivers.

Should this happen, Jimmy Hoffa really could start building a movement—if his ulcers let him.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Dwight Morehead was elected president of Class 10 of the Wellsville Methodist Protestant Sunday School.

Descendants of John and Mary Kean held their 22nd annual reunion at the Lisbon fairgrounds. Mrs. R. B. Stevenson of East Liverpool was elected secretary-treasurer.

Everett Rich of Salem was named chairman of the Columbiana County Council of the American Legion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Eleanor Mountford of St. Clair Ave., who was to leave in September to resume teaching in Shanghai, was honored at a reception by the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church.

Some 6,000 glad blooms, roses and flowers were in display during the 12th annual show of the Tri-State Gladiolus Society.

TEN YEARS AGO — A Hancock County Republican women's group, called the Greater Weirton and Hancock County Republican Women's Club, was formed, with Mrs. Peter Davis president.

Mrs. Betty Hooper was received as a new member of the Town and Country Club at the home of Mrs. Virginia Stanley of Idaho.

Hold That Line!

It's Tough Johnson Discovers

WASHINGTON

President Johnson is sorely puzzled.

He would like to find something better than he has now for trying to keep prices and wages in line, although what he has now has had holes kicked in it.

Meanwhile, having nothing better, he's holding on to what he has.

And what he has, and has had for years, is a so-called and now out-of-date guideline: A voluntary rule that wages should not go up more than 4.2 per cent — representing the annual increase in productivity. Under this formula, industry is expected to maintain relatively stable prices.

TRYING TO hold on to it means he hasn't had new ideas on it since the steel companies last week ignored his pleas and raised prices and the airline machinists rejected as not enough the wage agreement he approved. The strikers continued their walkout, now over a month old.

Johnson proudly told newsmen at his conference how the United States is better off than any other big country in fighting inflation, saying: "We have the best stabilization record of any industrial nation in the world."

But when a reporter reminded him that because of inflation per capita buying power in 1958 prices is actually down from $2,287 to $2,277, Johnson said he didn't know about those figures, although he cited a raft of other figures to show how other nations had more inflation.

He admitted his 3.2 per cent guideline had been exceeded in some cases. And he admitted no effort will be made in all cases to keep annual wage increases to 3.2 per cent.

This can be interpreted as meaning wage and price increases will be all over the lot, that the 3.2 per cent guideline doesn't and won't mean much if anything, and that a new one will have to be found.

"We have nothing better to suggest at the moment," Johnson said.

IT DOESN'T need a prophet to foresee that unions and businessmen are not going to sit still to accept the guideline when they see their neighbors being allowed to do better.

For instance, take the airlines dispute where Johnson approved the wage agreement which the airlines and the machinists' negotiators agreed to although the rank-and-file machinists turned it down.

This would have given the machinists an increase figured at 6 to 7 per cent with fringe benefits, which with Johnson's consent broke the very 3.2 per cent guideline he wanted others to accept.

And other businesses, after seeing the steel industry kick over the traces and even ignore the administration's plea to consult with it before boosting its prices last week, will hardly hold back from raising prices.

Johnson practically admitted a realization of this without saying so when he told the newsmen:

Every effort is being made to "find formulas and procedures that would be fair to the worker and management. We are constantly looking for something better."

"Let's reason together." This has been President Johnson's philosophy. And it worked, for a while, but he will have to change it a bit now.

Johnson has had some golden days in the White House, with business and labor, although irked about it, going along with him quite a while in his efforts to keep down prices and wages.

And for a long time he had Congress eating out of his hand. How much this was due to Johnson's political genius and how much to the reaction after President John F. Kennedy's assassination will never be known.

But after the shock of Kennedy's death there did seem in this country a broad desire for tranquility and eagerness to help Kennedy's successor get the country rolling again without turmoil.

AT ANY RATE, for a couple of years Johnson looked pretty much like the master of all he surveyed. Then the change set in.

It showed most clearly in the criticism he got for the war in Viet Nam and for his sudden decision to send American troops into the Dominican Republic to prevent what he feared would be a Communist takeover.

He was criticized for both actions, in and out of Congress, but particularly in Congress where some members, like Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., still keep up the drumbeat.

And bit by bit labor and business began kicking up their heels, with labor angry because it felt Johnson didn't press hard enough to get what it wanted from Congress and business sore because of the restraints on higher prices.

Call it flexibility — or just politics — but Johnson, who can be tough, began to show he isn't always tough and that at times he could even look timid.

But this is a congressional election year and it might be more plausibly argued that Johnson doesn't want to give labor, which supported him so fully in 1964, any fresh reason for not voting for Democrats in November.

Johnson, with inflation steadily increasing as living costs go up, can't let prices and wages run wild. He'll have to assert some control and leadership. His problem now is to figure out what kind.

Lisbon Board To Cooperate In County Youth Corps Plan

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education decided Tuesday to cooperate with the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., in a county-wide Neighborhood Youth Corps program.

A proposal prepared by Catherine Franzetta of East Liverpool, CAC director, explains the objectives as:

"To give boys and girls, ages 16-21, work experience to make them employable and keep them from dropping out of school for economic reasons and to provide school dropouts in the 16-21 age range with work experience to make them employable."

The program will be for students now at a disadvantage in one or more of the following ways: Low income families, cultural deprivation, social and emotional adjustment problems, poor scholastic work, poor work attitudes and physical or mental handicaps.

Miss Franzetta said the CAC office will provide a director and an accountant for the program, with each school district participating to provide a part-time supervisor. She said these administrators will be paid from NYC funds and that there will be no expense to boards of education other than to supply any working materials required.

The CAC's suggested work list includes library, cafeteria, nursing, teacher aides, office help, custodians, supply clerks and street and park work for county, municipal and township governments.

Reams' Assails Rhodes' Failure To Inspect Hough

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. didn't inspect Cleveland's Hough area during July's racial outbursts, but he claims Gov. James A. Rhodes should have.

Reams, Democratic nominee for governor, fired his latest salvo at the Rhodes administration in Kenton Tuesday night as his party's campaign caravan prepared to move into Bellefontaine and other 7th Congressional District communities today.

Reams, a Toledoan, said he, too, didn't go to Hough. But, he explained, "that is not in my district." However, he said he did confer with Cleveland officials about the city's racial problems.

Echoing Reams' charges was James D. Nolan of Cleveland, Democratic candidate for secretary of state.

"During the Hough riots not one of the six elected state officials were within a hundred miles of Cleveland," Noland said.

Chamber Group Airs Teachers' Reception

The public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce met today at noon in the Chamber office to begin plans for the annual reception for new teachers on Sept. 6, the first day of the new school term in East Liverpool.

The committee has sponsored the event each year to welcome new members of the faculty and acquaint them with some of East Liverpool's history, industrial and retail activities and civic and cultural affairs. C. V. Hughes heads the committee.

Railroad Cited In $100,000 Suit

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Norfolk & Western Railroad was named in a $100,000 damage suit Tuesday by a woman who claims the railroad was negligent when her daughter was killed at a crossing.

Mrs. George L. Hammonds said in a petition that poor repair at the crossing contributed to the accident that took her daughter's life Aug. 20, 1965.

Her daughter, Stella Hammonds, 21, was killed when the pickup truck she was driving stalled on the crossing and was struck by a freight train.

Mrs. Hammonds claimed the truck became stalled after hitting one or more holes, and became stuck in a hole between the railroad tracks and the pavement.

The suit was filed in Lake County Common Pleas Court.

Deputies Investigate Man's Shooting Death

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP)—Carrol County sheriff's deputies are investigating the shooting death of Donald Summerfield, 58, of nearby Dellroy.

Coroner T. K. Atchinson, said Summerfield was killed Tuesday by a bullet in the head. A ruling of homicide was returned, and deputies said one person, not identified, was being questioned.

People In News

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Silent film star Corinne Griffith has been robbed at gunpoint by two men of jewelry reported by a newspaper to be worth $100,000. Police said the amount had not been determined.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The Rev. William H. Dubay, a militant Roman Catholic clergyman suspended from his duties, says he will continue his fight for reinstatement.

At a news conference Tuesday, Father Dubay said his suspension has been affirmed by the chief administrative body of the Church.

Father Dubay asked the Pope in 1964 to remove Cardinal McIntyre, alleging the Cardinal had taken a weak stand on civil rights.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Ben Blue has been ordered to stand trial Nov. 15 in Los Angeles federal court on six counts of evading federal income taxes totaling $39,334.96.

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — Unrecognized by other visitors, Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the late President, inspected the battleship Massachusetts Tuesday with six of her cousins and a friend.

To prolong the blooming season of most annuals, pinch off old blossoms as soon as they fade.

Pitt Receives Grant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has granted Pitt $300,000 for space research over the next three years, it was announced Tuesday.

8 a.m.-noon, 1-5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Milan Vranes of 1261 Ohio Ave. were honored Sunday at an open house observance marking their silver wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Vranes were married Aug. 3, 1941, in the St. Elijah Serbian Orthodox Church at Aliquippa by the Rev. S. Maletich.

Since that time they have resided in Midland and are the parents of two children, a son, Rudy, of New Brighton, and a daughter, Mrs. Ronald Skinner of Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Vranes is the former Miss Grace Francis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Francis of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Rudy Vranes were co-hostesses for the buffet luncheon served 50 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Decorations were in silver and white with rings and bells. Pink gladioli and candles in silver holders centered the honored guests' table.

A special guest was the couple's first grandchild, Lisa Ann Vranes, age five months.

Mrs. Vranes received a mother's ring containing family birthstones as a gift from her husband. The couple received many silver gifts and others.

Recorded music was played throughout the luncheon.

Out-of-town guests were present from Alexandria and Arlington, Va., Ellwood City, Rochester, Beaver Falls, Beaver and New Brighton.

An anniversary dinner for the immediate family was held in the Willows Motel at Industry at 1 p. m. Sunday.

Children's games were played.

Reading Club Given Reminder On Contest

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian at the Carnegie Library, today reminded members of the reading club that the "Trails Westward" contest will end in about three weeks.

The Davy Crockett team is ahead with a score of 4,487, followed by the Daniel Boones with 4,445.

Ten books read will bring a certificate and each child who completes 30 books may attend the party in September, regardless of which team wins, Mrs. McEwen pointed out.

The contest will end Sept. 10.

Dear Friends,

Benefits may be lost to the family for lack of knowledge. If the deceased was covered by Social Security, his beneficiary is eligible for a benefit—likewise the family of a war veteran with active service. Some trade unions and fraternal organizations provide survivor benefits. Your funeral director can assist you to learn of and apply for various benefits to which the survivors may be entitled.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

8 a.m.-noon, 1-5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Milan Vranes of 1261 Ohio Ave. were honored Sunday at an open house observance marking their silver wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Vranes were married Aug. 3, 1941, in the St. Elijah Serbian Orthodox Church at Aliquippa by the Rev. S. Maletich.

Since that time they have resided in Midland and are the parents of two children, a son, Rudy, of New Brighton, and a daughter, Mrs. Ronald Skinner of Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Vranes is the former Miss Grace Francis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Francis of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Rudy Vranes were co-hostesses for the buffet luncheon served 50 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Decorations were in silver and white with rings and bells. Pink gladioli and candles in silver holders centered the honored guests' table.

A special guest was the couple's first grandchild, Lisa Ann Vranes, age five months.

Mrs. Vranes received a mother's ring containing family birthstones as a gift from her husband. The couple received many silver gifts and others.

Out-of-town guests were present from Alexandria and Arlington, Va., Ellwood City, Rochester, Beaver Falls, Beaver and New Brighton.

An anniversary dinner for the immediate family was held in the Willows Motel at Industry at 1 p.m. Sunday.

More than 150 attended the Liberatore reunion at Coopers Rocks, Morgantown, Sunday.

Attending from the area were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Liberatore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Liberatore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Liberatore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Andreassi and family, Vic Liberatore, Sam Liberatore, Mr. and Mrs. George Kukich and family, Mrs. Alfonso Antonelli, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adkins and family, and Mrs. Edmund Liberatore, all of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Yanni of East Liverpool.

Children's games were played.

Reading Club Given Reminder On Contest

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian at the Carnegie Library, today reminded members of the reading club that the "Trails Westward" contest will end in about three weeks.

The Davy Crockett team is ahead with a score of 4,487, followed by the Daniel Boones with 4,445.

Ten books read will bring a certificate and each child who completes 30 books may attend the party in September, regardless of which team wins, Mrs. McEwen pointed out.

The contest will end Sept. 10.

Dear Friends,

Benefits may be lost to the family for lack of knowledge. If the deceased was covered by Social Security, his beneficiary is eligible for a benefit—likewise the family of a war veteran with active service. Some trade unions and fraternal organizations provide survivor benefits. Your funeral director can assist you to learn of and apply for various benefits to which the survivors may be entitled.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Discharged were Mrs. Ronald Mills and daughter and Mrs. James Smith and daughter, all of Lisbon, the Rev. Montelane May of Salineville and Bliss Blake of Hanoverton.

Man Bound Over On Entry Charge

An East Liverpool man waived a preliminary hearing today in Municipal Court and was bound over to the Grand Jury on a charge of breaking and entering the Koerber Brothers Restaurant on Anderson Blvd. on Aug. 1 "with intent to commit a felony."

Thomas Dennis, 26, who allegedly was arrested inside the establishment by Patrolman David Mumaw, entered a not guilty plea through his court - appointed counsel, Charles Lang. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff set bond at $1,000.

Police said he allegedly attempted to rifle a music machine by forcing open the coin compartment.

Police said Dennis claims to have no permanent address. They said he is listed on one record as residing in East Liverpool and on another is listed as a resident of Chester R.D. 1.

Motorist's 'Shortcut' Leads To Fine Of $10

An 18-year-old motorist who admitted driving through a service station's driveway early this morning to avoid stopping for a traffic light was fined $10 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Kendall R. Gilkinson of Westfield was cited at 2:22 a. m. on Dresden Ave. by Patrolman Ronald J. Brookes.

The officer told the court Gilkinson drove from Smith St. onto Dresden Ave. When he approached the light at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way, the motorist turned right and took a "shortcut" through a nearby service station to avoid halting for the signal, the officer said.

Fined By Herron

NEW CUMBERLAND — Terry D. Lipham, 21, of Newell was fined a total of $20 and costs by Squire John D. Herron here Tuesday on charges of having expired license plates and an improper driver's license. The motorist was cited by Donald Dunlevy, constable.

Storm

ently was confined to the immediate Salem area.

AT WINONA, north of Guilford Lake, the interior of the telephone exchange was termed a "complete loss" after a fire. Officials said the fire may have been touched off by lightning.

Six hundred customers were without service from 3 p. m. Tuesday until 8 a. m. today. Three lines then were set up to provide service between Winona and Salem, but customers were required to make the calls from the exchange, not their homes.

Two manual switchboards were installed in a garage this morning to replace the ruined dial equipment. The company said local and long distance service was restored this morning and calls also could be made to such places as Salem and Hanoverton. Portable automatic equipment is due to arrive today, but it may not be in service for two weeks.

THE OHIO Edison Co. said damage was "spotty" outside of Salem.

Several transformers were reported hit by lightning at New Waterford and near Lisbon. The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. said 150 of its lines in the northern county area were knocked out by the storm. Crews worked until midnight last night and then resumed repair work this morning.

Heavy hail was reported in some parts of the county, but crop damage was not believed severe.

John Young, an employe of the Salem Fruit Growers Association at Greenford, said: "I could have filled a 55 - gallon drum with hailstones."

Grand Jury Releases Report

Red Youth Leaders Tied To Cleveland Race Riots

CLEVELAND (AP) — A grand jury report says black nationalists and Communist youth leaders worked together to incite last month's rioting in the Hough area Negro slum.

A 17-page report issued Tuesday night by the Cuyahoga County grand jury said the outbreak was "organized, precipated and exploited by a relative small group of trained and disciplined professionals at this business.

"They were aided and abetted by misguided people of all ages and colors, many of whom are avowed believers in violence and extremism, and some of whom also are either members of or officers in the Communist party," the report said.

The rioting, which broke out July 18, was followed by widespread fire bombing, looting and vandalism.

Four Negroes died of gunshot wounds and damage to property was estimated at more than $500,000. Some 2,000 Ohio National Guardsmen were called in and guard units stayed in the area for 12 days.

Lewis G. Robinson, founder of the JFK (Jomo Freedom Kenyatta) House for young people was named by the grand jury as one of the "principal and recurring personalities in the chain of events which preceded" the Hough outbursts.

Jurors reported finding evidence that instructions were given boys at the JFK House "in the use of molotov cocktails (fire bombs) and how and when to throw them to obtain maximum effect."

The report identified Robinson as holding membership in several "black nationalist clubs" and said evidence showed he "pledged reciprocal support to and with the Communist party of Ohio."

Dickson Asks Judicial Post

D. Barry Dickson, 42, an East Palestine attorney, filed today with the County Election Board for election as a County Court judge in the Nov. 8 general election.

Dickson is the third to file for two seats. The earlier entries were Judge Herbert E. Arfman of Salem, who presides in the Eastern Area Court at East Palestine, and Edwin C. Greenamyer of Leetonia, who now is acting judge in the Northwest Area Court at Salem.

Dickson, a native of Unity Township, has practiced law in East Palestine for 12 years. He served with the Corps of Engineers in the Pacific during World War II. He also operates a 230-acre farm in Unity Township.

Dickson was graduated from Springfield Local High School at Petersburg. He received a bachelor's degree at Western Reserve University and a law degree at Youngstown University.

Court Schedules Man's Hearing In Extradition Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Friday morning for Kenneth Adkins of Crawford Ave., who refused to waive extradition to Hancock County on a charge he stole a woman's purse containing jewelry worth $85 and $15 in cash.

Adkins was taken into custody at 11:55 p. m. Monday by East Liverpool police on a warrant issued from Squire Eugene Allison's court in Chester alleging that he stole the purse of Mrs. Rose Foltz. Hancock deputies said the purse allegedly was taken Tuesday while Mrs. Foltz was in a Newell tavern.

The affidavit alleges the purse contained a black onyx ring, an emerald birthstone ring, a diamond engagement ring, a wedding band and a wrist watch, in addition to the cash.

When Adkins declined to waive extradition, Judge Chertoff returned him to custody of local police and set his bond at $2,500. The judge told Adkins to obtain counsel prior to the hearing Friday.

Salineville To Accept Applications On Chief

SALINEVILLE — Village officials today announced they are seeking application for police chief to succeed Ray Keister, who submitted his resignation to Council Monday night. He will leave next Monday.

Applications are to be submitted to Mayor Stanley Fitch.

Wright Bound To Jury In Wellsville Robbery

LISBON — Thomas G. Wright, 21, of Youngstown, charged with a $100 robbery July 21 at the Golden Crown Store in Wellsville, was bound over to the September grand jury Tuesday when he waived a preliminary hearing in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

The same charge against Wright's cousin, Kenneth Junior Wright, 24, of Wellsville R. D. 1, was dismissd on motion of Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis and court - appointed counsel William Bush of Wellsville.

The prosecutor said a lie detector test the defendant took at the London Prison Farm substantiated his statement he was not at the store during the robbery. He had been bound over to the grand jury earlier on a plea of not guilty. He is still in the County Jail awaiting action of his parole officer.

Acting Judge Richard D. Kennedy reduced Thomas Wright's bond from $2,500 to $1,500 at the request of counsel, George Tzagournis of Youngstown, and Bettis. Tzagournis has withdrawn as the younger Wright's attorney because the defendant is indigent.

The court today scheduled hearings Friday for Eugene R. Miner, owner of Miner's Tavern in Kensington, and James May Jr. of Kensington, a bartender.

Miner is accused of obstructing a state liquor agent Saturday, while May is charged with selling a mixed drink to a patron "while standing" in violation of state law.

A hearing is scheduled Thursday for Robert F. Pitts of Salineville R. D., who pleaded not guilty yesterday to a charge he threatened Bernard Buxton in a menacing manner.

Elmer H. Mick, 50, of Wellsville and Charles E. Temple of West Bridgewater, Pa., were fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to three days in the County Jail for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Three motorists were fined: Clarence R. Peterson, 24, Toronto, speeding, $25 and costs; Stephen M. Kenny, 19, Paris, speeding, $10 and costs, and Glen E. Moore, 23, Lisbon, muffler violation, $10 and costs (fine suspended).

District Driver Fined In Mishap

A Georgetown woman was fined $10 and costs by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester following a rear - end auto collision Tuesday night at the intersection of Washington St. and 6th St. in Newell, the Hancock County sheriff's office reports.

She is Dorothy Barnett, 56, of Georgetown R. D. 1, driver of a 1964 station wagon which struck the rear of a 1965 hardtop driven by James Ralph Cullifer, 42, of 925 Plutus Ave., Chester. Both vehicles were headed east.

Cullifer and a passenger, Thomas A. Mackey of 1118 Avondale St., East Liverpool, were treated at East Liverpool City Hospital after complaining of pains in the neck and shoulders.

Deputies charged the woman motorist with failure to have her vehicle under control. She pleaded guilty to the charge before Squire Allison.

Each car received damage estimated at $200. The mishap was timed at 11.

There are more than 400 commissioned optometrists in the services.

Church Film Program To Begin On Thursday

A series of program for screening of the film, "Man's Search for Happiness," will begin Thursday night at 7 at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at Hoppels Corners.

The film will be screened each night at 7, continuing through Aug. 17. Elder Kendall Christensen of Shelley, Ida., and Elmer J. L. Hafers of Jacksonville, Fla., will be in charge.

The church emphasized that the screenings are open to the public and no admission will be charged. The film was shown at the Mormon pavilion during the New York World's Fair.

Greek Liner Seized For Debts On Docking

PIRAEUS, Greece (AP) — The 5,500-ton Greek liner Achilleus was seized for debts when it returned here Tuesday from an Aegean cruise. It had 57 passengers aboard.

A sister ship, the Agamemnon, with 150 passengers aboard, was seized earlier this week but it was allowed to continue its cruise after an agreement with the creditors.

Film Shown To Rotarians

Arnold Kozlowski, manager of the Ohio Brass Co. plant at Newell, screened a film, "The Development Of Suspension Insulators," for the program during the meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

The film described a new - type suspension insulator with an anti-corrosive sleeve designed to extend the life of the product for many years. Testing methods were also shown.

Robert Boyce was program chairman.

Kozlowski was assisted by John Woodruff, projectionist.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury gave the invocation.

Arthur V. Doak, president, announced that a board meeting will be held Thursday noon in the hotel dining room.

Pennsylvania Driver Killed As Car Crashes

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A car ran off fog-shrouded Route 51 in nearby Star Junction early today and struck a culvert, killing the driver.

Get $500 Awards

The above employes of the Globe Brick Co. — William Moon and Edward Brewer, both of Chester — have received $500 suggestion awards under a new program launched by the company.

The awards were presented by Sidney C. Porter, vice president of production, during the firm's employes' family picnic at the Vagabond Lodge on Route 30, near Lisbon. Approximately 800 attended.

Dinner was served at 5.

Sports activities included volleyball, badminton, softball and horseshoes. Games, a candy scramble and a treasure hunt were held for the children.

A round and square dance followed in the evening.

Rain Again Hits St. Rocco Fete; Program Tonight

A parade was held at 7, but the rain started shortly thereafter and the event, sponsored by Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507, was called off until tonight, weather permitting, officials said.

A pop concert by Shane and the Angels will be held tonight from 6 to 7:30.

nagging backache

Now! You can often get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that may cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain you want relief — want it fast! Doan's Pills by their speedy pain-relieving action work promptly to ease torment of nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains.

Also, when mild bladder irritation follows unwise eating or drinking — often setting up a restless, uncomfortable feeling — Doan's Pills work in two ways for comforting relief: 1) their soothing effect on bladder irritation; 2) Doan's mild diuretic action through the kidneys tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief that millions have for over 60 years.

Street Sweeper To Start Regular Rounds Monday

The city's mechanical street sweeper will resume operations on a regular schedule, effective next Monday, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey announced today.

The schedules will be published regularly in order that motorists will be warned to move their autos in advance of a scheduled cleaning, the director pointed out. Signs posted along most streets also advise of the days on which the pavement will be cleaned, he said.

Autos must be removed when a street is cleaned, otherwise the sweeper cannot remove the debris and dirt near the curb, the director pointed out.

The city took delivery of the new sweeper about a month ago. The sweeper will follow the customary schedule at least for the time being, but the routes may be adjusted later to take into account the higher operating speed of the new machine, Vodrey said.

New Iraqi Premier

Club Holds Picnic On Family Night

Family night was observed when 31 members and guests held a picnic dinner at the meeting of the Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club Monday at the home of Carl Wollam of the Fredericktown Rd.

Sue Serafy, one of Columbiana County's representatives to the state 4-H Club Congress at Columbus, reported on the event.

The club voted a donation of $25 to the Colt League to help defray expenses of the recent tournament.

Empire Road Plan Delayed

Relocation of Ohio Route 7 through Empire appears to be delayed indefinitely, according to the Ohio Department of Highways, because of failure of the Empire Council to pass a consent ordinance.

Though plans are complete and bids are to be taken this Sept. 20, Council must pass the necessary legislation authorizing the director of highways to construct the proposed project within the corporation limits.

The project would begin at County Road 47 at the north end of Toronto and connect with the existing four-lane section of route 7 at the north end of Empire.

Council has refused to enact the ordinance because the plan calls for cutting off an existing access to the adjacent service road. The legislators want the approach to remain.

Signed legislation must be in the Highway Department's Columbus office by Aug. 19 to permit bids to be taken Sept. 20 for the $6.5 million relocation. The project length is 2.6 miles.

The Highway Department and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will not consent to the approach remaining because they say it would be too close to the S. R. 152 interchange and would create a hazard, with traffic entering the speed change lanes of the interchange conflicting with vehicles using the access drive. Two other existing access drives to the north of the interchange will remain open.

Delay of the Empire action will have no effect on Route 7 at Toronto, which is scheduled for sale in April 1967. The Empire project will not be a usable section from County Road 47 to S. R. 152 until the Toronto phase is complete.

Contractor To Check On Local Street Work

Representatives of the Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville, awarded the contract for the city's annual low-cost summer street program, are scheduled to come to East Liverpool today to inspect the thoroughfares that will be surfaced or seal - coated.

The St. Clairsville firm was awarded the contract on the basis of bids opened last Friday by Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

The firm has indicated it may begin work on the project next week. The contract specifies completion of the work by Sept. 30, Vodrey pointed out.

Group Attending Missionary Rally

HOOKSTOWN — The Rev. Alexander Wilson, Mrs. Wilson and sons Paul and George and five other young people from the Mill Creek United Presbyterian Church are attending the annual New Wilmington 61st Young People's Missionary Conference at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

Others attending are Jackie Lynn Fox, Linda and Daniel Hartzell, Emily Soisson and Ellen Louise Glenn.

Airman 3C Dwight Hartzell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hartzell, who entered the service in June, has been assigned to the Amarillo Air Force Base in Texas. He received basic training at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Hartzel are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dillie Small of Columbus.

Beaver Boosters Name Historian

Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers was named historian when the Beaver Local Boosters Club met Tuesday night at the high school.

The club will observe its 10th anniversary this fall. Michael Klembara, president, conducted business.

The football programs were discussed. They will contain 24 pages. Football team pictures will be taken Aug. 27.

Don Ross, coach, said practice will begin Aug. 20. Bills totaling $27 were ordered paid.

A discussion was held on the bylaws.

Twenty - two attended. The next meeting will be Aug. 23 at 7:30 p. m.

Farm Science Review Scheduled Sept. 21-23

LISBON — The County Extension Office has tickets for the annual Farm Science Review Wednesday through Friday, Sept. 21-23, at Don Scott Airfield north of Columbus.

County Agent Joe D. Pittman said tickets may be purchased in advance for 50 cents — half what they will cost at the gate. The review will feature 190 exhibits covering a full range of farm supplies and services, Pittman said. He listed:

All major lines of forage harvesting equipment for corn and soybeans; comparisons of harvesting efficiency; plowing, disking, rototilling; comparisons of over 350 crop varieties; tillage results; irrigation and pasture demonstrations; aerial application of fertilizer; livestock research conservation practices, home economics programs and related education exhibits.

THEY DIDN'T QUIT

The history of the world is the sum of stories about people who, for good or for ill, did not quit. Modern science rests on such individuals — the Pasteurs, the Listers, the Bantings, to name a few. Modern pharmacy is the result of their tireless research which has benefitted us all. Next time, bring your prescription to us.

Empire Road Plan Delayed

Relocation of Ohio Route 7 through Empire appears to be delayed indefinitely, according to the Ohio Department of Highways, because of failure of the Empire Council to pass a consent ordinance.

Though plans are complete and bids are to be taken this Sept. 20, Council must pass the necessary legislation authorizing the director of highways to construct the proposed project within the corporation limits.

The project would begin at County Road 47 at the north end of Toronto and connect with the existing four-lane section of route 7 at the north end of Empire.

Council has refused to enact the ordinance because the plan calls for cutting off an existing access to the adjacent service road. The legislators want the approach to remain.

Signed legislation must be in the Highway Department's Columbus office by Aug. 19 to permit bids to be taken Sept. 20 for the $6.5 million relocation. The project length is 2.6 miles.

The Highway Department and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will not consent to the approach remaining because they say it would be too close to the S. R. 152 interchange and would create a hazard, with traffic entering the speed change lanes of the interchange conflicting with vehicles using the access drive. Two other existing access drives to the north of the interchange will remain open.

Delay of the Empire action will have no effect on Route 7 at Toronto, which is scheduled for sale in April 1967. The Empire project will not be a usable section from County Road 47 to S. R. 152 until the Toronto phase is complete.

Contractor To Check On Local Street Work

Representatives of the Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville, awarded the contract for the city's annual low-cost summer street program, are scheduled to come to East Liverpool today to inspect the thoroughfares that will be surfaced or seal - coated.

The St. Clairsville firm was awarded the contract on the basis of bids opened last Friday by Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

The firm has indicated it may begin work on the project next week. The contract specifies completion of the work by Sept. 30, Vodrey pointed out.

Tech, KSU Center

Schools At Salem Will Become One

SALEM — With the consolidation of the Salem School of Technology into the Salem Academic Center of Kent State University, officials today planned to move both units into the former E. W. Bliss Co. office here on Thursday.

The Salem Board of Education formally approved the merger of the seven - year-old tech school into the Academic Center at a special meeting Monday when the board expressed its desire that Kent continue the name "Salem School of Technology" for its technical training.

The merger marks two firsts in higher education in Ohio. It will mark the first time that technical training has been offered by a state center. Salem also will be the first center to offer an associate degree in technical training.

Under the terms of the resolution approved by the Salem school board, the transfer became effective Monday.

All instructional equipment owned by the tech school or held jointly by the tech school and the Ohio Department of Education or owned by the federal government and office equipment purchased by the tech school through its funds are to be transferred.

Equipment owned solely by the Salem board and not unique for technical training, such as chairs, teachers' desks and tables, will remain the property of the Salem board and will be used in high school vocational training.

The transfer also includes $26,000 worth of equipment on order. The Salem board will be reimbursed for the cost by the State Department of Vocational Education.

Faculty members of the tech school under contract for the new term will be employed by KSU in the same capacity and at the same salaries. Faculty status and rank will be determined by the university.

The costs of moving the tech school to the Bliss office and the costs of remodeling will be borne by Kent State.

The resolution also provides, "In the event that Kent State should, in the future, abandon the teaching of technical education in Salem, all equipment involved in the transfer will revert to the Salem Board of Education."

Be sure that water heater supplies at least 150-deree water to your dishwasher at all times.

Two Resignations Accepted

Various Actions Handled By Lisbon School Board

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education accepted two resignations Tuesday night and hired two kindergarten teachers for half days at Lincoln School.

Resignations were submitted by Miss Merle Moore of Webster Springs, W. Va., high school librarian last year, and Raymond Reese of Lisbon, school bus driver.

Mrs. Carolyn Hammitt of E. Chestnut St. and Mrs. Carol Lewis of Pritchard Ave. were employed for kindergarten. Both are certified and have teaching experience.

THE BOARD ratified its informal action of July 30 to make Joe W. Driscoll of Columbiana R. D. 2, superintendent on a two - year contract at $11,500 and $12,000, respectively.

Driscoll said the faculty has five vacancies — high school English, librarian, band and two teachers for special education.

The board authorized the new superintendent to hire Mrs. Isobel Edgerton of Morris St. as librarian, providing she can obtain a temporary certificate.

Supplemental contracts were approved for the following coaching assignments:

Track — Ceremuga, Morgan.

Golf — Ashton.

George M. Nace Jr., high school principal, was given a supplemental contract as faculty manager of athletics, a duty he has handled for many years.

—:—

THE BOARD appointed Charles and Alice Yoos of Fairfield Rd. as Lisbon representatives on the advisory committee of the Salem Academic Center of Kent State University. Mr. and Mrs. Yoos are graduates of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, and he is a claims adjuster for the Ohio Casualty Insurance Co. Their daughter, Sandra, is a senior at Ohio State University. Charles Jr. is a cadet second class (junior) at the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs.

Richard D. Kennedy will be the board's delegate to the Ohio School Boards Association convention Nov. 10-11 at Columbus. Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president of the Lisbon board as well as the North East Ohio School Boards Association, will attend as a state association trustee.

Dr. Bacon offered to serve as the board's representative on a standing committee on general education, a subdivision of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission.

Nationwide Insurance Co.'s quotation of $644.80 for school bus insurance for 1966-67 was accepted. The firm has had the policy several years. There were no other bids.

Industrial Mining & Engineering Co., the coal supplier last year, was the lone bidder for 1966-67. It will supply Lincoln School at $6 per ton and the high school at $7, the difference being due to extra handling.

The board voted to issue a high school diploma to Charles Arnfield, who completed requirements for graduation by attending summer school at Beaver Local.

DRISCOLL was authorized to purchase the necessary tools, books, supplies and safety equipment for the new welding addition; have seven sewing machines repaired at $10 per unit, and investigate requests for additional equipment in the Home Economics Department and the business machine class.

Board members approved a $750 change order in the welding shop under construction at the high school.

Driscoll said he talked with Edwin Bucher, American history instructor and former football coach, about the combined post of athletic director - faculty manager of athletics - attendance officer - teacher which the board offered last month. He said Bucher told him he will assist in the athletic program any way he can, but does not feel able to accept the offered assignments without more time off from the classroom.

The board tabled a letter from Psychologist Cronell P. Monda asking that his contract be increased from nine to 10 months.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 6—the first day of school.

Saturday Picnic Set By Masonic Groups

Riddle Masonic Lodge 315 and East Liverpool Masonic Lodge 681 will hold a coverdish picnic Saturday at Valley Park on Route 7 at the Elkton Rd.

Supper will be served at 6:15. Coffee, pop, milk, ice cream and cake will be furnished. Members are to bring sandwiches, silverware and a coverdish.

Diversions will include, baseball, volleyball and horsepitching. Following supper, games for the children and adults will be featured, with prizes to be awarded.

Ground-Breaking Rites Set During Dairy Day Event

LISBON—Columbiana County farmers attending Dairy Day Friday at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center near Wooster will see ground broken for a new building.

Gov. James A. Rhodes and Roy M. Kottman, center director, will be featured in the ground-breaking ceremony in the afternoon.

The Dairy Day program by experiment station personnel will cover the following subjects: The alfalfa weevil and the dairyman; Ohio's new uniform milk inspection program; high quality roughage for dairy cattle; urea corn silage for dairy cattle; dairy waste management, and profitable dairy farming.

"Open house" will give everyone a chance to see the center's research programs. Admission is free.

Joe D. Pittman, Columbiana County extension agent for agriculture, said two more field days are scheduled at the center: the Ohio Pesticide Institute, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 17-18, and Lawn and Ornamentals, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 13-14.

Tech, KSU Center

Schools At Salem Will Become One

SALEM — With the consolidation of the Salem School of Technology into the Salem Academic Center of Kent State University, officials today planned to move both units into the former E. W. Bliss Co. office here on Thursday.

The Salem Board of Education formally approved the merger of the seven - year-old tech school into the Academic Center at a special meeting Monday when the board expressed its desire that Kent continue the name "Salem School of Technology" for its technical training.

The merger marks two firsts in higher education in Ohio. It will mark the first time that technical training has been offered by a state center. Salem also will be the first center to offer an associate degree in technical training.

Under the terms of the resolution approved by the Salem school board, the transfer became effective Monday.

All instructional equipment owned by the tech school or held jointly by the tech school and the Ohio Department of Education or owned by the federal government and office equipment purchased by the tech school through its funds are to be transferred.

Equipment owned solely by the Salem board and not unique for technical training, such as chairs, teachers' desks and tables, will remain the property of the Salem board and will be used in high school vocational training.

The transfer also includes $26,000 worth of equipment on order. The Salem board will be reimbursed for the cost by the State Department of Vocational Education.

Faculty members of the tech school under contract for the new term will be employed by KSU in the same capacity and at the same salaries. Faculty status and rank will be determined by the university.

The costs of moving the tech school to the Bliss office and the costs of remodeling will be borne by Kent State.

The resolution also provides, "In the event that Kent State should, in the future, abandon the teaching of technical education in Salem, all equipment involved in the transfer will revert to the Salem Board of Education."

Be sure that water heater supplies at least 150-deree water to your dishwasher at all times.

Ohio's City Congressmen 'Solid' On Rights Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's big city congressmen voted almost solidly for the civil rights bill passed by the House Tuesday while most of the Ohioans from rural districts went against it.

On the motion to eliminate the bill's open housing provision, the Ohio split was even more pronounced between metropolitan representatives and those from more rural districts.

The city men, mostly Democrats, helped in defeat of the motion.

The Ohio tally had 7 Democrats and 4 Republicans voting to keep the housing section, 3 Democrats and 10 Republicans voting to eliminate it.

On the civil rights measure with open housing section intact, Democrats went 9-1 for the bill, Republicans 6-8 against.

Rep. Secrest, whose area is predominantly rural, was the only Democrat against the bill, in company with Republican Ashbrook, Betts, Bolton, Clancy, Devine, Harsha, Latta and Minshall.

Clancy of Cincinnati and Devine of Columbus have metropolitan constituents, Mrs. Bolton and Minshall represent suburban areas around Cleveland, the others have mostly rural districts.

The 15 Ohioans voting for the bill included Ashley (Toledo), Feighan (Cleveland), Gilligan (Cincinnati), Kirwan (Youngstown), Love (Dayton), Sweeney (Cleveland) and Vanik (Cleveland) joined by fellow Democrats Hays and Moeller from districts of less concentrated population.

Republicans Ayres (Akron), Bow (Canton) and Mosher (Lorain County) of metropolitan districts were joined by Reps. Brown, McCulloch and Stanton in going along with the measure.

In the earlier vote on the open housing plank, small-towners Hays and Moeller joined Secrest as the Democrats voting for elimination. The only Republicans who wanted the provision retained were Ayres, Brown, McCulloch and Mosher.

Award Recommended For Ohio Patrolman

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Highway Patrolman Robert Martino, 32, has been recommended to receive the organization's "Superintendent's Award" for heroism in saving the life of John Houk, 20, July 30.

Martino pulled Houk from his car which flamed after it was wrecked and high tension wires ignited gasoline from its ruptured fuel tank.

Ohio Truck Driver Dies In Illinois Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — Truck driver Lloyd J. Worley, 30, of Eaton, Ohio, was crushed under the wheels of his tractor-trailer Tuesday after it crashed on the Kennedy Expressway near O'Hare International Airport.

The rig hit a guardrail and jackknifed, throwing Worley out while another trucker with him escaped unhurt.

Sen. King's Condition Reported As 'Good'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Latest report from Riverside Hospital on State Sen. Frank W. King, president of the Ohio AFL-CIO who has been a patient a week, is that his condition is good.

The hospital said the Senate Democratic leader was being treated for a recurrent thyroid problem and "getting a rest."

Two More Family Reunions Are Held In Lisbon District

LISBON — Descendants of the late Andrew and Mary Richardson, early residents of the Rogers area, met Sunday at the new country home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi of the East Liverpool Rd. for the 40th annual family reunion.

Forty-one were present for the picnic dinner, followed by baseball and horseshoe pitching.

Mr. and Mrs. Baronzzi were re-elected for the 1967 reunion to be held next August at their home.

Bowker Family Reunion Held

Sixty-five relatives attended the annual Bowker family reunion Sunday at the Harry Bowker farm on the Damascus - Salem Rd. Guests were from Florida, Arizona, Painesville, Cleveland, Warren, Austintown, Sebring, Columbiana, Washingtonville and Lisbon.

Mrs. Gerald Carman of E. Pine St., Lisbon, president, presided during the business session and was re-elected for the 1967 reunion, along with Walter Moore of Warren, vice president, and Mrs. Martha Bowker of Salem, secretary - treasurer.

Present from Lisbon were Mrs. Tom Burnip, Mrs. Forest McClintock, Mark Manning and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carman and sons.

Lisbon Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Calvin of W. Washington St. left Tuesday for Scottsdale, Ariz., where they plan to make their home.

Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Calvin, are school teachers in Scottsdale. Trudi Calvin, a 1966 graduate of David Anderson High School here, has been spending the summer at Scottsdale and has enrolled as a freshman at the University of Arizona.

J. B. Wainwright of N. Market St. has as his guests his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stahler of Pompano Beach, Fla. Sunday, they attended the annual Bowker family reunion at the Harry Bowker farm near Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barton and children Drinda and Denni of Buena Park, Calif., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brice Barton of Prospect St.; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Williams and family of Sunset Dr., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barton and family of Thomas Rd.

Fair Tent Blown Down In Storm; 75 Escape Injury

The biggest tent at the Westerville Fair near Columbus blew down, 75 workers scrambling to safety without injury, during a third consecutive day of heavy thunderstorms, with high winds and hail, across Ohio Tuesday.

Most of the severe weather reports were in central Ohio, but one sudden storm hit the Salem area in the northeast, felling trees and knocking out about 150 telephones.

Golf-ball-size hail was seen in some spots, including St. Louisville in Licking County, where windows were broken, trees broken, trees stripped and gardens flattened.

In early afternoon, the Cincinnati suburb of Terrace Park had thundershowers and heavy hail, with trees and wires downed.

China Purge Extended Into Economic Field

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist party extended its purge to the economic field today, denouncing party economist Sun Yeh-fang as a bourgeois revisionist who tried to "turn Socialist enterprises into capitalist ones."

Sun, former director of the Academy of Science's institute of economics, is the first prominent economist to be named in the purge. Previously the prime targets have been military and cultural leaders.

Net farm income last year totaled $14.1 billion, an increase of $1.2 billion over 1964.

New Jersey Gun Law Attacked By Magazine

RAHWAY, N.J. (AP) — The Rahway Dome, a monthly magazine, has editorially attacked New Jersey's new gun-control law, claiming it is a threat to individual rights.

The editorial also contends "because most criminals do not [illegible] legally anyway." It said a wife, or any relative or friend of a criminal can purchase a weapon for him and thus defeat the purpose of the law.

The magazine claimed it speaks with authority. It is published and written by the inmates of Rahway State Prison.

Pittsburgh Youth Held In Draft Law Violation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The FBI arrested David G. DeLaney, 22, of Pittsburgh's Brookline section Tuesday and charged him with violation of the Selective Service Act.

DeLaney, accused of failing to report for induction June 3, was released by a U.S. Commissioner pending a hearing.

Cleveland Boy Missing And Believed Drowned

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 9-year-old boy was missing and presumed drowned Tuesday night after being swept off a breakwall at Edgewater Beach Park by a wave.

The boy, James E. Tempie, had been fishing off the breakwall on Lake Erie with a friend.

Quake-Torn Tashkent

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Crews Work Through Night To Erect Homes

On nearby streets, the people who used to live in the houses sit in tents and watch the demolition crews.

Cigarettes glow in the darkness, radio music is drowned out by the trucks, and the No. 1 topic of conversation is last April's powerful tremor that left 300,000 persons homeless.

Five miles away, other men and equipment work through the night to complete a massive housing project called Chilinzar. Before the winter rains come in November, Chilinzar's apartments must house thousands now living in tents, Soviet officials say.

Day and night, these scenes are repeated as this largest city of Soviet Central Asia tries to recover from the shock of April 26.

It was a powerful one, reaching a force of 6.25 on the 10-point Richter scale. In the four months since the first quake, there have been more than 600 additional tremors, including five big jolts, yet Soviet officials claim only 15 persons have been killed and about 500 injured.

The explanation offered is that the earthquake moved up and down, not sideways, and it struck hardest at old one-story buildings of unbaked mud and bricks that easily crumbled.

After the first quake, Communist officials closed the city to foreign correspondents and by the time it was reopened this month the most heavily damaged houses had been knocked down and carted away.

Earthquake damage caused authorities to condemn more than two million square yards of downtown housing.

"As a result," says Sofia Sokolova, assistant editor of the newspaper Pravda Vostoka (Truth of the East), "68,000 families became homeless."

At an average of more than four persons per family, this means that about 300,000 persons — one fourth of Tashkent's 1.2 million population — lost their homes. More than half of these have had their homes torn down and have been assigned other housing.

Mrs. Sokolova said 36,000 persons have moved into new apartments.

About 19,000 Tashkent residents were given plots of land to build their own houses. Some are prefabricated wood units costing about $1,000, payable in installments over 10 years.

Soviet officials say 31,000 persons are living in public buildings, such as college dormitories or office buildings. Another 35,000 have moved in with Tashkent families. About 16,000 moved to other cities. Another 40,000 moved back into damaged homes that were temporarily repaired.

"In other words," Mrs. Sokolova says, "there are about 177,000 persons whose status this winter has been settled. The remaining 120,000 or so are deciding what to do."

Tashkent residents lived in terror during the first days after the big quake but now say they're used to it and even joke about it. The men tell bawdy stories about husbands coming home to the wrong tents.

"Ironically, the earthquake has resulted in our making faster progress with our original plan for new housing," says Vladimir Alishev, assistant director of the official Uzbek Telegraph Agency. "But it is a high price to pay and we would never say thanks to this kind of calamity."

Major Provisions Of Rights Bill Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the major provisions of the 1966 civil rights bill passed by the House Tuesday and sent to the Senate:

Title I — Would provide a uniform juror selection system for the federal courts, assuring that juries will be drawn from a broad cross-section of the community. Present qualifications for jury service would be retained.

Title II — Would authorize the federal government to initiate court action to eliminate racial discrimination in state court juries. It would also bar state laws that exempt women from jury service.

Title III — Would give the attorney general broad authority to seek a civil injunction against anyone who deprives another person of any federally-protected rights because of his race.

Title IV — Would prohibit racial discrimination in housing transactions by anyone in the housing business. It would not cover individual homeowners unless they engaged in three or more real estate transactions in 12 months, and it would not cover owners who occupy small apartments and boarding houses with four family units or less. About 40 per cent of the nation's housing units, mainly in large apartments and new developments, would be affected by the ban on discrimination.

Title V — Would make it a federal crime to use force or threats against a Negro or civil rights worker who is lawfully engaged in a federally-protected activity. It also would make it a crime for anyone to cross a state line to lead or take part in a riot.

Killed In Collision

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP)—An auto driven by Frederick R. Emmert, 61, of nearby Middleport, Ohio, failed to make a curve on W. Va. 62 near here Tuesday night, collided with another car and he was killed.

Rain Cuts Crowd At Calcutta Event

Several hundred attended the opening night of the Calcutta volunteer fire department's festival Monday.

Rain and wet grounds cut the attendance. The parking situation was handled well by the East Liverpool Civil Defense group and police team, a spokesman reported.

Two new concession were featured for the opening night. Pony rides were under the direction of Don Dunn., assistant fire chief and the African water dip under the supervision of Gary Zimmerman.

1 Killed, 1 Injured As Car Hits Guard Rail

PITTSFIELD, Pa. (AP) — A car veered off Route 6 and struck a guard rail near this Warren County community Tuesday, killing one teen-ager and injuring another.

Killed was Blaine T. Smith, 14, of Pittsfield, R.D. 1, a passenger in a car operated by Gary R. Dexter, 16, also of Pittsfield, R.D. 1. Both boys were thrown out.

Man Bound To Jury On Forgery Charge

NEW CUMBERLAND — Larry Osbourne, 22, of New Cumberland R.D. 2 was bound over to the September term of the Hancock County grand jury on a charge of forgery by Squire John D. Herron here Tuesday.

He has been committed to the Hancock County jail in default of payment of the $1,000 bond set.

Osbourne was arrested by Donald Dunlevy, constable.

Ky Willing To Negotiate End To War

LOS ANGELES (AP) — South Viet Nam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky says he is willing to negotiate an end to the war with the Hanoi regime "under favorable conditions," the Los Angeles Times reported today.

"We would go to the conference table to tell them we draw the line at the 17th Parallel," Ky was quoted as telling Times correspondent William Tuohy during a flight Tuesday to Tam Ky, where Ky was briefed on the current Operation Colorado.

Tuohy quoted the premier as saying:

"We would be willing to talk if they would be willing to compromise.

"We're not sitting down to give them a couple of provinces south of the 17th Parallel. They would have to withdraw their agents and soldiers from South Viet Nam.

"I'm not refusing to talk. The question is whether Ho Chi Minh will talk. Personally, I don't think Hanoi will accept negotiations now.

"They have nothing to lose by continuing their aggression."

"If we can prove to them we stand firm, that we are stronger every day, every month, then on the day they see no hope for victory, they may wish to talk, to negotiate," the report concluded.

New Jersey Gun Law Attacked By Magazine

RAHWAY, N.J. (AP) — The Dome, a monthly magazine, has editorially attacked New Jersey's new gun-control law, claiming it is a threat to individual rights.

The editorial also contends the law could not be effective "because most criminals do not buy guns legally anyway." It said a wife, or any relative or friend of a criminal can purchase a weapon for him and thus defeat the purpose of the law.

The magazine claimed it speaks with authority. It is published and written by the inmates of Rahway State Prison.

Pittsburgh Youth Held In Draft Law Violation

DeLaney, accused of failing to report for induction June 3, was released by a U.S. Commissioner pending a hearing.

Cleveland Boy Missing And Believed Drowned

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 9-year-old boy was missing and presumed drowned Tuesday night after being swept off a breakwall at Edgewater Beach Park by a wave.

The boy, James E. Temple, had been fishing off the breakwall on Lake Erie with a friend.

Quake-Torn Tashkent

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Crews Work Through Night To Erect Homes

On nearby streets, the people who used to live in the houses sit in tents and watch the demolition crews.

Cigarettes glow in the darkness, radio music is drowned out by the trucks, and the No. 1 topic of conversation is last April's powerful tremor that left 300,000 persons homeless.

Five miles away, other men and equipment work through the night to complete a massive housing project called Chilinzar. Before the winter rains come in November, Chilinzar's apartments must house thousands now living in tents, Soviet officials say.

Day and night, these scenes are repeated as this largest city of Soviet Central Asia tries to recover from the shock of April 26.

It was a powerful one, reaching a force of 6.25 on the 10-point Richter scale. In the four months since the first quake, there have been more than 600 additional tremors, including five big jolts, yet Soviet officials claim only 15 persons have been killed and about 500 injured.

The explanation offered is that the earthquake moved up and down, not sideways, and it struck hardest at old one-story buildings of unbaked mud and bricks that easily crumbled.

After the first quake, Communist officials closed the city to foreign correspondents and by the time it was reopened this month the most heavily damaged houses had been knocked down and carted away.

Earthquake damage caused authorities to condemn more than two million square yards of downtown housing.

"As a result," says Sofia Sokolova, assistant editor of the newspaper Pravda Vostoka (Truth of the East), "68,000 families became homeless."

At an average of more than four persons per family, this means that about 300,000 persons — one fourth of Tashkent's 1.2 million population — lost their homes. More than half of these have had their homes torn down and have been assigned other housing.

Mrs. Sokolova said 36,000 persons have moved into new apartments.

About 19,000 Tashkent residents were given plots of land to build their own houses. Some are prefabricated wood units costing about $1,000, payable in installments over 10 years.

Soviet officials say 31,000 persons are living in public buildings, such as college dormitories or office buildings. Another 35,000 have moved in with Tashkent families. About 16,000 moved to other cities. Another 40,000 moved back into damaged homes that were temporarily repaired.

Tashkent residents lived in terror during the first days after the big quake but now say they're used to it and even joke about it. The men tell bawdy stories about husbands coming home to the wrong tents.

"Ironically, the earthquake has resulted in our making faster progress with our original plan for new housing," says Vladimir Alishev, assistant director of the official Uzbek Telegraph Agency. "But it is a high price to pay and we would never say thanks to this kind of calamity."

EEO Seeks To Wipe Out Want Ad Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has begun a new campaign: to wipe out discrimination in the help wanted columns.

Acting Chairman Luther Holcomb said main targets are such phrases as "men — neat appearance," "white attendant," "Catholic salesperson," or "Anglo carhops."

The commission's charges are being filed under Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act which bans discrimination in employment and forbids advertising for jobs on a discriminatory basis.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois says he is considering the House-approved civil rights bill in his campaign to authorize voluntary prayers in public schools.

Dirksen, sponsor of a proposed constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers, said an attempt may be made to insert a declaration in the bill that would put the Senate on record in favor of the prayers.

He also said he may try to reopen committee hearings on the amendment to permit evangelist Billy Graham to testify in its support. Many clergymen who testified during the hearings opposed the proposed amendment.

Sargent Shriver, head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, says he may accept an invitation to serve as grand marshal of a parade to celebrate the first annual Watts summer festival in Los Angeles.

House Banking Committee conference agrees on legislation that would pump $3.6 billion into the housing mortgage money market.

Driver Unhurt As Cars Hit On Lisbon Street

LISBON — Mrs. Jeanette L. Richardson, 54, of 206 Lee Ave., escaped injury at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in a two - car collision which demolished her 1965 sedan.

Police said she was driving east on Spruce St., halted for the N. Jefferson St. stop sign, then pulled forward and was struck by a northbound sedan driven by Robert F. Mix Jr., 18, of 111 S. Green St.

The street was wet from rain, police said, and the impact sent the Richardson car off the blacktop into a utility pole. There was damage to the hood, windshield and left front fender of the Mix vehicle—a 1961 sedan.

Charged with failure to yield the right of way, Mrs. Richardson forfeited a $15 appearance bond.

Also forfeiting bonds yesterday in mayor's court were Frank A. Milliron, 22, of Shippingport, improper passing, $15, and George E. McClellan, 56, of Taylor, Mich., traffic light violation, $15.

Michael Prasco, 21, of S. Lincoln Ave. pleaded guilty to a reckless operation charge and was fined $10 and costs by Acting Mayor Clyde Pike.

Lynda Bird Job-Hunting While Sister Honeymoons

Actor George Hamilton, Lynda's frequent escort, took her Tuesday night to see the musical "Sweet Charity." Earlier in the day she spoke with Robert Stein, editor of McCall's magazine.

She is to return today to Washington, where President Johnson confirmed at his news conference Tuesday that his elder daughter was being interviewed "preparatory to deciding what work she will do this year."

That seemed to mean that Lynda, 22, has given up plans for graduate study at the University of Texas, where she received a bachelor's degree with honors last spring.

Sir Ralph Grey, governor of the Bahamas, issued a statement welcoming the couple and asking islanders to respect their privacy.

Newsmen Tuesday sent 20 roses and a card requesting interviews and pictures to the honeymoon villa. The bouquet and card were returned with word: the answer was 'no.'

Lynda's interview with McCall's apparently was supposed to be secret also.

"I'm embarrassed," said Stein when he learned that word of the talk was out. "There really isn't anything at this point to talk about."

Lynda wrote an article for McCall's last fall on an archeological expedition she made in the Southwest. Another article by her on the same subject appeared in the National Geographic.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 8 More Lives

By The Associated Press

Two persons died in a head-on crash early Wednesday, contributing to a relatively heavy traffic death toll in Ohio the past 24 hours.

The victims:

Gary Prevot, 18, Piney Fork, Jefferson County.

Dante L. Barthel, 18, Louisville, Stark County.

Mrs. Rosa McConnahea, 55, Marysville.

Mrs. Jose Marmulego, 26, Coldwater.

Mrs. Roberta Haydock, suburban Cincinnati.

John E. Bower, 37; Akron.

Miss Anderson, driving along a rural road north of Newark early Wednesday, struck a bridge and careened into the path of an oncoming car driven by Forst Lee Winegardner, 31, Newark, who was hospitalized in fair condition.

Pervot was driving on a Jefferson County road near Piney Fork Tuesday night when he failed to make a slight curve. His car hit a tree and rolled down into a ravine, where it caught fire.

Barthel's auto overturned on a road Tuesday night near Massillon. He was thrown out and the vehicle rolled onto him.

Mrs. McConnahea was in an auto that hit the rear of another that was stopped or slowing on U.S. 33 at the U.S. 42 intersection Tuesday at New California in Union County.

Mrs. Marmulego was killed and her husband and four children were injured Tuesday in the three vehicle collission during a heavy rain in Mercer County.

It also was raining hard when Mrs. Haydock's car skidded into a station wagon in the Cincinnati area Tuesday.

Bowen died in Akron City Hospital of injuries suffered Monday night when his motorcycle apparently went out of control and flipped over on Eastwood Avenue in Akron.

Council Plans Memorial At Georgetown

GEORGETOWN — Georgetown Borough Council Tuesday night discussed several plans for a new memorial in honor of war veterans. The present memorial is located at the square.

Councilman Harry Smidt proposed alternative plans for the memorial, but council delayed a final decision. Among matters to be decided are the location and type.

There are now 96 completely windowless schools in operation attended by more than 150,000 students in 23 states.

ROGERS — Open church will be observed at the wedding of Miss Susan Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jenkins, and William W. Hill, son of Mrs. Georgia Marie Hill and the late William G. Hill, at the Methodist Church Saturday at 7 p.m.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 8 More Lives

By The Associated Press

Two persons died in a head-on crash early Wednesday, contributing to a relatively heavy traffic death toll in Ohio the past 24 hours.

The victims:

Gary Prevot, 18, Piney Fork, Jefferson County.

Dante L. Barthel, 18, Louisville, Stark County.

Mrs. Rosa McConnahea, 55, Marysville.

Mrs. Jose Marmulego, 26, Coldwater.

Mrs. Roberta Haydock, suburban Cincinnati.

John E. Bower, 37; Akron.

Miss Anderson, driving along a rural road north of Newark early Wednesday, struck a bridge and careened into the path of an oncoming car driven by Forst Lee Winegardner, 31, Newark, who was hospitalized in fair condition.

Prevot was driving on a Jefferson County road near Piney Fork Tuesday night when he failed to make a slight curve. His car hit a tree and rolled down into a ravine, where it caught fire.

Barthel's auto overturned on a road Tuesday night near Massillon. He was thrown out and the vehicle rolled onto him.

Mrs. McConnahea was in an auto that hit the rear of another that was stopped or slowing on U.S. 33 at the U.S. 42 intersection Tuesday at New California in Union County.

Mrs. Marmulego was killed and her husband and four children were injured Tuesday in the three vehicle collission during a heavy rain in Mercer County.

It also was raining hard when Mrs. Haydock's car skidded into a station wagon in the Cincinnati area Tuesday.

Bowen died in Akron City Hospital of injuries suffered Monday night when his motorcycle apparently went out of control and flipped over on Eastwood Avenue in Akron.

Council Plans Memorial At Georgetown

GEORGETOWN — Georgetown Borough Council Tuesday night discussed several plans for a new memorial in honor of war veterans. The present memorial is located at the square.

Councilman Harry Smidt proposed alternative plans for the memorial, but council delayed a final decision. Among matters to be decided are the location and type.

There are now 96 completely windowless schools in operation attended by more than 150,000 students in 23 states.

As LBJ Running Mate In 1968

Humphrey Rejects Talk Kennedy May 'Move In'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey smilingly dismissed speculation today that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy might replace him as President Johnson's 1968 running mate.

Asked about the speculation as he lounged on a sofa in his office behind the Senate chamber, Humphrey said in an interview:

"This is what I call the hazard course every vice president has to run. It is part of the basic training one has to go through. No man in public life is as much exposed to guerrilla war as a vice president—the opportunity to be shot at from all sides.

"If you survive, it is a modern-day miracle. But I plan on surviving."

What about reports of a change in his liberal philosophy since becoming vice president?

"I have not changed my basic philosophy. I have changed jobs. There are new responsibilities. I am no longer U.S. senator from Minnesota."

What about reports that some of the party's liberals are veering away from him and following the leadership of Kennedy, a New York Democrat?

"There is lots of room under the canopy for new recruits. I welcome new recruits. I am pleased to see that liberalism in 1966 is a little more popular than it was in 1956 or even in 1960."

In emphasizing that his role as a senator was much different from that of vice president, Humphrey said that as a senator he was at liberty to pick and choose on any issue and make known any differences with the administration.

"I am now the vice president," he said, "a member of the team of the administration. Whatever I do reflects on the President. The President makes the policies. My contribution is in the councils of the administration.

"I do not publicly debate with Cabinet officers or the President, but I do speak my mind in the councils of the administration."

Talk that he was switching from his liberal views, Humphrey said, stemmed from "a handful of people" who disagree with his position on the war in Viet Nam. Humphrey has strongly backed Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

"That is their privilege," he said. "But Hubert Humphrey always believes that this nation has a responsibility in the world, not only to Europe.

"It is a world power and has worldwide responsibilities and you do not prove yourself to be a liberal by ignoring the hard facts of aggression in Asia."

New Bid Set In Launch Of 'Flying Lab'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The space agency planned to try again today to launch a flying photography laboratory into orbit around the moon to take clear pictures of the hidden side and nine potential astronaut landing sites.

The spacecraft, called Lunar Orbiter, was scheduled to vault into space under the thrust of an Atlas-Agena rocket in a favorable period between 4:11 and 7:02 p.m. (EDT).

The 850-pound Lunar Orbiter was to zip across its quarter-million-mile course in 90 hours, reaching the vicinity of the moon Sunday morning.

Special Services Set In Honor Of Minister

The Rev. R. L. Harris of the New Jerusalem Baptist Church of Wellsville is observing his first anniversary as pastor this week with special services, featuring guest ministers and choirs.

The Rev. E. E. Parker of Irondale will speak at 7:30 tonight, the Rev. E. H. Harris of the Second Baptist Church of East Liverpool Thursday and the Rev. W. L. Robinson of the Mt. Sinai Fire Baptized Holiness Church of Wellsville on Friday. The Rev. C. C. Goss of the Zion Hill Baptist Church of Youngstown spoke Tuesday night.

'Samaritan' Penalized In Dispute With Police

An East Liverpool man told Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff he was attempting to play a Good Samaritan's role when he was taken into custody late Tuesday night on charges of intoxication and resisting a police officer.

Larry F. Fitch of 7th Ave., LaCroft, said he found a man lying on Broadway and suspected the man might have been injured. He said he was arrested when he remonstrated with police against moving the man until he had been given first aid.

Fitch was fined $10 and costs on each count. The "injured" man, Alfonso R. Abolas of 521 E. 6th St., also pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge. He was fined $10 and costs. Both were arrested at 11:20 p. m., police said.

Negro Doctors Support Demonstrations, Protests

CHICAGO (AP) — Negroes who carved out successful careers as medical leaders voiced support today of demonstrations and protests designed to create equal opportunities for Negroes.

The new president, the outgoing president and a past president of the National Medical Association said that direct action and confrontation must take place before changes occur. A Negro psychiatrist echoed their views.

The association, a 71-year-old predominantly Negro medical organization, is holding its annual convention in Chicago.

"The demonstrations must continue," Dr. John L. S. Holloman, New York City, new NMA president, said in an interview. "To advocate cessation would be an effort to sweep the problem under the rug.

"It would be the same or worse than denying labor unions the right to strike."

Dr. W. Montague Cobb, professor of anatomy at Howard Medical School, Washington, D.C., and a past association president, qualified his endorsement.

He said that while it might be tactically sound to stage new demonstrations for specific objectives, he feels "the law of diminishing returns has set in" volved and committed to these on repetitive actions such as the marches on Washington, D.C., and Selma, Ala.

He likened the civil rights campaign to a military operation, saying once a beachhead is obtained and auxiliary support arrives "a diversity of techniques" is required.

"We need to expand our communication with the white community an no one can tell how that will come about," Cobb said.

Dr. Leonidas H. Berry, Chicago, outgoing president, called the violence that has arisen from some demonstrations "an ugly situation," but "I never heard of a struggle for freedom where there wasn't some kind of violence."

Dr. Alvin F. Poussaint, clinical instructor in psychiatry at Tufts University Medical School, Boston, said Negro marches on white neighborhoods are "serving a useful purpose" by calling attention "to the fact the Negro has no way of getting out of the ghetto unless he can obtain housing in other areas of the city."

In his inaugural address at the convention, Holloman said, "The Negro physician does not have the right to stand aloof from the struggle for human dignity that is going on all around us. He has the responsibility and the charge to be in-causes."

4-H'ers Given Suggestions In 'Showing' Dairy Animals

LISBON — A knowledge of show ring procedure and etiquette is essential if a 4-H'er is to win showmanship honors or a blue ribbon for a champion dairy animal.

Robert Lewis, Columbiana County extension agent for 4-H, has the following five general suggestions for young handlers as they prepare for the 121st annual County Fair Aug. 24-28.

Be on time when the class is called.

Be alert for instructions from the judge, but don't stare at him. Obey instructions promptly. All attention should be on the animal and the judge, not friends at ringside.

Be a good sportsman; this includes courtesy.

Wear neat, clean clothes, preferably the standard white of the state fair and many county fairs. Avoid unusual and sloppy dress.

Lewis also calls the handlers' attention to showmanship suggestions of the Purebred Dairy Cattle Association and the American Dairy Sciences Association.

When posing the animal, the handler should avoid stepping on her hind feet to move them. She should be stepped ahead with a light pull on the lead strap, or moved backward by pressing on the shoulder point with the thumb and fingers of the right hand as backward pressure is applied with the halter.

A handler should keep an eye on his animal and be aware of the position of the judge at all times. When the judge is observing the animal, she should stand as long as she is posed reasonably well.

If the 4-H'er is asked to show another animal, he should access the animal's conformation faults and show her to overcome them.

Man, 26, Indicted On 2 Murder Counts

CLEVELAND (AP) — The grand jury has indicted Ronald G. Scranton on two counts of first-degree murder in the strangulation of Louise Manak.

Scranton, 26, is being held in county jail without bond in the June 12 slaying. Miss Manak, 19, was found dead in her apartment. Police said she had been strangled with a pair of stretch slacks.

Pennsylvania Jobless 181,000 In June-July

HARRISBURG (AP) — Total unemployment in Pennsylvania remained at 181,000 between June and July, the State Labor and Industry Department said Tuesday.

Although unemployment remained stationary in July, Secretary William P. Young said this still represented a record low for the month.

The unemployment rate also remained at 3.7 per cent of the state's civilian work force. The previous July low occurred in 1965, Young said, when 217,000 — or 4.7 per cent of the work force — was jobless.

Elected By Heinz Co.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The H. J. Heinz Co. announced Tuesday the election of Ralph W. Lund as vice president of domestic marketing, replacing Paul D. Townsend, who resigned for another position.

East End Man Lives Despite Bullet In Head

A 76-year-old East End man was in "critical" condition at City Hospital with a bullet wound in his head which he told police was suffered in an attempt to take his own life this morning.

Byron E. Surgeon of 2159 Harvey Ave. was able to walk and talk after the incident at his home, despite the fact a .22 caliber pistol bullet fired through the roof of his mouth lodged behind his eye, police reported. Taken to the hospital in an ambulance, he was X-rayed and then admitted.

Police received the first report of the incident at 7:30 a. m. in a telephone call to Patrolman Dwight Garvey, desk officer, from Howard Douglas, who resides on the second floor of the same home. Douglas said he also had summoned an ambulance after hearing a shot downstairs.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, first to arrive, said Surgeon responded to his knock, said he had shot himself and then closed the door again. A short time later, Chief A. J. Radeschi also arrived at the scene.

Surgeon opened the door at the request of the officers, the gun still in his hand, police said. He repeated the story about shooting himself. The chief removed the gun from the wounded man's hand.

When the ambulance arrived, Surgeon walked to a cot and was carried to the ambulance, officers said.

Man Charged After Mishap

A Wellsville area man was cited after his pickup truck wrecked on the Y. & O. Rd., about a mile north of Route 267, Tuesday at 4:15 p. m., according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said Frank Binegar Jr., 39, of Wellsville R. D. 1 escaped injury when his 1956 truck ripped out 40 feet of guard rail and struck a mailbox.

Binegar was southbound and lost control on the wet pavement. He was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle, officers said.

A car operated by Lonnie B. Watson, 39, of 905 Township Line Rd., Wellsville, and a station wagon driven by James F. Bock 26, of Newton Falls collided at 4:45 p. m. on Route 45, six miles north of Wellsville.

David Sadler, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 4 escaped injury when his car wrecked on Route 344, three-tenths a mile east of Leetonia Tuesday at 3 p. m.

He was eastbound and lost control on a curve. The compact went off the right side of the highway and struck a mailbox owned by Harry H. Ferrall of Leetonia R. D. 2. It then crossed Township Rd. 790, ripping out a stop sign, and came to a halt in the yard of Leo Horst of Leetonia R. D. 2, the patrol reported.

As LBJ Running Mate In 1968

Humphrey Rejects Talk Kennedy May 'Move In'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey smilingly dismissed speculation today that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy might replace him as President Johnson's 1968 running mate.

Asked about the speculation as he lounged on a sofa in his office behind the Senate chamber, Humphrey said in an interview:

"This is what I call the hazard course every vice president has to run. It is part of the basic training one has to go through. No man in public life is as much exposed to guerrilla war as a vice president—the opportunity to be shot at from all sides.

"If you survive, it is a modern-day miracle. But I plan on surviving."

What about reports of a change in his liberal philosophy since becoming vice president?

"I have not changed my basic philosophy. I have changed jobs. There are new responsibilities. I am no longer U.S. senator from Minnesota."

What about reports that some of the party's liberals are veering away from him and following the leadership of Kennedy, a New York Democrat?

"There is lots of room under the canopy for new recruits. I welcome new recruits. I am pleased to see that liberalism in 1966 is a little more popular than it was in 1956 or even in 1960."

In emphasizing that his role as a senator was much different from that of vice president, Humphrey said that as a senator he was at liberty to pick and choose on any issue and make known any differences with the administration.

"I am now the vice president," he said, "a member of the team of the administration. Whatever I do reflects on the President. The President makes the policies. My contribution is in the councils of the administration."

Talk that he was switching from his liberal views, Humphrey said, stemmed from "a handful of people" who disagree with his position on the war in Viet Nam. Humphrey has strongly backed Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

"That is their privilege," he said. "But Hubert Humphrey always believes that this nation has a responsibility in the world, not only to Europe.

"It is a world power and has worldwide responsibilities — and you do not prove yourself to be a liberal by ignoring the hard facts of aggression in Asia."

New Bid Set In Launch Of 'Flying Lab'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The space agency planned to try again today to launch a flying photography laboratory into orbit around the moon to take clear pictures of the hidden side and nine potential astronaut landing sites.

The spacecraft, called Lunar Orbiter, was scheduled to vault into space under the thrust of an Atlas-Agena rocket in a favorable period between 4:11 and 7:02 p.m. (EDT).

The 850-pound Lunar Orbiter was to zip across its quarter-million-mile course in 90 hours, reaching the vicinity of the moon Sunday morning.

Special Services Set In Honor Of Minister

The Rev. R. L. Harris of the New Jerusalem Baptist Church of Wellsville is observing his first anniversary as pastor this week with special services, featuring guest ministers and choirs.

The Rev. E. E. Parker of Irondale will speak at 7:30 tonight, the Rev. E. H. Harris of the Second Baptist Church of East Liverpool Thursday and the Rev. W. L. Robinson of the Mt. Sinai Fire Baptized Holiness Church of Wellsville on Friday. The Rev. C. C. Goss of the Zion Hill Baptist Church of Youngstown spoke Tuesday night.

'Samaritan' Penalized In Dispute With Police

An East Liverpool man told Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff he was attempting to play a Good Samaritan's role when he was taken into custody late Tuesday night on charges of intoxication and resisting a police officer.

Larry F. Fitch of 7th Ave., LaCroft, said he found a man lying on Broadway and suspected the man might have been injured. He said he was arrested when he remonstrated with police against moving the man until he had been given first aid.

Fitch was fined $10 and costs on each count. The "injured" man, Alfonso R. Abolas of 521 E. 6th St., also pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge. He was fined $10 and costs. Both were arrested at 11:20 p. m., police said.

Negro Doctors Support Demonstrations, Protests

CHICAGO (AP) — Negroes who carved out successful careers as medical leaders voiced support today of demonstrations and protests designed to create equal opportunities for Negroes.

The new president, the outgoing president and a past president of the National Medical Association said that direct action and confrontation must take place before changes occur. A Negro psychiatrist echoed their views.

"The demonstrations must continue," Dr. John L. S. Holloman, New York City, new NMA president, said in an interview.

To advocate cessation would be an effort to sweep the problem under the rug.

"It would be the same or worse than denying labor unions the right to strike."

Dr. W. Montague Cobb, professor of anatomy at Howard Medical School, Washington, D.C., and a past association president, qualified his endorsement.

He said that while it might be tactically sound to stage new demonstrations for specific objectives, he feels "the law of diminishing returns has set in" on repetitive actions such as the marches on Washington, D.C., and Selma, Ala.

He likened the civil rights campaign to a military operation, saying once a beachhead is obtained and auxiliary support arrives "a diversity of techniques" is required.

"We need to expand our communication with the white community an no one can tell how that will come about," Cobb said.

Dr. Leonidas H. Berry, Chicago, outgoing president, called the violence that has arisen from some demonstrations "an ugly situation," but "I never heard of a struggle for freedom where there wasn't some kind of violence."

Dr. Alvin F. Poussaint, clinical instructor in psychiatry at Tufts University Medical School, Boston, said Negro marches on white neighborhoods are "serving a useful purpose" by calling attention "to the fact the Negro has no way of getting out of the ghetto unless he can obtain housing in other areas of the city."

In his inaugural address at the convention, Holloman said, "The Negro physician does not have the right to stand aloof from the struggle for human dignity that is going on all around us. He has the responsibility and the charge to be involved and committed to these causes."

4-H'ers Given Suggestions In 'Showing' Dairy Animals

LISBON — A knowledge of the position of the judge at all show ring procedure and etiquette is essential if a 4-H'er is times. When the judge is observing the animal, she should to win showmanship honors or stand as long as she is posed a blue ribbon for a champion reasonably well.

Robert Lewis, Columbiana County extension agent for 4-H, has the following five general suggestions for young handlers as they prepare for the 121st annual County Fair Aug. 24-28:

Be on time when the class is called.

Be alert for instructions from the judge, but don't stare at him. Obey instructions promptly. All attention should be on the animal and the judge, not friends at ringside.

Be a good sportsman; this includes courtesy.

Wear neat, clean clothes, preferably the standard white of the state fair and many county fairs. Avoid unusual and sloppy dress.

Lewis also calls the handlers' attention to showmanship suggestions of the Purebred Dairy Cattle Association and the American Dairy Sciences Association:

The animal should be lead slowly with her head held high enough for impressive style, attractive carriage and graceful walk. When the judge concentrates on the animal, the handler should turn around and walk backward, leading with his left hand.

When posing the animal, the handler should avoid stepping on her hind feet to move them. She should be stepped ahead with a light pull on the lead strap, or moved backward by pressing on the shoulder point with the thumb and fingers of the right hand as backward pressure is applied with the halter.

A handler should keep an eye on his animal and be aware of the position of the judge at all

If the 4-H'er is asked to show another animal, he should access the animal's conformation faults and show her to overcome them.

Man, 26, Indicted On 2 Murder Counts

CLEVELAND (AP) — The grand jury has indicted Ronald G. Scranton on two counts of first-degree murder in the strangulation of Louise Manak.

Scranton, 26, is being held in county jail without bond in the June 12 slaying. Miss Manak, 19, was found dead in her apartment. Police said she had been strangled with a pair of stretch slacks.

Pennsylvania Jobless 181,000 In June-July

HARRISBURG (AP) — Total unemployment in Pennsylvania remained at 181,000 between June and July, the State Labor and Industry Department said Tuesday.

Although unemployment remained stationary in July, Secretary William P. Young said this still represented a record low for the month.

The unemployment rate also remained at 3.7 per cent of the state's civilian work force. The previous July low occurred in 1965, Young said, when 217,000 — or 4.7 per cent of the work force — was jobless.

Elected By Heinz Co.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The H. J. Heinz Co. announced Tuesday the election of Ralph W. Lund as vice president of domestic marketing, replacing Paul D. Townsend, who resigned for another position.

East End Man Lives Despite Bullet In Head

A 76-year-old East End man was in "critical" condition at City Hospital with a bullet wound in his head which he told police was suffered in an attempt to take his own life this morning.

Byron E. Surgeon of 2159 Harvey Ave. was able to walk and talk after the incident at his home, despite the fact a .22 caliber pistol bullet fired through the roof of his mouth lodged behind his eye, police reported. Taken to the hospital in an ambulance, he was X-rayed and then admitted.

Police received the first report of the incident at 7:30 a. m. in a telephone call to Patrolman Dwight Garvey, desk officer, from Howard Douglas, who resides on the second floor of the same home. Douglas said he also had summoned an ambulance after hearing a shot downstairs.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, first to arrive, said Surgeon responded to his knock, said he had shot himself and then closed the door again. A short time later, Chief A. J. Radeschi also arrived at the scene.

Surgeon opened the door at the request of the officers, the gun still in his hand, police said. He repeated the story about shooting himself. The chief removed the gun from the wounded man's hand.

When the ambulance arrived, Surgeon walked to a cot and was carried to the ambulance, officers said.

Man Charged After Mishap

A Wellsville area man was cited after his pickup truck wrecked on the Y. & O. Rd., about a mile north of Route 267, Tuesday at 4:15 p. m., according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said Frank Binegar Jr., 39, of Wellsville R. D. 1 escaped injury when his 1956 truck ripped out 40 feet of guard rail and struck a mailbox.

Binegar was southbound and lost control on the wet pavement. He was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle, officers said.

A car operated by Lonnie B. Watson, 39, of 905 Township Line Rd., Wellsville, and a station wagon driven by James F. Bock 26, of Newton Falls collided at 4:45 p. m. on Route 45, six miles north of Wellsville.

David Sadler, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 4 escaped injury when his car wrecked on Route 344, three-tenths a mile east of Leetonia Tuesday at 3 p. m.

He was eastbound and lost control on a curve. The compact went off the right side of the highway and struck a mailbox owned by Harry H. Ferrall of Leetonia R. D. 2. It then crossed Township Rd. 790, ripping out a stop sign, and came to a halt in the yard of Leo Horst of Leetonia R. D. 2, the patrol reported.

Pirates Grab 1-Game Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

That little ulcer most managers pamper probably has a running start on Billy Hitchcock after his first game as skipper of the Atlanta Braves.

Hitchcock, who replaced Bobby Bragan as manager of the Braves Tuesday, piloted the club to a 2-1 victory over Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And it only took four hours, 24 minutes to do the job.

Ed Mathews ripped a homer in the ninth, ending the marathon which was delayed for two hours, five minutes by rain in the fourth inning.

Denny Lemaster, who finished with a three-hitter, held the Dodgers hitless for seven innings, protecting a 1-0 lead provided by Felipe Alou's leadoff homer in the first.

After the rain, Hitchcock watched his outfielders trot through puddles catching fly balls to preserve the no-hit bid. Then, in the eighth inning, Jim Lefebvre ended the spell with a leadoff homer, tying the score.

The Braves had a golden opportunity to take the lead in the bottom of the eigth but instead of the tie-breaking run, all Hitchcock got was aggravation.

After Mack Jones was tossed out of the game for protesting a called strike, pinch hitter Mike de la Hoz drew a walk. Ty Cline ran for de la Hoz and moved to second on Denis Menke's sacrifice. Woody Woodward's second hit of the game tipped off Maury Wills' glove, Cline going to third.

Then catcher John Roseboro caught Cline leaning the wrong way and picked the pinch runner off third. Lemaster struck out, ending the inning.

There was one out in the ninth when Mathews lined his eighth homer into the right field seats, ending the game.

Elsewhere in the National League, first place Pittsburgh shaded the New York Mets 2-1, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 3-2, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 3-2 and Houston ripped Chicago 8-5.

After Lefebvre's homer, Koufax doubled with two out in the Dodger eighth but was stranded. Tommy Davis' two-out single in the ninth was the only other hit off Lemaster, who struck out 10 and pulled his record to 10-8.

About 40,000 of the record Atlanta crowd of 52,270 sat out the long rain delay and stayed until the game was over.

Donn Clendenon doubled in one run and scored the other on pitcher Woody Fryman's single as the Pirates edged the Mets.

Pittsburgh scored both its runs in the fourth with Clendenon's double driving in Jose Pagan and Fryman delivering after Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked.

The Mets knocked Fryman out, scoring their run on two hits and a walk in the seventh, but Pete Mikkelsen pitched hitless relief the rest of the way and preserved the rookie's ninth victory.

Vada Pinson singled home relief pitcher Sammy Ellis with the winning run in the seventh inning for the Reds against the Giants. Pinson, who had raced home from first on Willie Mays' error in the first inning, delivered against Bob Bolin after Ellis singled and Tommy Harper walked.

The loss dropped the Giants a full game back of the Pirates.

Larry Jaster allowed just two infield singles over the first eight innings against the Phillies but needed help from Nelson Briles to nail down St. Louis' victory.

Johnny Briggs' leadoff homer in the ninth spoiled Jaster's shutout bid and then singles by Cookie Rojas and Johnny Callison brought Briles in. He got Richie Allen on a double play bouncer and then struck out Tony Taylor, ending it.

Ron Davis' double climaxed a five-run Houston ninth that gave the Astros their victory over the Cubs. John Bateman had two homers for Houston and Randy Hundley whacked a pair for Chicago.

Steelers Ask Waivers On 3 Rookie Linemen

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers have asked waivers on three rookie linemen.

The National Football League club leaves its Rhode Island University training camp Thursday, continuing pre-season drills at Williamette University at Salem, Ore.

Bill Austin said quarterback John Stofa will play the second half Saturday night when the Steelers meet the Minnesota Vikings at Portland, Ore. Bill Nelsen will start.

The late Jack Westrope is the only rider to lead Delaware Park jockeys two years in a row. He led in 1953 and 1954.

Was There An Investigation? . . .

While we were glad to learn that East Liverpool High School did not draw a suspension from athletics following an investigation by the Ohio High School Athletic Association, we feel some of the statements made by the OHSAA deserve comment.

The investigation was conducted Thursday when Commissioner Paul E. Landis and Assistant Commissioner Harold A. Meyer visited East Liverpool, meeting with Supt. Paul Blair, former principal Carl Pelini and Robert McNea, football coach.

A question rises in our mind as to whether the investigation was as thorough as it should have been.

Superintendent Commended, Why?

One statement by the state said: "We commend you Blair as superintendent of schools for publicly stating that the administration will not condone any violation of the OHSAA rules and regulations."

However, in his possession, Supt. Blair had a notorized letter signed by a member of the 1965 Potter football team stating that under the direction of McNea the team practiced during the spring of 1965 at Westgate school, using football equipment, and in the summer at a Lisbon area farm before the official starting date as allowed by the OHSAA.

Evidently, this letter was not considered sufficient evidence or was not presented to Landis.

We also do not know how the commissioner could overlook other facts and then make a statement that "mature junior high school youngsters that were seen in football uniforms at Westgate may have been mistaken for senior high boys, thus resulting in the accusation that East Liverpool High School was holding football practice out of season."

This statement, in our opinion, verges on the ridiculous. Surely, if East Liverpool High School was holding practice out of season, it wouldn't be where anyone driving along State Route 7 could see the out-and-out violation.

We realize that the majority of high schools hold some type of illegal practice and that the OHSAA, which is supposedly the watchdog of athletics in the state, apparently looks the other way.

Another statement by the OHSAA said "there was a minor violation of the basketball practice rule without knowledge of the school administration and when discovered it was appropiately disposed of by the school."

Could the phrase "appropriately disposed of" mean that the violation of the basketball practice rule was rectified by dismissing the basketball coach?

If such is the case, it would seem unjust to single out basketball over football in view of some of the evidence on hand.

So far as the OHSAA is concerned, everything apparently seems to be in good order here, with the recommendation that the junior high schools not conduct spring football practice appearing to be merely a slap on the athletic wrist.

Why didn't the investigation team ask ELHS officials why four schools which are members of the OHSAA have dropped East Liverpool in football and other sports. The schools are Toronto, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Steubenville Big Red.

Bragan's Firing Is Good News To Milwaukee Fans

MILWAUKEE (AP) — For many Milwaukeeans, it was the best piece of baseball news all season. Bobby Bragan was fired Tuesday as manager of the Atlanta Braves.

"It's the best thing that could have happened," said Leon Nodorft.

"I've been hoping this would happen," said William Share.

Bragan had been the object of the fans' deepest dislike in 1965 as he led the power-hitting, pitching-poor Braves through their rocky, lame-duck season in Milwaukee.

He was the symbol of the front office, and all he had to do was stick his head out of the dugout: whether there were 500 or 5,000 fans present, County Stadium would come alive with a chorus of boos, hisses and catcalls.

Throughout the season, Bragan took the booing without complaint. "I've been booed by bigger crowds," he once said in wry comment on the sparse attendance at the home of the Atlanta-bound Braves.

But once out of Milwaukee for good, Bragan hit back. "I'll tell you how I feel about Milwaukee," he said. "It's a two-bit town, a short-beer town. I've had it out there from the public, the politicians and the press. I wouldn't go back there for all the cheese in Wisconsin."

Berry Delivers For Chisox

Yankees Cut Another Game Off Lead Of Orioles; 2nd Place Tigers Win

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ken Berry takes more time and fewer pitches, and the Chicago White Sox say it's about time.

For Berry, it's about time he started hitting, and for the White Sox, it's about time they got into the first division in the American League.

They accomplished that goal Tuesday night as Berry drove in the winning run in a 2-1 victory over Kansas City.

The triumph, their fifth straight, boosted the White Sox into fifth place, one percentage point ahead of Minnesota.

Berry was a major disappointment to Chicago officials last year when, as a rookie, he played in 157 games and batted a meager .218. As a result of that record and his performance in spring training this year, Berry lost his center field job to rookie Tommie Agee.

When he did get to play early in the season, he showed no improvement. In fact at one point he was batting .196. Then he won back a regular job, in right field, and his average started climbing steadily until now he leads the team in batting with a .290 mark.

"I'm using a heavier bat, 34 to 35 ounces as against 31 to 23 last season," Berry said in explaining the difference. "It makes me wait a little longer for the ball, and when I connect the ball goes a little farther.

"I've also gotten a new philosophy about hitting. And that is you can't hit the ball unless you swing the bat. I used to take too many pitches."

In other American League games, New York defeated Baltimore 4-1, Detroit whipped Washington 8-3, Cleveland blanked Boston 5-0 and California stopped Minnesota 2-0.

Berry broke a 1-1 tie for Chicago with a sacrifice fly in the sixth inning. John Romano's fifth homer in five games had put the White Sox ahead 1-0 in the second, but Kansas City tied it in the fifth on doubles by Dick Green and Ed Charles.

Joe Pepitone and Roger Maris cracked two-run homers as the Yankees stopped first-place Baltimore. Fritz Peterson pitched a six-hitter for his ninth victory against seven defeats. He allowed Baltimore only a homer by Boog Powell in the fourth.

Don Wert hit a two-run homer in the seventh and Norm Cash and Orlando McFarlane powered a five-run outburst in the eighth with homers in Detroit's triumph over Washington. Wert's homer came after Fred Valentine dropped pitcher Earl Wilson's two-out fly ball.

Fred Whitfield hit a three-run homer and Max Alvis delivered a bases-empty blow in support of Steve Hargan's four-hit pitching for Cleveland. Hargan, who drove in a ninth-inning run with a single, allowed only one Boston runner pas' first base.

California's Marcelino Lopez turned in a five-hitter, outdueling Jim Merritt of Minnesota. Ed Kirkpatrick drove in the Angels' first run with a triple in the third and Joe Adcock doubled across a run in the sixth.

Break Between Pros, PGA Indicated After Meeting

Cooler heads on both sides of the long-simmering controversy are attempting to head off a complete split, but they are running into problems.

This was indicated by the failure to reach a solid agreement in an all-day session of the PGA tournament committee Tuesday at the Upper Montclair Country Club here, where the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic opens Thursday.

The seven-man committee kicked around some old problems, listened to gripes from various tournment players and came up empty-handed.

"We have nothing to report," said Max Elbin, president of the PGA. "We hope to settle this thing amicably without publicity."

"We have nothing to say," added Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the players' committee.

As in Akron, Ohio, during the week of the PGA Championship last month, the tournament players and the PGA found no common ground for a working arrangement.

What will happen now?

Nobody was willing to say. But there were militant men among the playing group urging a clean breakaway from the parent body and complete autonomy in their own affairs.

Others, such as Jacobs and Elbin, were seeking to save the situation.

"We need each other," said Elbin.

The touring pros want to set up their own organization with the right to pick their own tournament director, fix distribution of television receipts and draw up a pension plan.

These are prerogatives which have always been under the wing of the PGA, ruling body of the pros for half a century, with a ratio of 15-1 home or teaching pros over the tour boys.

The tournament players, who now play for $4 million a year in prize money, figure they are now grown up and big enough to run their own business.

'We don't want a shopkeeper telling us what to do' is the general complaint of the pro tourists, who fly their own jet planes and have business managers.

The PGA is willing to make concessions but feels it is the organization which has built and nurtured the tour and the only one that keeps it going.

The tour players threatened to boycott the PGA's Golden Anniversary Championship last month but relented when promised their demands would be given attention at the annual convention in December.

One of their suggestions is that they be allowed to form their own section, one of 35 in the PGA, and conduct their own affairs. They also want to cut more of the home pros out of the PGA Championship.

This has been presented in the form of a petition, which is almost certain to be voted down at the winter convention at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

Jacobs and Elbin said they didn't know when future talks would be held. Other members of the tournament committee are Dan Sikes, Gardner Dickinson and Mason Rudolph, all tournament players; Elbin and Secretary Leo Fraser and treasurer Warren Orlick of the PGA.

Probe Begins Over Jockey Bets, Doping

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State police placed a 24-hour guard around state veterinarian Norman Stoner Tuesday as state officials probed alleged widespread doping of horses and illegal betting by jockeys in Detroit race tracks.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley was to call a news conference in Lansing today concerning the investigation, revealed in a copyrighted story in the Detroit Free Press.

Disclosure of the investigation came on the heels of the resignation of Berry N. Beaman, State Racing Commissioner, last Thursday and followed action by a federal grand jury which subpoenaed four jockeys and a trainer Monday as witnesses in an alleged gambling conspiracy connected with a series of July 1 gambling raids made by Internal Revenue Service agents.

The Free Press said the "unimpeachable sources said the probe involves the illegal use of pain-killing drug on thoroughbred race horses and off-track betting by jockeys, both prohibited by law."

Stoner was described as initiating the investigation "when he questioned urine test results being returned by the state testing lab in Lansing."

The newspaper said the "sources said mass dopings of horses took place at the Detroit Race Course late in the 1965 thoroughbred season and at Hazel Park Raceway early in the 1966 season.

"The sources said, too, that jockeys have been placing bets with bookmakers."

Braves Nip LA Under New Boss

Pirates Grab 1-Game Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

That little ulcer most managers pamper probably has a running start on Billy Hitchcock after his first game as skipper of the Atlanta Braves.

Hitchcock, who replaced Bobby Bragan as manager of the Braves Tuesday, piloted the club to a 2-1 victory over Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And it only took four hours, 24 minutes to do the job.

Ed Mathews ripped a homer in the ninth, ending the marathon which was delayed for two hours, five minutes by rain in the fourth inning.

Denny Lemaster, who finished with a three-hitter, held the Dodgers hitless for seven innings, protecting a 1-0 lead provided by Felipe Alou's leadoff homer in the first.

After the rain, Hitchcock watched his outfielders trot through puddles catching fly balls to preserve the no-hit bid. Then, in the eighth inning, Jim Lefebvre ended the spell with a leadoff homer, tying the score.

The Braves had a golden opportunity to take the lead in the bottom of the eigth but instead of the tie-breaking run, all Hitchcock got was aggravation.

After Mack Jones was tossed out of the game for protesting a called strike, pinch hitter Mike de la Hoz drew a walk. Ty Cline ran for de la Hoz and moved to second on Denis Menke's sacrifice. Woody Woodward's second hit of the game tipped off Maury Wills' glove, Cline going to third.

Then catcher John Roseboro caught Cline leaning the wrong way and picked the pinch runner off third. Lemaster struck out, ending the inning.

There was one out in the ninth when Mathews lined his eighth homer into the right field seats, ending the game.

Elsewhere in the National League, first place Pittsburgh shaded the New York Mets 2-1, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 3-2, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 3-2 and Houston ripped Chicago 8-5.

After Lefebvre's homer, Koufax doubled with two out in the Dodger eighth but was stranded. Tommy Davis' two-out single in the ninth was the only other hit off Lemaster, who struck out 10 and pulled his record to 10-8.

About 40,000 of the record Atlanta crowd of 52,270 sat out the long rain delay and stayed until the game was over.

Donn Clendenon doubled in one run and scored the other on pitcher Woody Fryman's single as the Pirates edged the Mets.

Pittsburgh scored both its runs in the fourth with Clendenon's double driving in Jose Pagan and Fryman delivering after Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked.

The Mets knocked Fryman out, scoring their run on two hits and a walk in the seventh, but Pete Mikkelsen pitched hitless relief the rest of the way and preserved the rookie's ninth victory.

Vada Pinson singled home relief pitcher Sammy Ellis with the winning run in the seventh inning for the Reds against the Giants. Pinson, who had raced home from first on Willie Mays' error in the first inning, delivered against Bob Bolin after Ellis singled and Tommy Harper walked.

The loss dropped the Giants a full game back of the Pirates.

Larry Jaster allowed just two infield singles over the first eight innings against the Phillies but needed help from Nelson Briles to nail down St. Louis' victory.

Johnny Briggs' leadoff homer in the ninth spoiled Jaster's shutout bid and then singles by Cookie Rojas and Johnny Callison brought Briles in. He got Richie Allen on a double play bouncer and then struck out Tony Taylor, ending it.

Ron Davis' double climaxed a five-run Houston ninth that gave the Astros their victory over the Cubs. John Bateman had two homers for Houston and Randy Hundley whacked a pair for Chicago.

Steelers Ask Waivers On 3 Rookie Linemen

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers have asked waivers on three rookie linemen.

The National Football League club leaves its Rhode Island University training camp Thursday, continuing pre-season drills at Williamette University at Salem, Ore.

Bill Austin said quarterback John Stofa will play the second half Saturday night when the Steelers meet the Minnesota Vikings at Portland, Ore. Bill Nelsen will start.

The late Jack Westrope is the only rider to lead Delaware Park jockeys two years in a row. He led in 1953 and 1954.

Was There An Investigation? . . .

While we were glad to learn that East Liverpool High School did not draw a suspension from athletics following an investigation by the Ohio High School Athletic Association, we feel some of the statements made by the OHSAA deserve comment.

The investigation was conducted Thursday when Commissioner Paul E. Landis and Assistant Commissioner Harold A. Meyer visited East Liverpool, meeting with Supt. Paul Blair, former principal Carl Pelini and Robert McNea, football coach.

A question rises in our mind as to whether the investigation was as thorough as it should have been.

Superintendent Commended, Why?

One statement by the state said: "We commend you Blair as superintendent of schools for publicly stating that the administration will not condone any violation of the OHSAA rules and regulations."

However, in his possession, Supt. Blair had a notorized letter signed by a member of the 1965 Potter football team stating that under the direction of McNea the team practiced during the spring of 1965 at Westgate school, using football equipment, and in the summer at a Lisbon area farm before the official starting date as allowed by the OHSAA.

Evidently, this letter was not considered sufficient evidence or was not presented to Landis.

We also do not know how the commissioner could overlook other facts and then make a statement that "mature junior high school youngsters that were seen in football uniforms at Westgate may have been mistaken for senior high boys, thus resulting in the accusation that East Liverpool High School was holding football practice out of season."

This statement, in our opinion, verges on the ridiculous. Surely, if East Liverpool High School was holding practice out of season, it wouldn't be where anyone driving along State Route 7 could see the out-and-out violation.

We realize that the majority of high schools hold some type of illegal practice and that the OHSAA, which is supposedly the watchdog of athletics in the state, apparently looks the other way.

Another statement by the OHSAA said "there was a minor violation of the basketball practice rule without knowledge of the school administration and when discovered it was appropiately disposed of by the school."

Could the phrase "appropriately disposed of" mean that the violation of the basketball practice rule was rectified by dismissing the basketball coach?

If such is the case, it would seem unjust to single out basketball over football in view of some of the evidence on hand.

So far as the OHSAA is concerned, everything apparently seems to be in good order here, with the recommendation that the junior high schools not conduct spring football practice appearing to be merely a slap on the athletic wrist.

Why didn't the investigation team ask ELHS officials why four schools which are members of the OHSAA have dropped East Liverpool in football and other sports. The schools are Toronto, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Steubenville Big Red.

Bragan's Firing Is Good News To Milwaukee Fans

MILWAUKEE (AP) — For many Milwaukeeans, it was the best piece of baseball news all season. Bobby Bragan was fired Tuesday as manager of the Atlanta Braves.

"It's the best thing that could have happened," said Leon Nodorft.

"I've been hoping this would happen," said William Share.

Bragan had been the object of the fans' deepest dislike in 1965 as he led the power-hitting, pitching-poor Braves through their rocky, lame-duck season in Milwaukee.

He was the symbol of the front office, and all he had to do was stick his head out of the dugout: whether there were 500 or 5,000 fans present, County Stadium would come alive with a chorus of boos, hisses and catcalls.

Throughout the season, Bragan took the booing without complaint. "I've been booed by bigger crowds," he once said in wry comment on the sparse attendance at the home of the Atlanta-bound Braves.

But once out of Milwaukee for good, Bragan hit back. "I'll tell you how I feel about Milwaukee," he said. "It's a two-bit town, a short-beer town. I've had it out there from the public, the politicians and the press. I wouldn't go back there for all the cheese in Wisconsin."

Season Football Tickets On Sale At E. Liverpool

Season football tickets for East Liverpool High School's six home games are on sale.

A citizen's committee will contact season ticket holders of 1965 to verify their order for the 1966 season.

Inquiries also may be directed to the athletic office Room 210 of the high school each day Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. or by calling 385-5809.

Price of season tickets are $9 for the six games. Four games will be played on Saturday night.

Student season tickets also can be purchased now at $3.

Jets Can Win It, Claims Namath

By TED MEIER
Asspciated Press Sports Writer

Who says so? Joe Namath, the Jets' $400,000 quarterback, that's who.

Namath, the AFL's rookie of the year, led the Jets to five victories in their last eight games in 1965, a late rush that gained the Jets second place to Buffalo in the Eastern Division, with a 5-8-1 record.

Playing in 13 games in his first pro season, the former Alabama star completed 164 of 340 passes for 2,220 yards and 18 touchdowns. If Namath improves in his second year, the Jets figure to be in contention all the way.

Namath, a native of Beaver Falls, Pa. made his views known Tuesday as the Jets prepared for their first exhibition game Saturday night at Birmingham, Ala., against the Houston Oilers.

"We have a shot at the whole deal," Namath said. "The defense looks a lot better and the offense is smarter. The flankers and the quarterbacks are working together better."

Houston opened its exhibition season last week with a 26-17 victory over Oakland, and coach Wally Lemm has Don Trull, George Bland and Jacky Lee ready to shoot at the Jets in 1-2-3 order at quarterback.

St. Louis of the National Football League, which opens this week's exhibition schedule with a Thursday night game at Detroit, announced that veteran end Sonny Sandle had signed his contract. Detroit figured in a deal with Philadelphia, which traded defensive end Jerry Mazzanti to the Lions for a future draft choice.

The Atlanta Falcons of the NFL announced that defensive end Sam Williams had changed his mind about retiring and would be fined for reporting late. The former Michigan State star had been acquired by the Falcons from Detroit in last winter's expansion draft.

End Stan Hindman of Mississippi, tackle Dave McCormick of LSU and halfback Alvin Randolph of Iowa, three college All-Stars, reported to the San Francisco 49ers, and the Green Bay Packers shifted halfback Bill Symons of Colorado to the defensive secondary in other Tuesday developments in the NFL.

Eleven exhibition games are scheduled this week, starting with the St. Louis-Detroit contest Thursday. On Friday, Green Bay and Chicago play at Milwaukee, Wis., Denver is at Buffalo and Kansas City at Miami.

On Saturday, in addition to the Jets-Houston game at Birmingham, Baltimore and Philadelphia play at New Orleans, La.; Dallas is at Los Angeles; Oakland at San Diego; Pittsburgh and Minnesota meet at Portland, Ore.; and the New York Giants tangle with Atlanta at Nashville, Tenn. On Sunday, Cleveland is at San Francisco.

Western Beaver Sets Football Physicals

Physical examinations will be given to all Western Beaver football candidates grades 9-12 Thursday at 10 a.m. at the high school. Equipment will be issued at the same time.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING—Ed Mathews, Atlanta, hit a ninth-inning home run off Sandy Koufax that gave the Braves a 2-1 victory over Los Angeles in their first game under new Manager Billy Hitchcock.

Cleveland Eyes Soccer Franchise

CLEVELAND, (AP) — A new National Professional Soccer League is being formed and Cleveland is among four cities seeking to join nine other American and Canadian with franchises, the Plain Dealer said today.

A league meeting next month may determine "just how many teams we'll take on," said John H. Pinton, assistant to the league president, Robert Hermann, St. Louis businessman.

The league expects to operate next April and lists as charter members New York, Boston, Hartford, Conn., Chicago, Atlanta, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Diego and Toronto. Applying for membership along with Cleveland are Philadelphia, Detroit and San Francisco.

"Most of our players will be be from overseas (Europe) at the start," Pinto said. The league would operate independently from the U.S. Soccer Football Association.

Tie For Medalist

MONTREAL (AP) — Ron Smith of Manchester, Conn., and Nick Weslock of Burlington, Ont., each shot a 71 Tuesday and tied for medalist honors in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship at 144.

Berry Delivers For Chisox

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ken Berry takes more time and fewer pitches, and the Chicago White Sox say it's about time.

For Berry, it's about time he started hitting, and for the White Sox, it's about time they got into the first division in the American League.

They accomplished that goal Tuesday night as Berry drove in the winning run in a 2-1 victory over Kansas City.

The triumph, their fifth straight, boosted the White Sox into fifth place, one percentage point ahead of Minnesota.

Berry was a major disappointment to Chicago officials last year when, as a rookie, he played in 157 games and batted a meager .218. As a result of that record and his performance in spring training this year, Berry lost his center field job to rookie Tommie Agee.

When he did get to play early in the season, he showed no improvement. In fact at one point he was batting .196. Then he won back a regular job, in right field, and his average started climbing steadily until now he leads the team in batting with a .290 mark.

"I'm using a heavier bat, 34 to 35 ounces as against 31 to 23 last season," Berry said in explaining the difference. "It makes me wait a little longer for the ball, and when I connect the ball goes a little farther.

"I've also gotten a new philosophy about hitting. And that is you can't hit the ball unless you swing the bat. I used to take too many pitches."

In other American League games, New York defeated Baltimore 4-1, Detroit whipped Washington 8-3, Cleveland blanked Boston 5-0 and California stopped Minnesota 2-0.

Berry broke a 1-1 tie for Chicago with a sacrifice fly in the sixth inning. John Romano's fifth homer in five games had put the White Sox ahead 1-0 in the second, but Kansas City tied it in the fifth on doubles by Dick Green and Ed Charles.

Joe Pepitone and Roger Maris cracked two-run homers as the Yankees stopped first-place Baltimore. Fritz Peterson pitched a six-hitter for his ninth victory against seven defeats. He allowed Baltimore only a homer by Boog Powell in the fourth.

Don Wert hit a two-run homer in the seventh and Norm Cash and Orlando McFarlane powered a five-run outburst in the eighth with homers in Detroit's triumph over Washington. Wert's homer came after Fred Valentine dropped pitcher Earl Wilson's two-out fly ball.

Fred Whitfield hit a three-run homer and Max Alvis delivered a bases-empty blow in support of Steve Hargan's four-hit pitching for Cleveland. Hargan, who drove in a ninth-inning run with a single, allowed only one Boston runner past first base.

California's Marcelino Lopez turned in a five-hitter, outdueling Jim Merritt of Minnesota. Ed Kirkpatrick drove in the Angels' first run with a triple in the third and Joe Adcock doubled across a run in the sixth.

Break Between Pros, PGA Indicated After Meeting

Cooler heads on both sides of the long-simmering controversy are attempting to head off a complete split, but they are running into problems.

This was indicated by the failure to reach a solid agreement in an all-day session of the PGA tournament committee Tuesday at the Upper Montclair Country Club here, where the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic opens Thursday.

The seven-man committee kicked around some old problems, listened to gripes from various tournment players and came up empty-handed.

"We have nothing to report," said Max Elbin, president of the PGA. "We hope to settle this thing amicably without publicity."

"We have nothing to say," added Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the players' committee.

As in Akron, Ohio, during the week of the PGA Championship last month, the tournament players and the PGA found no common ground for a working arrangement.

What will happen now?

Nobody was willing to say. But there were militant men among the playing group urging a clean breakaway from the parent body and complete autonomy in their own affairs.

Others, such as Jacobs and Elbin, were seeking to save the situation.

"We need each other," said Elbin.

The touring pros want to set up their own organization with the right to pick their own tournament director, fix distribution of television receipts and draw up a pension plan.

These are prerogatives which have always been under the wing of the PGA, ruling body of the pros for half a century, with a ratio of 15-1 home or teaching pros over the tour boys.

The tournament players, who now play for $4 million a year in prize money, figure they are now grown up and big enough to run their own business.

'We don't want a shopkeeper telling us what to do' is the general complaint of the pro tourists, who fly their own jet planes and have business managers.

The PGA is willing to make concessions but feels it is the organization which has built and nurtured the tour and the only one that keeps it going.

The tour players threatened to boycott the PGA's Golden Anniversary Championship last month but relented when promised their demands would be given attention at the annual convention in December.

One of their suggestions is that they be allowed to form their own section, one of 35 in the PGA, and conduct their own affairs. They also want to cut more of the home pros out of the PGA Championship.

This has been presented in the form of a petition, which is almost certain to be voted down at the winter convention at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

Jacobs and Elbin said they didn't know when future talks would be held. Other members of the tournament committee are Dan Sikes, Gardner Dickinson and Mason Rudolph, all tournament players; Elbin and Secretary Leo Fraser and treasurer Warren Orlick of the PGA.

Probe Begins Over Jockey Bets, Doping

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State police placed a 24-hour guard around state veterinarian Norman Stoner Tuesday as state officials probed alleged widespread doping of horses and illegal betting by jockeys in Detroit race tracks.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley was to call a news conference in Lansing today concerning the investigation, revealed in a copyrighted story in the Detroit Free Press.

Disclosure of the investigation came on the heels of the resignation of Berry N. Beaman, State Racing Commissioner, last Thursday and followed action by a federal grand jury which subpoenaed four jockeys and a trainer Monday as witnesses in an alleged gambling conspiracy connected with a series of July 1 gambling raids made by Internal Revenue Service agents.

The Free Press said the "unimpeachable sources said the probe involves the illegal use of pain-killing drug on thoroughbred race horses and off-track betting by jockeys, both prohibited by law."

Stoner was described as initiating the investigation "when he questioned urine test results being returned by the state testing lab in Lansing."

The newspaper said the "sources said mass dopings of horses took place at the Detroit Race Course late in the 1965 thoroughbred season and at Hazel Park Raceway early in the 1966 season.

"The sources said, too, that jockeys have been placing bets with bookmakers."

$12 Million In Federal Grants

37 Sewer Projects Given Priority Order By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A total of 37 local sewer projects requiring an anticipated $12.1 million in federal grants have been put in a priority order by the state -- with half of them destined for indefinite deferment.

The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, issuing the list Tuesday with priorities based on financial ability to pay local costs as well as pollution control needs, expects only $6 million in federal grants in the foreseeable near future.

The board further stated that Congress has yet to appropriate funds for the 1967 fiscal year which already is more than a month old.

The appropriations are likely soon, however, the board noted, and said it is proposed to go ahead with the high priority projects as soon as funds are available--for applicants "who have demonstrated that they are ready to proceed with construction of sewage treatment works promptly if a grant offer is made."

The following applicants are listed in decending order of priority --and will remain eligible until the expectable $6 million in federal funds has been exhausted (first figure total cost of project, second figure federal money asked:

Cuyahoga County Sewer District 12 (Westlake), $16,658,000--$1.2 million; Stark County, Richfield Sewer District, $527,400--$58,470; Winchester, $434,930--$42,547; Ashtabula County Sewer District 2, $4,051,000 -- $755,000; Trumbull County Champion Sewer District, $3,681,000--$434,400; Cardington, $781,145--$203,991.

Caldwell, $713,517 -- $203,991; Chauncey $335,100--$96,000; Bellevue $3,437,414--$365,402; Cuyahoga County Middleburg Height Sewer District $4,036,000--$1,123,000; West Alexandria $447,200--$124,716; Beloit $282,000--$26,859; Trumbull County Hubbard - Liberty Sewer District $672,000--$84,600; Sunbury $435,320--$126,944; McConnelsville-Malta $583,435-$173,530.

Columbus Grove $428,300 -- $99,000; Payne $235,017--$64,058; Harrison $922,000--$256,000; Milan $306,100 -- $37,258; Mantua $229,500--$68,250; Gambier $89,620--$26,890; Vermilion $1,365,000 -- $353,535; Tiffin $2,836,400 -- $432,000; Coldwater $227,650 -- $68,300; Coshocton $850,000 -- $250,000.

Lightning Touches Off Fire At Gymnasium

Trials Ordered In Beaver Cases

A Beaver County grand jury Tuesday approved true bills charging John Padgett of Midland and Samuel Robinson of Beaver Falls with larceny of a motor vehicle and Edward Stowers of Industry with assault and battery.

Their cases will now be scheduled for county Criminal Court trials.

A case charging Robert W. Meyers of Hookstown with robbery of the Highway Oil Co. on Route 30 was continued because one of the key witnesses is now in the armed services.

The jury approved 13 bills yesterday and dismissed one. It will hear the remaining cases today and tour county institutions tomorrow.

Clemente Receives Bat Award From Giles

PITTSBURGH (AP)—National League President Warren Giles has presented Roberto Clemente with the silver bat award, symbolic of the Pittsburgh Pirate right fielder's 1965 batting championship.

Clemente, who hit .329 last year, was given the award Tuesday night before Pittsburgh played New York.

Jets Can Win It, Claims Namath

By TED MEIER
Asspciated Press Sports Writer

Who says so? Joe Namath, the Jets' $400,000 quarterback, that's who.

Namath, the AFL's rookie of the year, led the Jets to five victories in their last eight games in 1965, a late rush that gained the Jets second place to Buffalo in the Eastern Division, with a 5-8-1 record.

Playing in 13 games in his first pro season, the former Alabama star completed 164 of 340 passes for 2,220 yards and 18 touchdowns. If Namath improves in his second year, the Jets figure to be in contention all the way.

Namath, a native of Beaver Falls, Pa. made his views known Tuesday as the Jets prepared for their first exhibition game Saturday night at Birmingham, Ala., against the Houston Oilers.

"We have a shot at the whole deal," Namath said. "The defense looks a lot better and the offense is smarter. The flankers and the quarterbacks are working together better."

Houston opened its exhibition season last week with a 26-17 victory over Oakland, and coach Wally Lemm has Don Trull, George Bland and Jacky Lee ready to shoot at the Jets in 1-2-3 order at quarterback.

St. Louis of the National Football League, which opens this week's exhibition schedule with a Thursday night game at Detroit, announced that veteran end Sonny Sandle had signed his contract. Detroit figured in a deal with Philadelphia, which traded defensive end Jerry Mazzanti to the Lions for a future draft choice.

The Atlanta Falcons of the NFL announced that defensive end Sam Williams had changed his mind about retiring and would be fined for reporting late. The former Michigan State star had been acquired by the Falcons from Detroit in last winter's expansion draft.

End Stan Hindman of Mississippi, tackle Dave McCormick of LSU and halfback Alvin Randolph of Iowa, three college All-Stars, reported to the San Francisco 49ers, and the Green Bay Packers shifted halfback Bill Symons of Colorado to the defensive secondary in other Tuesday developments in the NFL.

Eleven exhibition games are scheduled this week, starting with the St. Louis-Detroit contest Thursday. On Friday, Green Bay and Chicago play at Milwaukee, Wis., Denver is at Buffalo and Kansas City at Miami.

On Saturday, in addition to the Jets-Houston game at Birmingham, Baltimore and Philadelphia play at New Orleans, La.; Dallas is at Los Angeles; Oakland at San Diego; Pittsburgh and Minnesota meet at Portland, Ore.; and the New York Giants tangle with Atlanta at Nashville, Tenn. On Sunday, Cleveland is at San Francisco.

Western Beaver Sets Football Physicals

Physical examinations will be given to all Western Beaver football candidates grades 9-12 Thursday at 10 a.m. at the high school. Equipment will be issued at the same time.

Cleveland Eyes Soccer Franchise

CLEVELAND, (AP) — A new National Professional Soccer League is being formed and Cleveland is among four cities seeking to join nine other American and Canadian with franchises, the Plain Dealer said today.

A league meeting next month may determine "just how many teams we'll take on," said John H. Pinton, assistant to the league president, Robert Hermann, St. Louis businessman.

The league expects to operate next April and lists as charter members New York, Boston, Hartford, Conn., Chicago, Atlanta, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Diego and Toronto. Applying for membership along with Cleveland are Philadelphia, Detroit and San Francisco.

"Most of our players will be be from overseas (Europe) at the start," Pinto said. The league would operate independently from the U.S. Soccer Football Association.

Tie For Medalist

MONTREAL (AP) — Ron Smith of Manchester, Conn., and Nick Weslock of Burlington, Ont., each shot a 71 Tuesday and tied for medalist honors in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship at 144.

$12 Million In Federal Grants

37 Sewer Projects Given Priority Order By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A total of 37 local sewer projects requiring an anticipated $12.1 million in federal grants have been put in a priority order by the state -- with half of them destined for indefinite deferment.

The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, issuing the list Tuesday with priorities based on financial ability to pay local costs as well as pollution control needs, expects only $6 million in federal grants in the foreseeable near future.

The board further stated that Congress has yet to appropriate funds for the 1967 fiscal year which already is more than a month old.

The appropriations are likely soon, however, the board noted, and said it is proposed to go ahead with the high priority projects as soon as funds are available--for applicants "who have demonstrated that they are ready to proceed with construction of sewage treatment works promptly if a grant offer is made."

The following applicants are listed in decending order of priority --and will remain eligible until the expectable $6 million in federal funds has been exhausted (first figure total cost of project, second figure federal money asked:

Cuyahoga County Sewer District 12 (Westlake), $16,658,000--$1.2 million; Stark County, Richfield Sewer District, $527,400--$58,470; Winchester, $434,930--$42,547; Ashtabula County Sewer District 2, $4,051,000 -- $755,000; Trumbull County Champion Sewer District, $3,681,000--$434,400; Cardington, $781,145--$203,991.

Caldwell, $713,517 -- $203,991; Chauncey $335,100--$96,000; Bellevue $3,437,414--$365,402; Cuyahoga County Middleburg Height Sewer District $4,036,000--$1,123,000; West Alexandria $447,200--$124,716; Beloit $282,000--$26,859; Trumbull County Hubbard - Liberty Sewer District $672,000--$84,600; Sunbury $435,320--$126,944; McConnelsville-Malta $583,435-$173,530.

Columbus Grove $428,300 -- $99,000; Payne $235,017--$64,058; Harrison $922,000--$256,000; Milan $306,100 -- $37,258; Mantua $229,500--$68,250; Gambier $89,620--$26,890; Vermilion $1,365,000 -- $353,535; Tiffin $2,836,400 -- $432,000; Coldwater $227,650 -- $68,300; Coshocton $850,000 -- $250,000.

Portsmouth $510,500--$150,150; Toledo $1,515,000-$454,500; Maple Heights $2,185,000 -- $294,000; Niles $707,008--$60,602; Montgomery County Beaver Creek Sewer District $2,79,000--$417,300; Cleveland $7,392,500--$1,546,800; Dayton $4,227,200--$1,073,100; Akron $2745,200--$820,000; $279,390; Euclid $931,300 -- $279,390; Parma $800,593--$225,482.

Lightning Touches Off Fire At Gymnasium

Trials Ordered In Beaver Cases

A Beaver County grand jury Tuesday approved true bills charging John Padgett of Midland and Samuel Robinson of Beaver Falls with larceny of a motor vehicle and Edward Stowers of Industry with assault and battery.

Their cases will now be scheduled for county Criminal Court trials.

A case charging Robert W. Meyers of Hookstown with robbery of the Highway Oil Co. on Route 30 was continued because one of the key witnesses is now in the armed services.

The jury approved 13 bills yesterday and dismissed one. It will hear the remaining cases today and tour county institutions tomorrow.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: After reading your tip about cutting through toast to make thin slices, I thought you might be interested to know of something I've been doing for a long itme to make thin bread for tea sandwiches.

Freeze the bread, then take out one slice and while it is still frozen, lay it flat on the bread board, and cut through it with a serrated knife just as you do for the toast.

If you are making just one sandwich for your own luncheon, it is quite simple. If making them for a party, be sure to keep the loaf in the freezer and take out only two or three slices at a time, because the minute the bread begins to thaw, it becomes too limp to manage.

MARY S.

Heavens to Betsy! The frozen bread can be cut through slick as a whistle. I was able even to cut neatly through the very thin sliced bread we happened to have in the freezer.

Not only a wonderful idea for dainty tea sandwiches but for all of us who are weight-watchers. We'll still have our sandwich filling "holder" and with half the calories of the regular slices.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I never can remember when my children are supposed to take their medicine. (It is usually every four hours)

I decided to put a small square piece of adhesive tape over the hour on the clock when the dosage is due. As soon as I give them one dose I remove the tape and place it over the next medicine time on the clock.

This way I never forget to give them the medicine or the time it's due.

MRS. ROY. G. SELL.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a plastic watering pot while cleaning and rinsing the bath tub.

With the watering pot, I'm able to get the right amount of water on all areas of the tub to scrub it, and it's a breeze to then rinse down the cleansing powder.

MRS. W. H. SOMERVILLE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: To avoid myhem over the trinkets in cereal boxes, our firm rule is that all trinkets belong to Mother, and she shares them with the children.

J. J.

DEAR HELOISE: A use for nylon net that I don't believe has ever been mentioned.

I bought a dust mop, and after I shook it a few times, the mop would literally fly off the handle.

Every time I dusted under a dresser or bed and the mop turned, off it would come.

I cut a small piece of nylon net, folded it several times over the handle end that came out of the mop head and put the handle back in the mop.

I want you to know I have not had any more trouble with that mop coming off and that's been at least six months.

MRS. G. H. PENLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will go over the alphabet on the outside of the telephone flip pads with colorless nail polish, it will protect the tabs.

It will not turn yellow like tape will.

Works wonders.

MARY MUNDY.
Age 10.

DEAR HELOISE: In a small kitchen, instead of using needed space for storing cooky sheets on their edge; I use the cookie sheets in the storage space as a base (or flat liner) for much-used pots and pans.

The cabinet base is never marked by the cooking pots if they are not completely polished and the cooky sheets take no extra room.

Odd Facts

Butter, grease, oil, hand cream, ball - point ink and hair oil are among the carpet stains that should be removed with a solvent cleaner, such as carbon tetrachloride or a commercial dry - cleaning product. Soak a sponge in the cleaner and blot, don't rub the stain. Follow immediately with absorbent action, using facial tissues or paper towels. Use gentle motions and repeat the cleaning process if necessary.

To remove candlewax from furniture, chill with a piece of ice. Crumble off wax with your finger. Scrape gently with dull edge of knife. Apply a cream wax, rub well; dry with a soft cloth.

Use ordinary loaf pans to help keep your pantry shelves neat. Consolidate your various seasonings for salad dressings in one, your baking powder, flavorings and cake decorations in another, etc.

Pennsylvania GIs Would Get Tax Break On Automobiles

There was no debate on the measure as it cleared by a vote of 201-0 and went to the Senate.

Under the proposal, any Pennsylvanian who serves in the armed forces more than two years could purchase a car outside the state without paying the state's 5 per cent sales tax if he retains ownership for more than one year.

Under present law, he must pay the tax on the fair market value of the car when he returns to Pennsylvania after being discharged from service.

In other action, the House passed a $300,000 appropriation for construction and renovation of youth forestry campus after defeating an amendment offered by Rep. Joseph J. Armstrong, D-Philadelphia.

Armstrong sought to add $346,000 for construction of cabins and establishment of additional campsites and recreational facilities at state parks. The amendment fell, 42-151, and the bill passed, 199-1, with Rep. George W. Alexander, R Clarion, the lone dissenter.

The House later adopted a resolution which ordered a study of the need for expanding and adding to the state's camping facilities.

The House passed the following other appropriations:

— $32,500 for restoration of a covered bridge carrying Township Route 357 over Loyalsock Creek in Hillsgrove Twp., Sullivan County, sent to the Governor by a vote of 183-15.

— $3,750 to the Erie County Volunteer Firemen's Association Inc., for establishment and operation of a regional training school for firemen at Edinboro State College, sent to the Governor on a vote of 199-2.

Teacher Suffers Fractured Leg In Fall From Ladder

The accident occurred Monday noon when the bottom section of a 40-foot extension ladder gave way while he was working at the Earl Richardson home on the East Liverpool Rd. Herrod fell about 20 feet.

Lisbon volunteer firemen took him to Salem City Hospital by ambulance. He was transferred to Youngstown and underwent surgery Monday night.

No Good Suggestions

NEW DELHI (AP) — After a one - year trial, the Home Ministry decided its suggestion box scheme was not going to work. It said no suggestions entered were worthy of the cash prize offered. Officials said they were considering using the boxes for waste baskets.

Premier Has Air Of Increasing Confidence

Ky Warming Up To Viet Elections

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Apparently reluctant no longer, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is warming up to South Viet Nam's elections for a Constitutional Assembly, now only a month away.

With an air of increasing confidence, the 35-year-old military boss is playing a hard game of domestic politics. Even his critics agree the dapper air vice marshal is promoting the Sept. 11 elections now, although he only grudgingly accepted the idea last April, at the height of a Buddhist crisis.

Ky recently placed his senior colleagues before the press for a comprehensive, rose-tinted state of the nation report — military, political and economic.

He followed up with speeches and public appearances. He has seen a stream of callers, foreign and Vietnamese. He has ordered the military governors of the nation's 43 provinces to call in local notables and explain what the elections are about. By all accounts, those meetings were well-attended, frequently in such neutral settings as schoolhouses.

Ky also summoned all province chiefs to Saigon for a three-day election conference, attended by other military — and civilian — leaders. Ky opened the meetings by pledging honest voting supervised by candidates, civil servants, students and military cadets.

Ky also permitted his former chief rival, Gen. Nguyen Chan Thi, to fly to the United States for an indefinite visit, despite an embarrassing six-month prison sentence Thi incurred for guessing wrong.

All this has given rise to some optimism about the elections. The optimism is most noticeable at the U.S. Embassy, which likes to dispatch good news to President Johnson.

On the other side of the ledger is the skeptical view of some officials, both Vietnamese and American, that the premier is engaged primarily in an astute maneuver to sugarcoat his military rule and retain power.

Ky's statement that he would not be a presidential candidate in any future election has not dispelled the idea he will be. While Ky remains air force commander, as he says he will, the aloof little man with the well-trimmed mustache will be a power in Saigon.

Some facts of Vietnamese life cloud the prospects for civilian rule. It is difficult to envision an anti-Communist government in South Viet Nam which would not be under profound military influence.

Apart from the Viet Cong, military forces comprise the only nationwide political force of any effectiveness, with the possible exception of the minority Roman Catholics. Buddhists, Confucianists and other sects making up the majority are fragmented and have yet to produce either positive programs or appealing leadership. The labor movement is politically feeble. So-called independent politicians have not ignited any significant section of public opinion, even in cities where some have relatively large followings.

The elections are not designed to oust soldiers from government life, but rather to produce an anti-Communist assembly with the specific — and only — task of writing a constitution.

The assembly will have 117 seats. Nine will be filled by mountain tribesmen, four by border people of Cambodian extraction, and 104 will be elected by the rest of the population.

Despite the complications, more than 700 candidates applied. The military screening committee, appointed by the regime, accepted 629, after eliminating those deemed to be tainted by communism or neutralism.

Businesses In Pennsylvania Warned On Holiday Closing

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House warned Pennsylvania business establishments in a resolution Tuesday that unless they close on holidays, restrictive legislation may be enacted.

The resolution, adopted by voice vote, urged businesses to close on Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, Independence Day, Labor Day and Veterans Day, in order to allow their employes to spend the time with their families.

"It is important that families observe these days together...," the resolution read in part.

The House said it hoped it would not have reason to consider "restrictive legislation to force closing of business establishments on such religious and patriotic days."

The House also concurred in a Senate resolution urging the continuance of a Joint State Government Commission advisory committee studying decendents' estates laws.

Other resolutions adopted:

— Called on the Department of Highways to study conditions of Route 115 between Bear Creek and Wilkes-Barre and prepare plans for safety improvements.

— Acknowledged the gallantry of Specialist David C. Dolby of Oaks, Montgomery County, who has been recommended for the Medal of Honor for heroism in Viet Nam.

Missionaries Will Be Heard

The annual Missionary Day observance will be held during Friday services at the Hollow Rock campgrounds. It will feature World Gospel Society missionaries from several countries as speakers.

The missionary offering usually exceeds $20,000.

The speaker at Tuesday night's service was the Rev. Charles Williams of Washington Court House, Ohio. Speaker for tonight's service will be Dr. Harold Loman of Salisbury, N. C.

Thursday's tabernacle preachers will include Dr. T. M. Anderson of Wilmore, Ky., at 9:30 a. m.; Rev. Williams, 10:30; Dr. Loman, 2:30 p. m., and the Rev. Don Humble, of Piketon, Ohio, 7:30.

4-H Dairy Group Plans Field Trip

LISBON — Columbiana County 4-H Dairy Club members and their parents will make a field trip Monday to the Horace Stewart farm near Jewett.

Stewart received national recognition last year for his outstanding work in the dairy industry, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent for 4-H.

Lewis said the group will stop at Cadiz to view the Hanna Coal Co.'s "Silver Spade" power shovel. Hanna officials are arranging for the tourists to inspect the surface mine.

The county club has 97 members.

Valuable Walnut

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Department of Natural Resources is trying to stem the decreasing supply of black walnut, the most valuable timber species in the state. The department has launched a project to get 1,000,000 seedlings planted this year in hopes the supply will catch up with the demand.

Group's Told There Will Be No Road Snag

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Highways Secretary Henry D. Harral Tuesday assured a delegation of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence county legislators the Beaver Valley Expressway will not be delayed if the roadway is rerouted by the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

"Only the first section would be affected if the new route is granted," Harral said. "And if there is a delay on the first section, the expressway still would tie directly into the Penn - Lincoln Parkway over the existing usable roadway."

The delegation included Reps. Charles Stone of Hopewell, Beaver County, Ronald Lench of Beaver Falls, Donald Fox of Enon Valley, Lawrence County House Speaker Robert K. Hamilton of Ambridge, and Sens. Ernest Kline of Beaver Falls and Donald O. Oesterling

This is Crucible

Today an all-out effort is being made to reduce automobile accidents. Pennsylvania, for example recently introduced a new point system for driving violations. It's designed to keep closer control on chronic violators, and, at the same time, encourage greater safe driving care among all licensed operators. In Detroit, the automotive industry is adding more and better safety devices to its new models. And at Crucible, a big supplier to the auto industry, we are aware of the greater need for consistently top quality steel. Nowhere is this more recognized than in the Forge Stock department, at Midland Works, where employes like Samuel Prince turn out steering knuckles — an essential part of every automobile. All these are efforts being made by others to help keep us safe, but ultimately, the responsibility for safety on the highways must and does belong to each of us.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: After reading your tip about cutting through toast to make thin slices, I thought you might be interested to know of something I've been doing for a long itme to make thin bread for tea sandwiches.

Freeze the bread, then take out one slice and while it is still frozen, lay it flat on the bread board, and cut through it with a serrated knife just as you do for the toast.

If you are making just one sandwich for your own luncheon, it is quite simple. If making them for a party, be sure to keep the loaf in the freezer and take out only two or three slices at a time, because the minute the bread begins to thaw, it becomes too limp to manage.

MARY S.

Heavens to Betsy! The frozen bread can be cut through slick as a whistle. I was able even to cut neatly through the very thin sliced bread we happened to have in the freezer.

Not only a wonderful idea for dainty tea sandwiches but for all of us who are weight-watchers. We'll still have our sandwich filling "holder" and with half the calories of the regular slices.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I never can remember when my children are supposed to take their medicine. (It is usually every four hours)

I decided to put a small square piece of adhesive tape over the hour on the clock when the dosage is due. As soon as I give them one dose I remove the tape and place it over the next medicine time on the clock.

This way I never forget to give them the medicine or the time it's due.

MRS. ROY. G. SELL.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a plastic watering pot while cleaning and rinsing the bath tub.

With the watering pot, I'm able to get the right amount of water on all areas of the tub to scrub it, and it's a breeze to then rinse down the cleansing powder.

MRS. W. H. SOMERVILLE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: To avoid myhem over the trinkets in cereal boxes, our firm rule is that all trinkets belong to Mother, and she shares them with the children.

J. J.

DEAR HELOISE: A use for nylon net that I don't believe has ever been mentioned.

I bought a dust mop, and after I shook it a few times, the mop would literally fly off the handle.

Every time I dusted under a dresser or bed and the mop turned, off it would come.

I cut a small piece of nylon net, folded it several times over the handle end that came out of the mop head and put the handle back in the mop.

I want you to know I have not had any more trouble with that mop coming off and that's been at least six months.

MRS. G. H. PENLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will go over the alphabet on the outside of the telephone flip pads with colorless nail polish, it will protect the tabs.

It will not turn yellow like tape will.

Works wonders.

MARY MUNDY.
Age 10.

DEAR HELOISE: In a small kitchen, instead of using needed space for storing cooky sheets on their edge; I use the cookie sheets in the storage space as a base (or flat liner) for much-used pots and pans.

The cabinet base is never marked by the cooking pots if they are not completely polished and the cooky sheets take no extra room.

Odd Facts

Butter, grease, oil, hand cream, ball - point ink and hair oil are among the carpet stains that should be removed with a solvent cleaner, such as carbon tetrachloride or a commercial dry - cleaning product. Soak a sponge in the cleaner and blot, don't rub the stain. Follow immediately with absorbent action, using facial tissues or paper towels. Use gentle motions and repeat the cleaning process if necessary.

To remove candlewax from furniture, chill with a piece of ice. Crumble off wax with your finger. Scrape gently with dull edge of knife. Apply a cream wax, rub well; dry with a soft cloth.

Use ordinary loaf pans to help keep your pantry shelves neat. Consolidate your various seasonings for salad dressings in one, your baking powder, flavorings and cake decorations in another, etc.

Pennsylvania GIs Would Get Tax Break On Automobiles

There was no debate on the measure as it cleared by a vote of 201-0 and went to the Senate.

Under the proposal, any Pennsylvanian who serves in the armed forces more than two years could purchase a car outside the state without paying the state's 5 per cent sales tax if he retains ownership for more than one year.

Under present law, he must pay the tax on the fair market value of the car when he returns to Pennsylvania after being discharged from service.

In other action, the House passed a $300,000 appropriation for construction and renovation of youth forestry campus after defeating an amendment offered by Rep. Joseph J. Armstrong, D-Philadelphia.

Armstrong sought to add $346,000 for construction of cabins and establishment of additional campsites and recreational facilities at state parks. The amendment fell, 42-151, and the bill passed, 199-1, with Rep. George W. Alexander, R Clarion, the lone dissenter.

The House later adopted a resolution which ordered a study of the need for expanding and adding to the state's camping facilities.

The House passed the following other appropriations:

— $32,500 for restoration of a covered bridge carrying Township Route 357 over Loyalsock Creek in Hillsgrove Twp., Sullivan County, sent to the Governor by a vote of 183-15.

— $3,750 to the Erie County Volunteer Firemen's Association Inc., for establishment and operation of a regional training school for firemen at Edinboro State College, sent to the Governor on a vote of 199-2.

Teacher Suffers Fractured Leg In Fall From Ladder

The accident occurred Monday noon when the bottom section of a 40-foot extension ladder gave way while he was working at the Earl Richardson home on the East Liverpool Rd. Herrod fell about 20 feet.

Lisbon volunteer firemen took him to Salem City Hospital by ambulance. He was transferred to Youngstown and underwent surgery Monday night.

No Good Suggestions

NEW DELHI (AP) — After a one - year trial, the Home Ministry decided its suggestion box scheme was not going to work. It said no suggestions entered were worthy of the cash prize offered. Officials said they were considering using the boxes for waste baskets.

Premier Has Air Of Increasing Confidence

Ky Warming Up To Viet Elections

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Apparently reluctant no longer, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is warming up to South Viet Nam's elections for a Constitutional Assembly, now only a month away.

With an air of increasing confidence, the 35-year-old military boss is playing a hard game of domestic politics. Even his critics agree the dapper air vice marshal is promoting the Sept. 11 elections now, although he only grudgingly accepted the idea last April, at the height of a Buddhist crisis.

Ky recently placed his senior colleagues before the press for a comprehensive, rose-tinted state of the nation report — military, political and economic.

He followed up with speeches and public appearances. He has seen a stream of callers, foreign and Vietnamese. He has ordered the military governors of the nation's 43 provinces to call in local notables and explain what the elections are about. By all accounts, those meetings were well-attended, frequently in such neutral settings as schoolhouses.

Ky also summoned all province chiefs to Saigon for a three-day election conference, attended by other military — and civilian — leaders. Ky opened the meetings by pledging honest voting supervised by candidates, civil servants, students and military cadets.

Ky also permitted his former chief rival, Gen. Nguyen Chan Thi, to fly to the United States for an indefinite visit, despite an embarrassing six-month prison sentence Thi incurred for guessing wrong.

All this has given rise to some optimism about the elections. The optimism is most noticeable at the U.S. Embassy, which likes to dispatch good news to President Johnson.

On the other side of the ledger is the skeptical view of some officials, both Vietnamese and American, that the premier is engaged primarily in an astute maneuver to sugarcoat his military rule and retain power.

Ky's statement that he would not be a presidential candidate in any future election has not dispelled the idea he will be. While Ky remains air force commander, as he says he will, the aloof little man with the well-trimmed mustache will be a power in Saigon.

Some facts of Vietnamese life cloud the prospects for civilian rule. It is difficult to envision an anti-Communist government in South Viet Nam which would not be under profound military influence.

Apart from the Viet Cong, military forces comprise the only nationwide political force of any effectiveness, with the possible exception of the minority Roman Catholics. Buddhists, Confucianists and other sects making up the majority are fragmented and have yet to produce either positive programs or appealing leadership. The labor movement is politically feeble. So-called independent politicians have not ignited any significant section of public opinion, even in cities where some have relatively large followings.

The elections are not designed to oust soldiers from government life, but rather to produce an anti-Communist assembly with the specific — and only — task of writing a constitution.

The assembly will have 117 seats. Nine will be filled by mountain tribesmen, four by border people of Cambodian extraction, and 104 will be elected by the rest of the population.

Despite the complications, more than 700 candidates applied. The military screening committee, appointed by the regime, accepted 629, after eliminating those deemed to be tainted by communism or neutralism.

Businesses In Pennsylvania Warned On Holiday Closing

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House warned Pennsylvania business establishments in a resolution Tuesday that unless they close on holidays, restrictive legislation may be enacted.

The resolution, adopted by voice vote, urged businesses to close on Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, Independence Day, Labor Day and Veterans Day, in order to allow their employes to spend the time with their families.

"It is important that families observe these days together...," the resolution read in part.

The House said it hoped it would not have reason to consider "restrictive legislation to force closing of business establishments on such religious and patriotic days."

The House also concurred in a Senate resolution urging the continuance of a Joint State Government Commission advisory committee studying decendents' estates laws.

Other resolutions adopted:

— Called on the Department of Highways to study conditions of Route 115 between Bear Creek and Wilkes-Barre and prepare plans for safety improvements.

— Acknowledged the gallantry of Specialist David C. Dolby of Oaks, Montgomery County, who has been recommended for the Medal of Honor for heroism in Viet Nam.

4-H Dairy Group Plans Field Trip

LISBON — Columbiana County 4-H Dairy Club members and their parents will make a field trip Monday to the Horace Stewart farm near Jewett.

Stewart received national recognition last year for his outstanding work in the dairy industry, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent for 4-H.

Lewis said the group will stop at Cadiz to view the Hanna Coal Co.'s "Silver Spade" power shovel. Hanna officials are arranging for the tourists to inspect the surface mine.

The county club has 97 members.

Valuable Walnut

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Department of Natural Resources is trying to stem the decreasing supply of black walnut, the most valuable timber species in the state. The department has launched a project to get 1,000,000 seedlings planted this year in hopes the supply will catch up with the demand.

Group's Told There Will Be No Road Snag

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Highways Secretary Henry D. Harral Tuesday assured a delegation of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence county legislators the Beaver Valley Expressway will not be delayed if the roadway is rerouted by the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

"Only the first section would be affected if the new route is granted," Harral said. "And if there is a delay on the first section, the expressway still would tie directly into the Penn - Lincoln Parkway over the existing usable roadway."

The delegation included Reps. Charles Stone of Hopewell, Beaver County, Ronald Lench of Beaver Falls, Donald Fox of Enon Valley, Lawrence County House Speaker Robert K. Hamilton of Ambridge, and Sens. Ernest Kline of Beaver Falls and Donald O. Oesterling

Today an all-out effort is being made to reduce automobile accidents. Pennsylvania, for example recently introduced a new point system for driving violations. It's designed to keep closer control on chronic violators, and, at the same time, encourage greater safe driving care among all licensed operators. In Detroit, the automotive industry is adding more and better safety devices to its new models. And at Crucible, a big supplier to the auto industry, we are aware of the greater need for consistently top quality steel. Nowhere is this more recognized than in the Forge Stock department, at Midland Works, where employes like Samuel Prince turn out steering knuckles — an essential part of every automobile. All these are efforts being made by others to help keep us safe, but ultimately, the responsibility for safety on the highways must and does belong to each of us.

Veterans' Job Rights Are Outlined

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Federal employment preference and private and government job reinstatement rights are now granted to most cold war veterans on the same basis as to veterans of World Wars I and II and Korea.

You are eligible for federal employment preference if you have served 181 days on active duty since Jan. 31, 1955, or if you're a veteran of World War I or II or Korea or have served in a peacetime campaign or expedition for which a badge or service medal is authorized.

Veterans disabled in service are eligible regardless of how long they have served on active duty or when.

ACTIVE DUTY for training purposes such as that undertaken by reservists does not count.

For eligible veterans, five points are added to a passing score in competitive examinations for jobs in the federal civil service.

Veterans awarded a Purple Heart for a wound received in action, or who now have a service-connected disability, or who receive compensation, disability retirement benefits or a pension receive a 10-point preference.

In addition to the point preference, time in active military service is credited toward the experience required for an assortment of government positions. That is, military experience gives you the equivalent of seniority in experience in the type of position held before service. Actual experience gained in the armed forces also counts toward eligibility for appropriate government jobs.

In most instances, age, height and weight restrictions are waived for veterans applying for civil service jobs.

Veterans already in federal employment have "preference for retention" when a reduction in force takes place.

In some cases, a 10 - point veteran's preference for federal civil service jobs may be authorized for the wife of a veteran with a service-connected disability, the unremarried widow of a veteran, the mother of a deceased veteran and the mother of a veteran with a service-connected disability which is total and permanent.

Federal civil service representatives are located in most first- and second-class post offices. They can provide you more detailed information.

IF YOU have left your job (unless it's a temporary post) to enter the U. S. armed services as a volunteer, draftee or reservist, you have specific reemployment rights.

To be eligible, you must have served no more than four years of active duty, unless the additional service is imposed by law. Furthermore, upon separation you must be qualified to perform the duties of your former job.

If you meet these qualifications, you are guaranteed your former private or government job, or a job of like seniority, status and pay.

There's an exception, however. In private employment, you get your old job back unless "things have so changed as to make restoration impossible or unreasonable."

If your private employer refuses to re-employ you, you should contact the U. S. Department of Labor's Office of Veterans' Re - employment Rights through the nearest state employment office.

Veterans denied their federal re-employment rights should contact the nearest regional office of the Civil Service Commission.

The federal government offers five services to veterans looking for work:

Job counseling.
Job training.
Precedence in job referrals.
Unemployment benefits.
Vocational rehabilitation.

There is a part-time or full-time local veterans' employment representative in almost 2,000 local State Employment Service offices in the 50 states. These men are expected to give special help to veterans.

Cross-Country Balloonist Due To Continue Hop

ARCHBOLD, Ohio (AP)— A little leery about possibly being blown out over Lake Erie, cross-country balloonists Tracy Barnes planned to leave at daybreak today on his latest high-altitude hop eastward, given good weather.

With good westerly winds, though, the balloonist figured to waft over the Bowling Green and Fremont areas this morning.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average about 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Representative normal highs and lows: Columbus 86-62, Cleveland 82-59, Cincinnati 87-66. Little daily temperature change. Precipitation will average between one-half and one inch as showers and thundershowers Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Man Fined And Jailed For Drunken Driving

Allen I. Clark of 1186 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in City Jail after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him in a lengthy hearing Tuesday on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also suspended Clark's operator's permit for 60 days. Clark, who pleaded not guilty, was represented by Bernard Fineman. He was arrested July 31 at 3:13 a. m. at the Valley Trailer Court on Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Clark entered the innocent plea at arraignment Aug. 2. He had been free on a $507.50 bond pending his trial.

Fitting Celebration

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — It was a sentimental evening for Mr. and Mrs. Les Hart when they attended a Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey show here. The couple first met exactly 25 years ago while at a night performance of the same circus.

Honors Received By Daughter Of Local Residents

The daughter of an East Liverpool couple has been honored as "Woman of the Year" by the Euclid (Ohio) Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

She is Mrs. Phyllis E. Coss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heiney of 1021 St. George St.

Mrs. Coss is a graduate of Wellsville High School, the Heineys having lived there before coming to East Liverpool.

Mrs. Coss, current president of the Euclid chapter, received the award for "progress made in her field of business." Church activities, family life and other interests figured in the selection.

An accounting adjuster in the advertising department of the Forest City Publishing Co., Mrs. Coss now becomes a contender for the national title "American Business Woman of the Year."

The winner will be selected during the national convention in Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 14-16.

To Board Prexy

MCLEAN, Texas (AP) — Mrs. Vera Featherston Back is an example of the school teacher's adage that if you teach long enough one of your students may become your boss. "I will have two Haynes children again next fall — grandchildren of the generation I first taught," she says. "And a second - generation Haynes is president of our school board."

Youth Councils Plan Dance Monday Night

LISBON — The Columbiana County Farm Bureau Youth Councils will sponsor a county-wide dance Monday night at Mt. Nebo Grange on Route 45, north of Lisbon.

Darwin Bryan of Columbus, Ohio Farm Bureau youth director, will be in charge of round and square dancing and musical games.

The youth councils invite 4-H'ers and Junior Grangers to attend. Lunch will be served.

Throughout the U.S. There are still about 3.5 million rural dwellings without telephone service.

Too Many Things To Do

'This Cluttered World'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are too many things to do in this cluttered world.

Ever sit down and catalog the things you might like to have gotten done but didn't because you were simply too busy doing something else?

Here is list of unachieved daydreams by one man who, well past life's halfway mark, is amazed to discover he has never:

Had a tete-a-tete with a two-headed girl.

Smoked hashish.

Spent an evening in a Turkish harem.

Gotten looped in Chicago's Loop.

Received a blood transfusion, or been invited to dinner by a friendly banker.

Pawned anything.

Made love in a canoe, a sampan, or a royal barge on the Nile.

Read "Les Miserables," "The Last Days of Pompeii," or any novel written by Bertha M. Clay or Jean-Paul Sartre.

Acquired a black eye as the result of asking a Scotsman what he wore under his kilt.

Knocked over a stack of canned dog food in a supermarket.

Been made a Kentucky colonel, awarded an honorary degree by Harvard, or appeared as a mystery guest on the "What's My Line?" television show.

Required the services either of a stomach pump or a psychiatrist.

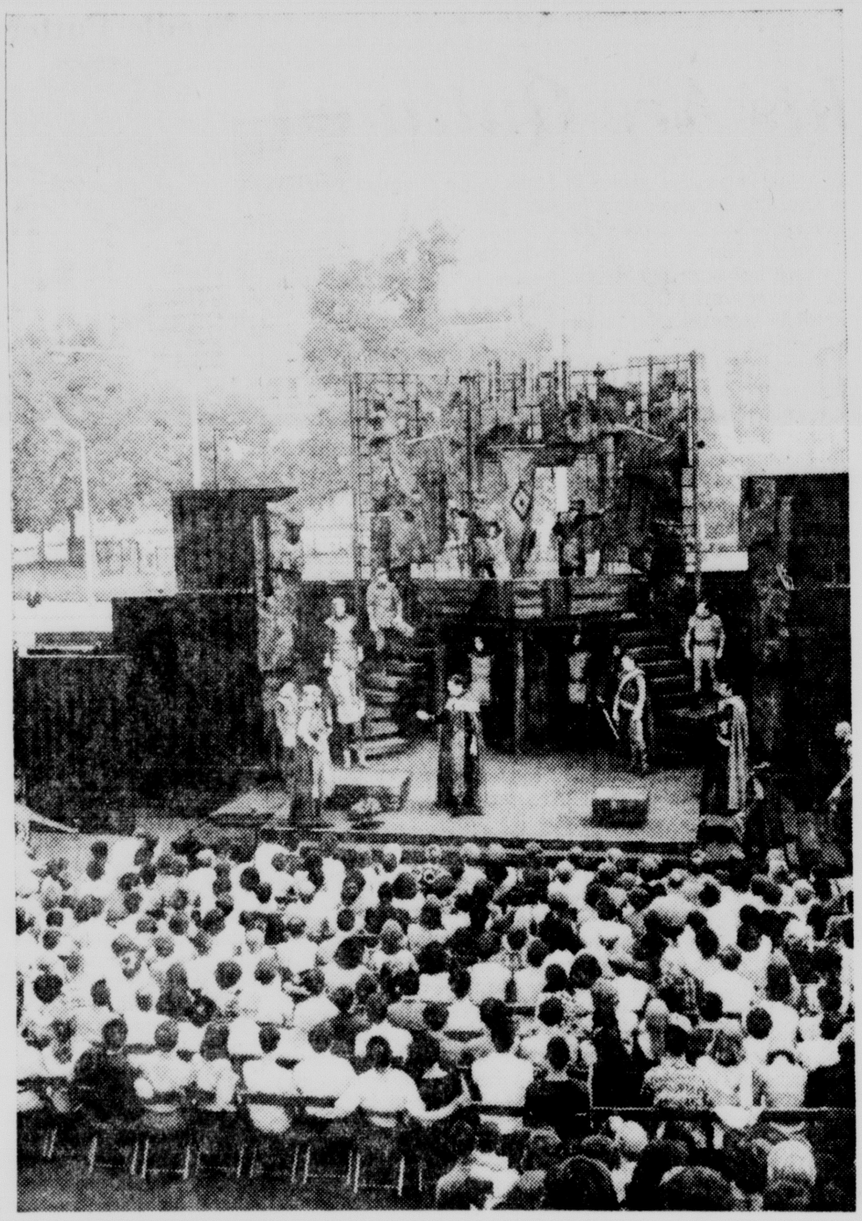
Sounds rather like a misspent life, doesn't it? When a fellow gets right down to it, it's pretty hard sometimes for him to figure out just what he has done with all his time on earth.



SHAKESPEARE ON WHEELS is the story in New York City, where a mobile company of actors performs in city parks. Their theatre, erected in three hours, can seat up to 1,600 at a showing.

New Trustee Elected By Democratic Club

Mrs. Painter succeeds County Recorder John P. Wargo, who resigned when he moved to Lisbon outside the club's territory.

President John Risbeck of North Georgetown was in charge.

The next meeting will be Sept. 12 at Franklin School in Summitville, with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Young host and hostess.

Free X-Rays Offered During Palestine Fair

LISBON — A chest X-ray cruiser sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League (the tuberculosis association) will have a unit at the East Palestine street fair Friday and Saturday.

It will be stationed at the American Legion home and will be in operation from 1 to 4 and 6 to 9 p. m. both days. Free X-rays are offered anyone over 18.

When making jelly, four layers of cheesecloth will do just as well for straining the juice as a jelly bag.

Goldfish should be fed daily, but only just the amount of food they will promptly consume.

Veterans' Job Rights Are Outlined

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Federal employment preference and private and government job reinstatement rights are now granted to most cold war veterans on the same basis as to veterans of World Wars I and II and Korea.

You are eligible for federal employment preference if you have served 181 days on active duty since Jan. 31, 1955, or if you're a veteran of World War I or II or Korea or have served in a peacetime campaign or expedition for which a badge or service medal is authorized.

Veterans disabled in service are eligible regardless of how long they have served on active duty or when.

ACTIVE DUTY for training purposes such as that undertaken by reservists does not count.

For eligible veterans, five points are added to a passing score in competitive examinations for jobs in the federal civil service.

Veterans awarded a Purple Heart for a wound received in action, or who now have a service-connected disability, or who receive compensation, disability retirement benefits or a pension receive a 10-point preference.

In addition to the point preference, time in active military service is credited toward the experience required for an assortment of government positions. That is, military experience gives you the equivalent of seniority in experience in the type of position held before service. Actual experience gained in the armed forces also counts toward eligibility for appropriate government jobs.

In most instances, age, height and weight restrictions are waived for veterans applying for civil service jobs.

Veterans already in federal employment have "preference for retention" when a reduction in force takes place.

In some cases, a 10 - point veteran's preference for federal civil service jobs may be authorized for the wife of a veteran with a service-connected disability, the unremarried widow of a veteran, the mother of a deceased veteran and the mother of a veteran with a service-connected disability which is total and permanent.

Federal civil service representatives are located in most first- and second-class post offices. They can provide you more detailed information.

IF YOU have left your job (unless it's a temporary post) to enter the U. S. armed services as a volunteer, draftee or reservist, you have specific reemployment rights.

To be eligible, you must have served no more than four years of active duty, unless the additional service is imposed by law. Furthermore, upon separation you must be qualified to perform the duties of your former job.

If you meet these qualifications, you are guaranteed your former private or government job, or a job of like seniority, status and pay.

There's an exception, however. In private employment, you get your old job back unless "things have so changed as to make restoration impossible or unreasonable."

If your private employer refuses to re-employ you, you should contact the U. S. Department of Labor's Office of Veterans' Re - employment Rights through the nearest state employment office.

Veterans denied their federal re-employment rights should contact the nearest regional office of the Civil Service Commission.

The federal government offers five services to veterans looking for work:

Job counseling.
Job training.
Precedence in job referrals.
Unemployment benefits.
Vocational rehabilitation.

There is a part-time or full-time local veterans' employment representative in almost 2,000 local State Employment Service offices in the 50 states. These men are expected to give special help to veterans.

Cross-Country Balloonist Due To Continue Hop

With good westerly winds, though, the balloonist figured to waft over the Bowling Green and Fremont areas this morning.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average about 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Representative normal highs and lows: Columbus 86-62, Cleveland 82-59, Cincinnati 87-66. Little daily temperature change. Precipitation will average between one-half and one inch as showers and thundershowers Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Degree From Dad

Man Fined And Jailed For Drunken Driving

Allen I. Clark of 1186 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in City Jail after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him in a lengthy hearing Tuesday on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also suspended Clark's operator's permit for 60 days. Clark, who pleaded not guilty, was represented by Bernard Fineman. He was arrested July 31 at 3:13 a. m. at the Valley Trailer Court on Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Clark entered the innocent plea at arraignment Aug. 2. He had been free on a $507.50 bond pending his trial.

Fitting Celebration

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — It was a sentimental evening for Mr. and Mrs. Les Hart when they attended a Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey show here. The couple first met exactly 25 years ago while at a night performance of the same circus.

Honors Received By Daughter Of Local Residents

The daughter of an East Liverpool couple has been honored as "Woman of the Year" by the Euclid (Ohio) Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Mrs. Coss is a graduate of Wellsville High School, the Heineys having lived there before coming to East Liverpool.

Mrs. Coss, current president of the Euclid chapter, received the award for "progress made in her field of business." Church activities, family life and other interests figured in the selection.

An accounting adjuster in the advertising department of the Forest City Publishing Co., Mrs. Coss now becomes a contender for the national title "American Business Woman of the Year."

The winner will be selected during the national convention in Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 14-16.

To Board Prexy

MCLEAN, Texas (AP) — Mrs. Vera Featherston Back is an example of the school teacher's adage that if you teach long enough one of your students may become your boss. "I will have two Haynes children again next fall — grandchildren of the generation I first taught," she says. "And a second - generation Haynes is president of our school board."

Youth Councils Plan Dance Monday Night

LISBON — The Columbiana County Farm Bureau Youth Councils will sponsor a county-wide dance Monday night at Mt. Nebo Grange on Route 45, north of Lisbon.

Darwin Bryan of Columbus, Ohio Farm Bureau youth director, will be in charge of round and square dancing and musical games.

The youth councils invite 4-H'ers and Junior Grangers to attend. Lunch will be served.

Throughout the U.S. There are still about 3.5 million rural dwellings without telephone service.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Should Learn To Finish Jobs

Many a boy or girl is stimulated in a Scout Troop, Campfire Girls or 4-H Club to begin a project he or she will never finish. Too often the leader of such groups makes little or no effort to make sure the child will see the project through, nor to win the parents to help to this end. Tennyson might have been right — "Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all." But rarely is it better to have begun a job and not to finish it than never to have started it at all.

Dr. Garry Myers

Before your child obligates himself to undertake a project, consider with him whether he is able to see it through and the likelihood that he will. If you are pretty sure in your own mind that he will not see it through, you might be wise to dissuade him from beginning it, even to forbid his starting it, in some extreme instances.

SOMETIMES a little help at the beginning of the project will suffice. Sometimes some help and encouragement when his interest first wanes might work. Many projects require his attention at certain times, as does a garden project. Sometimes you may have persuasive powers to egg him on at the right time.

There may be times when you should, if you have the resources, require your child to go on with the project to its completion. Seeing you can neither persuade nor require him to finish the project, it might be better to induce him to abandon it entirely than to go on with it in a half-hearted hit-or-miss fashion.

Suppose your son agrees to mow the neighbor's lawn at regular intervals but grows negligent of this job. Either require him to do this job faithfully and well or to give it up entirely. Suppose you have hired a stranger to mow your lawn and your son wants to do this job at the same pay. Consider his likelihood of doing it regularly and well before agreeing to take him on.

Make clear to your son at what intervals it must be mowed and how the borders must be neatly trimmed. It is very important that your child mowing your lawn for pay, or as a family obligation, shall learn to finish the job doing neatly all the trimming. Then hold him to those standards; be exacting.

SOME WHILE ago I pointed out the desirability of training your child old enough to do the dishes, to do the whole job up to the last pot and pan and to tidying up the kitchen. All too many mothers encourage the child to leave these finishing jobs to her. If your child is helping you in the garden, see that he stays on the job till the last tool is put away.

Whether your child is 5, 9 or 14, have him learn early and continually to clean up the scraps, put everything away, and tidy up the place after he has finished making something. Even after your child has done his homework on an evening, he needs to learn to put everything away before leaving the job.

You are on a family picnic. Before leaving for home, every child who is able should be required to help clear up everything and pack all materials in the car before leaving for home. The main purpose is not to ease the burdens of the parents but to exercise the children in responsibility for helping finish the job.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Shapp Brands Milk Increase 'Profiteering'

Shapp said Tuesday that the consumer price increases of two and three cents a quart by processors are "almost" double the increase of 50 cents a hundredweight paid dairy farmers.

Meanwhile, said Shapp, the processors say the retail increase is due to increases paid farmers.

Shapp rapped what he called the lack of action by his opponent, Lt. Gov. Raymond Shafer, on the retail increase. With Gov. Scranton vacationing in Europe, Shapp said, Shafer has an obligation "at the very least" to get the facts before the consumers.

"As governor I intend to halt the practice of one-way regulation (of milk price controls) at the expense of the consumer."

Shapp said that although milk price control laws are supposed to protect the consumer and the dairy farmer, they "protect the interests of the big processors."

He said the action by processors in Western Pennsylvania and in the Philadelphia area a short time ago "speaks volumes about the true nature of the present milk control laws and their enforcement."

Tuesday night, however, Lt. Gov. Shafer said he has asked the Milk Control Commission to open emergency hearings on the price increases announced by three major Pittsburgh dairies.

Shafer said he wanted the hearings held "to obtain all the facts and factors involved" in the price increase.

Access Road Okayed To Campus In Beaver

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority approved Tuesday the construction of an access road at the Beaver County campus of Pennsylvania State University at a cost of $250,000.

The project was recommended by Sens. James S. Berger, R—Potter, and Stanley G. Stroup, R — Bedford, and House Speaker Robert K. Hamilton, D—Beaver.

It was approved without dissent.

The GSA executive board was told that the road was necessary for service and fire access from buildings at the campus to be completed in 1967-68.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 31, 1966.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES BY THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PURCHASING LAND AND BUILDINGS AT THE NORTHEAST CORNER OF DEWEY AVENUE AND PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE AND DECLARING THE NECESSITY OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR SUCH PURPOSE.

WHEREAS, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the property and improvement proposed to be purchased and constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to and of the notes to be issued in anticipation of said bonds, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as exceeding ten years and has further certified the maximum maturity of such bonds as exceeding ten years and such notes as five years.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of East Liverpool, in the principal sum of $95,000.00 for the payment of the cost of purchasing the following land and buildings to provide for the storage of City motor vehicles, equipment and supplies and departmental offices, to-wit:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, and known as and being two tracts of land, one of which fronts 237.42 feet on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue and extends back along the east side of Dewey Avenue a distance of 500 feet and is known as the "Car Barn Property". The second tract being a strip of ground averaging forty feet in width and fronts on Dewey Avenue and extends easterly along the North end of the "Carn Barn Property" a distance of approximately 300 feet. Said premises are described in Volume 999, Page 229, Record of Deeds, Columbiana County, Ohio, presently in the name of Edwin S. Morse, Trustee.

SECTION 2. That said bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in said principal sum of Ninety-Five Thousand Dollars ($95,000.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be of the demomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) and shall be dated approximately the first day of September, 1967; shall bear interest at not to exceed four per centum per annum; said bonds shall mature as follows:

In substantially equal annual installments over a period of ten years from 1968 to 1977 inclusive.

SECTION 3. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of Ninety-Five Thousand Dollars ($95,000.00), which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued under and by virtue of the authority of Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Such notes shall be dated the date of issuance and shall be in the denomination or denominations as fixed by the Auditor and Mayor of the City of East Liverpool, and shall be numbered as determined by said Auditor and Mayor.

Said notes shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding four per centum per annum until paid and the interest on said notes shall be payable semi-annually. Said notes shall not be issued for a longer period of time than one year from date thereof, and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool upon presentation and surrender of notes as they respectively mature.

Said notes shall be due and payable as follows: One (1) year after date of issuance thereof.

Said notes shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of said City and sealed with the corporate seal of said City.

Each note shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued in pursuance of this ordinance and under authority of the Revised Code and the General Laws of the State of Ohio and particularly Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of Ohio; and said notes shall bear the name of the improvement for which they are issued legibly written or printed upon them as follows:

"Car Barn Property Purchase Notes."

SECTION 5. That said money so received by the issuance of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the following funds and in the amounts therein stated:

"Car Barn Property Purchase Fund." $95,000.00

and shall be deemed appropriated for the use for which it was borrowed and shall not be used for any other purpose.

SECTION 6. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue vouchers to the City Auditor for payments due under said contracts from said funds.

SECTION 7. For the payment of the principal and interest of said notes, the full faith, credit and revenue of the City of East Liverpool, be and they are hereby irrevocably pledged.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be first offered to the City Treasurer as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said Treasurer shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon (and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes), shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest (and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity) shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 9. The proceeds of the bonds to be issued and all unexpended balance remaining unpaid in the fund after the cost and expenses of the purchase have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and interest thereof as the same shall become due and to no other purpose whatsoever, until all of said notes and said interest have been fully paid.

SECTION 10. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of notes, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said notes at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said notes are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said notes as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said notes at maturity, which said tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11, of Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, extended and levied upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levied hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said notes when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 11. The city Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 12. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that additional garage and storage facilities are urgently needed in the City of East Liverpool in order to protect city vehicles, equipment and supplies so that the same will be available and in usable condition during hazardous winter street conditions and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace health and safety of the citizens of said City.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 33, 1966

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES BY THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PURCHASING LAND FOR USE AS A SANITARY LAND-FILL AND OTHER MUNICIPAL PURPOSES AND DECLARING THE NECESSITY OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR SUCH PURPOSE.

WHEREAS, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the property and improvement proposed to be purchased and constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to and of the notes to be issued in anticipation of said bonds, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as exceeding ten years and has further certified the maximum maturity of such bonds as exceeding ten years and such notes as five years.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio.

SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of East Liverpool, in the principal sum of $10,000.00 for the payment of the cost of purchasing the following land for use as a sanitary land-fill and other municipal purposes, to-wit:

Part 1. All of the southeast quarter of Section 15, Madison Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, except the following described tract: Beginning at the southwest corner of said southeast quarter and running thence with the midsection line North a distance of 1000.00 feet; thence East and parallel with the south line of said section a distance of 1692.74 feet; thence South and parallel with the midsection line a distance of 1000.00 feet to the south line of said section; thence with said line West a distance of 1692.74 feet to the place of beginning, containing in area 38.86 Acres. That part of the quarter section hereby conveyed contains 121.58 Acres.

Part 2. The following lots located in the southwest quarter of Section 14, Madison Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, and being more fully described in the plat of the Rock Camp Farms allotment recorded in volume 7, page 27 of the records of said county; Lot No. 6 containing 6.606 acres; Lot No. 7 containing 5.722 acres; Lot No. 8 containing 5.66 acres; Lot No. 9 containing 5.892 acres; Lot No. 10, excepting and reserving therefrom a certain conveyance recorded in volume 1160, page 67 of the records of Columbiana County. The remainder of Lot No. 10 being conveyed herein to the City of East Liverpool contains 4.537 Acres.

SECTION 2. That said bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in said principal sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) and shall be dated approximately the first day of September, 1967, shall bear interest at not to exceed four per centum per annum; said bonds shall mature as follows:

In substantially equal annual installments over a period of ten years from 1967 to 1976 inclusive.

SECTION 3. That it is necessary and this Council hereby determines that notes shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of said bonds.

SECTION 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00), which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued under and by virtue of the authority of Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Such notes shall be dated the date of issuance and shall be in the denomination as fixed by the Auditor and Mayor of the City of East Liverpool, and shall be numbered as determined by said Auditor and Mayor.

Said notes shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding four per centum per annum until paid and the interest on said notes shall be payable semi-annually. Said notes shall not be issued for a longer period of time than one year from date thereof, and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool upon presentation and surrender of said notes as they respectively mature.

Said notes shall be due and payable as follows: One (1) year after dates of issuance thereof, provided, that they may be paid earlier at the option of the City.

Said notes shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of said City and sealed with the corporate seal of said City.

Each note shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued in pursuance of this Ordinance and under authority of the Revised Code and the General Laws of the State of Ohio and particularly Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of Ohio; and said notes shall bear the name of the improvement for which they are issued legibly written or printed upon them as follows:

"SANITARY LAND-FILL NOTES."

SECTION 5. That said money so received by the issuance of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the following funds and in the amounts therein stated:

"SANITARY LAND-FILL FUND." $10,000.00

and shall be deemed appropriated for the use for which it was borrowed and shall not be used for any other purpose.

SECTION 6. That the Director of Public Service - Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue vouchers to the City Auditor for payments due under said contracts from said funds.

SECTION 7. For the payment of the principal and interest of said notes, the full faith, credit and revenue of the City of East Liverpool, be and they are hereby irrevocably pledged.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said Trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon (and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes), shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest (and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity) shall be transferred to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund to be applied by them in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 9. The proceeds of the bonds to be issued and all unexpended balance remaining unpaid in the fund after the cost and expenses of the purchase have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and interest thereof as the same shall become due and to no other purposes whatsoever, until all of said notes and said interest have been fully paid.

SECTION 10. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of notes, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said notes at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said notes are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said notes as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said notes at maturity, which said tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution, provided that payments may be made on said notes from the Garbage Fund as money is available in said fund for said purpose.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, extended and levied upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levied hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said notes when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 11. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 12. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that a sanitary land-fill site is needed as soon as possible in order to prevent a breakdown in the present garbage disposal facilities because of the overload on the same and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Too Many Things To Do

'This Cluttered World'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are too many things to do in this cluttered world.

Ever sit down and catalog the things you might like to have gotten done but didn't because you were simply too busy doing something else?

Here is list of unachieved daydreams by one man who, well past life's halfway mark, is amazed to discover he has never:

Had a tete-a-tete with a two-headed girl.

Smoked hashish.

Spent an evening in a Turkish harem.

Gotten looped in Chicago's Loop.

Received a blood transfusion, or been invited to dinner by a friendly banker.

Pawned anything.

Made love in a canoe, a sampan, or a royal barge on the Nile.

Read "Les Miserables," "The Last Days of Pompeii," or any novel written by Bertha M. Clay or Jean-Paul Sartre.

Acquired a black eye as the result of asking a Scotsman what he wore under his kilt.

Knocked over a stack of canned dog food in a supermarket.

Been made a Kentucky colonel, awarded an honorary degree by Harvard, or appeared as a mystery guest on the "What's My Line?" television show.

Required the services either of a stomach pump or a psychiatrist.

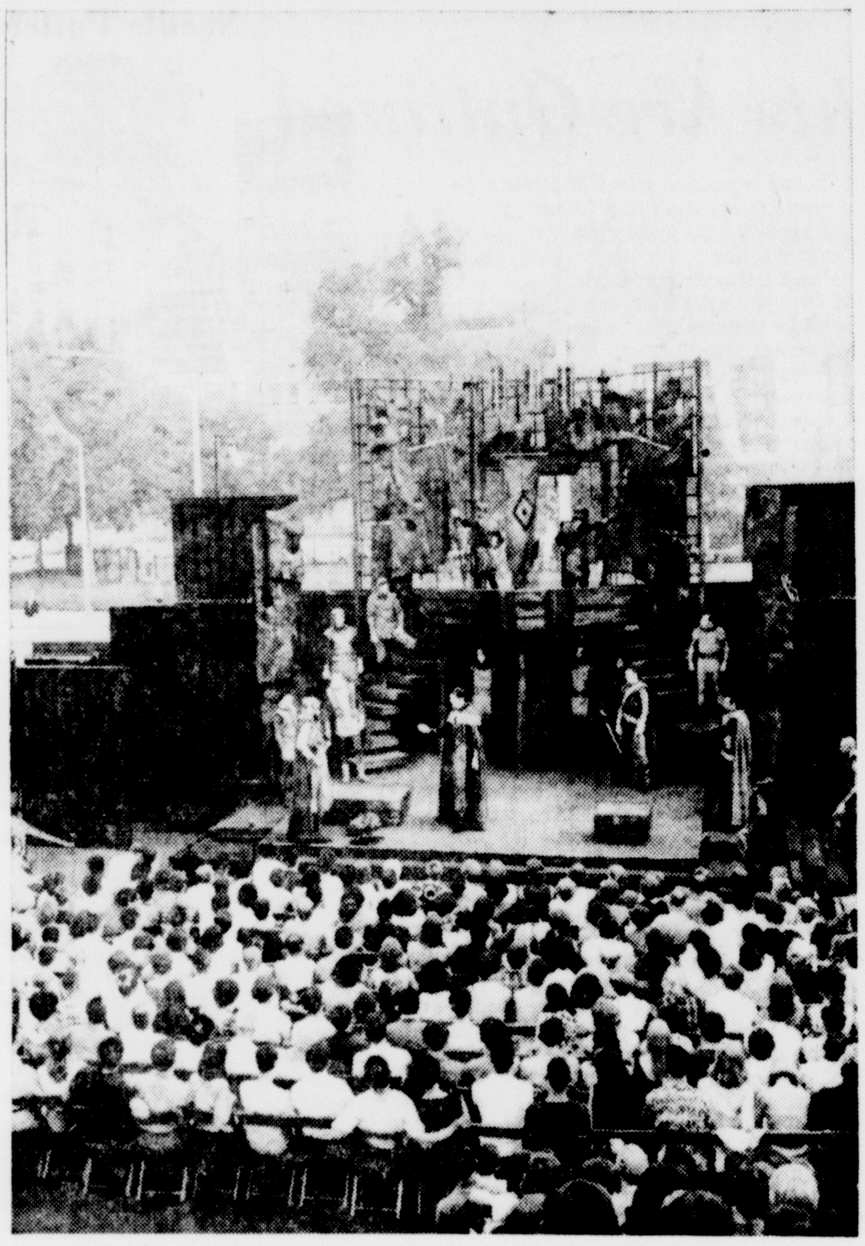
Sounds rather like a misspent life, doesn't it? When a fellow gets right down to it, it's pretty hard sometimes for him to figure out just what he has done with all his time on earth.



SHAKESPEARE ON WHEELS is the story in New York City, where a mobile company of actors performs in city parks. Their theatre, erected in three hours, can seat up to 1,600 at a showing.

New Trustee Elected By Democratic Club

Mrs. Painter succeeds County Recorder John P. Wargo, who resigned when he moved to Lisbon outside the club's territory.

President John Risbeck of North Georgetown was in charge.

The next meeting will be Sept. 12 at Franklin School in Summitville, with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Young host and hostess.

Free X-Rays Offered During Palestine Fair

LISBON — A chest X-ray cruiser sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League (the tuberculosis association) will have a unit at the East Palestine street fair Friday and Saturday.

It will be stationed at the American Legion home and will be in operation from 1 to 4 and 6 to 9 p. m. both days. Free X-rays are offered anyone over 18.

When making jelly, four layers of cheesecloth will do just as well for straining the juice as a jelly bag.

Goldfish should be fed daily, but only just the amount of food they will promptly consume.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 32, 1966
AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE - SAFETY TO PURCHASE LANDS AND BUILDINGS FOR GARAGE, STORAGE AND OFFICE FACILITIES.

WHEREAS, the various departments of the City lack space for the storage of motor Vehicles, supplies and equipment under cover so that the same may be kept in operable condition and useable condition particularly during the winter weather and said lack of storage space has become more acute because of the fact that present facilities have been condemned for further use, and

WHEREAS, garage, office and storage facilities adequate for all City purposes needed have been offered to the City and the purchase thereof is deemed adviseable by this Council,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO.

SECTION 1. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized to purchase the following described lands to be used for the purpose of storage of motor vehicle, equipment, supplies and office for the amount of $95,000.00, to-wit:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, and known as and being two tracts of land, one of which fronts 237.42 feet on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue and extends back along the east side of Dewey Avenue a distance of 500 feet and is known as the "Car Barn Property". The second tract being a strip of ground averaging forty feet in width and fronts on Dewey Avenue and extends easterly along the north end of the "Car Barn Property" a distance of approximately 300 feet. Said premises are described in Volume 999, Page 229, Record of Deeds, Columbiana County, Ohio, presently in the name of Edwin S. Morse, Trustee.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that additional garage and storage facilities are urgently needed in the City of East Liverpool in order to protect City vehicles, equipment and supplies so that the same will be available and in useable condition during hazardous winter street conditions and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Passed this 25th day of July, 1966.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Should Learn To Finish Jobs

Many a boy or girl is stimulated in a Scout Troop, Campfire Girls or 4-H Club to begin a project he or she will never finish. Too often the leader of such groups makes little or no effort to make sure the child will see the project through, nor to win the parents to help to this end. Tennyson might have been right — "Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all." But rarely is it better to have begun a job and not to finish it than never to have started it at all.

Dr. Garry Myers

Before your child obligates himself to undertake a project, consider with him whether he is able to see it through and the likelihood that he will. If you are pretty sure in your own mind that he will not see it through, you might be wise to dissuade him from beginning it, even to forbid his starting it, in some extreme instances.

—:—

SOMETIMES a little help at the beginning of the project will suffice. Sometimes some help and encouragement when his interest first wanes might work. Many projects require his attention at certain times, as does a garden project. Sometimes you may have persuasive powers to egg him on at the right time.

There may be times when you should, if you have the resources, require your child to go on with the project to its completion. Seeing you can neither persuade nor require him to finish the project, it might be better to induce him to abandon it entirely than to go on with it in a half-hearted hit-or-miss fashion.

Suppose your son agrees to mow the neighbor's lawn at regular intervals but grows negligent of this job. Either require him to do this job faithfully and well or to give it up entirely. Suppose you have hired a stranger to mow your lawn and your son wants to do this job at the same pay. Consider his likelihood of doing it regularly and well before agreeing to take him on.

Make clear to your son at what intervals it must be mowed and how the borders must be neatly trimmed. It is very important that your child mowing your lawn for pay, or as a family obligation, shall learn to finish the job doing neatly all the trimming. Then hold him to those standards; be exacting.

SOME WHILE ago I pointed out the desirability of training your child old enough to do the dishes, to do the whole job up to the last pot and pan and to tidying up the kitchen. All too many mothers encourage the child to leave these finishing jobs to her. If your child is helping you in the garden, see that he stays on the job till the last tool is put away.

Whether your child is 5, 9 or 14, have him learn early and continually to clean up the scraps, put everything away, and tidy up the place after he has finished making something. Even after your child has done his homework on an evening, he needs to learn to put everything away before leaving the job.

You are on a family picnic. Before leaving for home, every child who is able should be required to help clear up everything and pack all materials in the car before leaving for home. The main purpose is not to ease the burdens of the parents but to exercise the children in responsibility for helping finish the job.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Shapp Brands Milk Increase 'Profiteering'

Shapp said Tuesday that the consumer price increases of two and three cents a quart by processors are "almost" double the increase of 50 cents a hundredweight paid dairy farmers.

Meanwhile, said Shapp, the processors say the retail increase is due to increases paid farmers.

Shapp rapped what he called the lack of action by his opponent, Lt. Gov. Raymond Shafer, on the retail increase. With Gov. Scranton vacationing in Europe, Shapp said, Shafer has an obligation "at the very least" to get the facts before the consumers.

"As governor I intend to halt the practice of one-way regulation (of milk price controls) at the expense of the consumer."

Shapp said that although milk price control laws are supposed to protect the consumer and the dairy farmer, they "protect the interests of the big processors."

He said the action by processors in Western Pennsylvania and in the Philadelphia area a short time ago "speaks volumes about the true nature of the present milk control laws and their enforcement."

Tuesday night, however, Lt. Gov. Shafer said he has asked the Milk Control Commission to open emergency hearings on the price increases announced by three major Pittsburgh dairies.

Shafer said he wanted the hearings held "to obtain all the facts and factors involved" in the price increase.

Access Road Okayed To Campus In Beaver

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority approved Tuesday the construction of an access road at the Beaver County campus of Pennsylvania State University at a cost of $250,000.

The project was recommended by Sens. James S. Berger, R—Potter, and Stanley G. Stroup, R — Bedford, and House Speaker Robert K. Hamilton, D—Beaver.

It was approved without dissent.

The GSA executive board was told that the road was necessary for service and fire access from buildings at the campus to be completed in 1967-68.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 31, 1966.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES BY THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PURCHASING LAND AND BUILDINGS AT THE NORTHEAST CORNER OF DEWEY AVENUE AND PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE AND DECLARING THE NECESSITY OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR SUCH PURPOSE.

WHEREAS, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the property and improvement proposed to be purchased and constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to and of the notes to be issued in anticipation of said bonds, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as exceeding ten years and has further certified the maximum maturity of such bonds as exceeding ten years and such notes as five years.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of East Liverpool, in the principal sum of $95,000.00 for the payment of the cost of purchasing the following land and buildings to provide for the storage of City motor vehicles, equipment and supplies and departmental offices, to-wit:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, and known as and being two tracts of land, one of which fronts 237.42 feet on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue and extends back along the east side of Dewey Avenue a distance of 500 feet and is known as the "Car Barn Property". The second tract being a strip of ground averaging forty feet in width and fronts on Dewey Avenue and extends easterly along the North end of the "Carn Barn Property" a distance of approximately 300 feet. Said premises are described in Volume 999, Page 229, Record of Deeds, Columbiana County, Ohio, presently in the name of Edwin S. Morse, Trustee.

SECTION 2. That said bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in said principal sum of Ninety-Five Thousand Dollars ($95,000.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) and shall be dated approximately the first day of September, 1967; shall bear interest at not to exceed four per centum per annum; said bonds shall mature as follows:

In substantially equal annual installments over a period of ten years from 1968 to 1977 inclusive.

SECTION 3. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of Ninety-Five Thousand Dollars ($95,000.00), which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued under and by virtue of the authority of Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Such notes shall be dated the date of issuance and shall be in the denomination or denominations as fixed by the Auditor and Mayor of the City of East Liverpool, and shall be numbered as determined by said Auditor and Mayor.

Said notes shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding four per centum per annum until paid and the interest on said notes shall be payable semi-annually. Said notes shall not be issued for a longer period of time than one year from date thereof, and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool upon presentation and surrender of notes as they respectively mature.

Said notes shall be due and payable as follows: One (1) year after date of issuance thereof.

Said notes shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of said City and sealed with the corporate seal of said City.

Each note shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued in pursuance of this ordinance and under authority of the Revised Code and the General Laws of the State of Ohio and particularly Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of Ohio; and said notes shall bear the name of the improvement for which they are issued legibly written or printed upon them as follows:

"Car Barn Property Purchase Notes."

SECTION 5. That said money so received by the issuance of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the following funds and in the amounts therein stated:

"Car Barn Property Purchase Fund." $95,000.00

and shall be deemed appropriated for the use for which it was borrowed and shall not be used for any other purpose.

SECTION 6. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue vouchers to the City Auditor for payments due under said contracts from said funds.

SECTION 7. For the payment of the principal and interest of said notes, the full faith, credit and revenue of the City of East Liverpool, be and they are hereby irrevocably pledged.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be first offered to the City Treasurer as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said Treasurer shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon (and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes), shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest (and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity) shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 9. The proceeds of the bonds to be issued and all unexpended balance remaining unpaid in the fund after the cost and expenses of the purchase have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and interest thereof as the same shall become due and to no other purpose whatsoever, until all of said notes and said interest have been fully paid.

SECTION 10. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of notes, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said notes at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said notes are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said notes as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said notes at maturity, which said tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11, of Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, extended and levied upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levied hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said notes when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 11. The city Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 12. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that additional garage and storage facilities are urgently needed in the City of East Liverpool in order to protect city vehicles, equipment and supplies so that the same will be available and in usable condition during hazardous winter street conditions and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace health and safety of the citizens of said City.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 33, 1966

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES BY THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PURCHASING LAND FOR USE AS A SANITARY LAND-FILL AND OTHER MUNICIPAL PURPOSES AND DECLARING THE NECESSITY OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR SUCH PURPOSE.

WHEREAS, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the property and improvement proposed to be purchased and constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to and of the notes to be issued in anticipation of said bonds, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as exceeding ten years and has further certified the maximum maturity of such bonds as exceeding ten years and such notes as five years.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio.

SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of East Liverpool, in the principal sum of $10,000.00 for the payment of the cost of purchasing the following land for use as a sanitary land-fill and other municipal purposes, to-wit:

Part 1. All of the southeast quarter of Section 15, Madison Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, except the following described tract: Beginning at the southwest corner of said southeast quarter and running thence with the midsection line North a distance of 1000.00 feet; thence East and parallel with the south line of said section a distance of 1692.74 feet; thence South and parallel with the midsection line a distance of 1000.00 feet to the south line of said section; thence with said line West a distance of 1692.74 feet to the place of beginning, containing in area 38.86 Acres. That part of the quarter section hereby conveyed contains 121.58 Acres.

Part 2. The following lots located in the southwest quarter of Section 14, Madison Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, and being more fully described in the plat of the Rock Camp Farms allotment recorded in volume 7, page 27 of the records of said county; Lot No. 6 containing 6.606 acres; Lot No. 7 containing 5.722 acres; Lot No. 8 containing 5.66 acres; Lot No. 9 containing 5.892 acres; Lot No. 10, excepting and reserving therefrom a certain conveyance recorded in volume 1160, page 67 of the records of Columbiana County. The remainder of Lot No. 10 being conveyed herein to the City of East Liverpool contains 4.537 Acres.

SECTION 2. That said bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in said principal sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) and shall be dated approximately the first day of September, 1967, shall bear interest at not to exceed four per centum per annum; said bonds shall mature as follows:

In substantially equal annual installments over a period of ten years from 1967 to 1976 inclusive.

SECTION 3. That it is necessary and this Council hereby determines that notes shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of said bonds.

SECTION 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00), which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued under and by virtue of the authority of Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Such notes shall be dated the date of issuance and shall be in the denomination as fixed by the Auditor and Mayor of the City of East Liverpool, and shall be numbered as determined by said Auditor and Mayor.

Said notes shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding four per centum per annum until paid and the interest on said notes shall be payable semi-annually. Said notes shall not be issued for a longer period of time than one year from date thereof, and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool upon presentation and surrender of said notes as they respectively mature.

Said notes shall be due and payable as follows: One (1) year after dates of issuance thereof, provided, that they may be paid earlier at the option of the City.

Said notes shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of said City and sealed with the corporate seal of said City.

Each note shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued in pursuance of this Ordinance and under authority of the Revised Code and the General Laws of the State of Ohio and particularly Section 133.32 of the Revised Code of Ohio; and said notes shall bear the name of the improvement for which they are issued legibly written or printed upon them as follows:

"SANITARY LAND-FILL NOTES."

SECTION 5. That said money so received by the issuance of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the following funds and in the amounts therein stated:

"SANITARY LAND-FILL FUND." $10,000.00

and shall be deemed appropriated for the use for which it was borrowed and shall not be used for any other purpose.

SECTION 6. That the Director of Public Service - Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue vouchers to the City Auditor for payments due under said contracts from said funds.

SECTION 7. For the payment of the principal and interest of said notes, the full faith, credit and revenue of the City of East Liverpool, be and they are hereby irrevocably pledged.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said Trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon (and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes), shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest (and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity) shall be transferred to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund to be applied by them in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 9. The proceeds of the bonds to be issued and all unexpended balance remaining unpaid in the fund after the cost and expenses of the purchase have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and interest thereof as the same shall become due and to no other purposes whatsoever, until all of said notes and said interest have been fully paid.

SECTION 10. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of notes, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said notes at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said notes are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said notes as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said notes at maturity, which said tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution, provided that payments may be made on said notes from the Garbage Fund as money is available in said fund for said purpose.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, extended and levied upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levied hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said notes when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 11. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 12. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that a sanitary land-fill site is needed as soon as possible in order to prevent a breakdown in the present garbage disposal facilities because of the overload on the same and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Wise Buys

RIVERSIDE PARK, EAST LIVERPOOL. Four rooms and bath, one story, decent level yard, basement, new automatic water heater. It ain't a mansion, but O.K. for $2,500.

1075 MONACA STREET. Well painted white frame home, high above the street and plenty of steps to climb to get there. It has a good view, gas heating, nice kitchen. Due to the steps—only $2,700.

1009 HUSTON AVENUE. One of the best buys we have had in the lower price range, new gas furnace, large square living room with fireplace, two big bedrooms, nicely painted, only a few steps from McKinley School. $3,700.

812 CHESTER AVENUE. Three bedroom home, new gas furnace, automatic gas water heater, good location for the school and friends for your children. Reduced to $5,500.

SALINEVILLE. Masonry store building 60 x 80 — used as a grocery, good wiring and plumbing, full basement, has solid floors, three apartments above —right on the main street and suitable for many different purposes. Asking $15,000. Terms Available too.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 32, 1966
AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE - SAFETY TO PURCHASE LANDS AND BUILDINGS FOR GARAGE, STORAGE AND OFFICE FACILITIES.

WHEREAS, the various departments of the City lack space for the storage of motor Vehicles, supplies and equipment under cover so that the same may be kept in operable condition and useable condition particularly during the winter weather and said lack of storage space has become more acute because of the fact that present facilities have been condemned for further use, and

WHEREAS, garage, office and storage facilities adequate for all City purposes needed have been offered to the City and the purchase thereof is deemed adviseable by this Council,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO.

SECTION 1. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized to purchase the following described lands to be used for the purpose of storage of motor vehicle, equipment, supplies and office for the amount of $95,000.00, to-wit:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, and known as and being two tracts of land, one of which fronts 237.42 feet on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue and extends back along the east side of Dewey Avenue a distance of 500 feet and is known as the "Car Barn Property". The second tract being a strip of ground averaging forty feet in width and fronts on Dewey Avenue and extends easterly along the north end of the "Car Barn Property" a distance of approximately 300 feet. Said premises are described in Volume 999, Page 229, Record of Deeds, Columbiana County, Ohio, presently in the name of Edwin S. Morse, Trustee.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that additional garage and storage facilities are urgently needed in the City of East Liverpool in order to protect City vehicles, equipment and supplies so that the same will be available and in useable condition during hazardous winter street conditions and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Passed this 25th day of July, 1966.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, Japan offered to surrender to the United States at the end of World War II under terms of the Potsdam Treaty.

On this date:

In 1776, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson suggested "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto of the seal of the United States.

In 1821, Missouri was admitted to the Union.

In 1846, the Smithsonian Institute was established.

In 1914, France declared war on Austria-Hungary.

In 1944, the formation of an Allied airborne army was announced.

Ten years ago — Britain, France and the U.S. began circulating their suggestions for a solution to the Suez Canal crisis.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: How were cats domesticated?

ANSWER: As men progressed beyond the primitive hunting stage, they began to store grain to use as a stable supply of food. Rats and mice became a menance around their granaries. It is thought that tribesmen in Africa were the first to tempt small wild cats into their camps with meat scraps (upper picture) and then to notice how the rats and mice disappeared. When the Egyptians, about 3000 B.C., began large scale grain storage, they deliberately domesticated wild cats in the same way to protect their stores of grain. So valuable were the cats to them that the Egyptians made beautiful statues of them,(lower right) and came to regard them as gods. From Egypt the idea of domesticating cats spread to other parts of the world. The African wild cat, the first type to be domesticated, looks something like a modern day tabby cat. The owner of a cat in ancient Egypt often shaved off his own eyebrows when his cat died, as a sign of mourning. Pet cats were frequently mummified before being buried in special cemeteries.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: If I'm an overly sensitive fool, please tell me. I'm going to relate, word for word, what a friend of mine said to me recently and I would appreciate your opinion of what was behind her remarks — if anything.

Out of the clear blue sky Susan (not her real name) said, "Do you know that if you put on Al's clothes (Al is my husband) you would look exactly like him? You are so masculine in appearance I can't get over it."

I was shocked but changed the subject and said nothing. (What was there to say?) Then she repeated the same remark at a bridge club three days later —in the presence of six other women.

Nobody said a word and I wanted to go through the floor. It's true I'm 5 feet 11 inches tall and large-boned but I've always carried my height well and never felt that I looked like a man.

I like Susan very much and don't understand what she is trying to do. Do you?—TEMPER RISING.

Dear Temper: I cannot recall ever having heard a more tactless remark. By no stretch of the imagination can this woman be considered a friend.

If she brings up the subject again, ask her what she is trying to prove. And let me know, will you please?

Special Service

Dear Ann: Our 7-year-old son had to have some teeth filled. The dentist gave him a shot of novocain first and the needle scared the boy to death.

Yesterday I was in the room with the child and he began to fuss when the dentist came toward him with another needle. I tried to calm him but the dentist pushed me aside and told me not to "interfere."

He began to jerk the boy's head from side to side and slapped his hands—all the while yelling for him to behave. Is it necessary for a dentist to scream at children and slap them? Please comment. — AMAZED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Some dentists, no matter how competent, do not have the temperament or disposition to work with children. Obviously, this dentist should limit his practice to adult patients who can slap him back. Make a change.

Tennessee Waltz

Dear Ann: Maybe a lot of smart people write to you but you hear from a lot of nuts, too. Witness that letter from the wife who complained because her husband complimented her in front of company.

If she lives in Memphis, ask her to send her complimentary husband to me and I'll let her have my nitwit.

Kelly and I have been married for 24 years and if he ever told me I looked nice, or that a meal was good, I'd die of shock. I could shave my head and put a ring in my nose and he wouldn't notice.

Just to test him I once put a bandage around my head and he didn't say a word. Finally I asked him if he wanted to know why my head was bandaged. He said he thought it was a new hair style.

Kelly doesn't drink, smoke, gamble, cheat, swear, stay out at night or blow his pay check. I honestly think I'd let him have any of these vices in exchange for a few compliments now and then. Am I crazy? — TENNESSEE WIFE.

Dear Wife: It isn't what a man says that counts — but how he treats a woman. And I'd say your man treats you pretty good. Incidentally, do you ever compliment him? One hand does wash the other.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Ex-Toronto Teacher Joins College Faculty

STEUBENVILLE—Henry Le Blanc, for 25 years a teacher in the Toronto school system and recently affiliated with the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, has been appointed to the faculty of The College of Steubenville as an instructor in the Department of Sociology.

The announcement was made by the Rev. Columba J. Devlin, T.O.R., president of the college.

LeBlanc has held the position of subdivision manager for Aid to the Aged in Jefferson County and recently was appointed as public assistance supervisor. He is a member of the Ohio Welfare Association and of the Executive Board of the Steubenville Childhood Development Association.

Le Blanc was educated at Muskingum College, where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree. He earned his Master of Arts at Ohio State University and has done doctoral study in sociology at the University of Pittsburgh.

City Hospital Treats Eight

Calvin Price of 921 Carolina Ave., Chester, injured his right arm when he jumped from a truck.

John Bahen, son of David Bahen of Dewey Ave., was treated for wounds received when bitten by a dog.

Dan Sanford, son of Arnold Sanford of Coolidge Ave., R. D. 2, suffered lacerations and abrasions of the right knee when he fell from a cart.

Rhonda Stefl, daughter of Kenneth Stefl of Samuel St., was X-rayed after she fell and hit her head against cement.

Thief Gets Hot Loot

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A sneak thief here believed in striking while the iron was hot. Marie Edlund was ironing in her kitchen when she was interrupted by the ringing of the front doorbell. Walking to the front door, she found no one there and stepped outside the house for a further look. When she finally returned to the kitchen, she found someone had entered the back door and stolen her electric iron.

Unfair Practice Charges Filed By Wheeling Steel

WHEELING (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp. has filed an unfair labor practices charge against the United Steel Workers union as the result of a dispute over the labor status at the company's fabricating plant.

The company, in filing the charge with the National Labor Relations Board Tuesday, said the USW was "coercing" Wheeling Steel into discriminating against future non - union employes of the plant.

The union contends it has bargaining rights for employes of the plant because it represented workers there before the plant was shutdown.

The plant is being renovated to resume production under an $8.8 million federal contract.

The company said its suggestion that future workers at the plant be allowed to decide whether they want to be represented by the USW was turned down by the union.

Salvage Operation

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Mrs. Lawrence Yankowitz has fashioned a rug out of belts from jersey shifts. She acquired the belts from an area where dress manufacturers dump remnants and discontinued samples.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: How were cats domesticated?

ANSWER: As men progressed beyond the primitive hunting stage, they began to store grain to use as a stable supply of food. Rats and mice became a menance around their granaries. It is thought that tribesmen in Africa were the first to tempt small wild cats into their camps with meat scraps (upper picture) and then to notice how the rats and mice disappeared. When the Egyptians, about 3000 B.C., began large scale grain storage, they deliberately domesticated wild cats in the same way to protect their stores of grain. So valuable were the cats to them that the Egyptians made beautiful statues of them,(lower right) and came to regard them as gods. From Egypt the idea of domesticating cats spread to other parts of the world. The African wild cat, the first type to be domesticated, looks something like a modern day tabby cat. The owner of a cat in ancient Egypt often shaved off his own eyebrows when his cat died, as a sign of mourning. Pet cats were frequently mummified before being buried in special cemeteries.

FOR YOU TO DO: Give your cat a treat: brush his hair in long strokes, in the direction the hair grows. He'll love it.

Gregory Martens of Chicago wins today's combine prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 10, the 222nd day of 1966. There are 143 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, Japan offered to surrender to the United States at the end of World War II under terms of the Potsdam Treaty.

On this date:

In 1776, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson suggested "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto of the seal of the United States.

In 1821, Missouri was admitted to the Union.

In 1846, the Smithsonian Institute was established.

In 1914, France declared war on Austria-Hungary.

In 1944, the formation of an Allied airborne army was announced.

Ten years ago — Britain, France and the U.S. began circulating their suggestions for a solution to the Suez Canal crisis.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: If I'm an overly sensitive fool, please tell me. I'm going to relate, word for word, what a friend of mine said to me recently and I would appreciate your opinion of what was behind her remarks — if anything.

Out of the clear blue sky Susan (not her real name) said, "Do you know that if you put on Al's clothes (Al is my husband) you would look exactly like him? You are so masculine in appearance I can't get over it."

I was shocked but changed the subject and said nothing. (What was there to say?) Then she repeated the same remark at a bridge club three days later —in the presence of six other women.

Nobody said a word and I wanted to go through the floor. It's true I'm 5 feet 11 inches tall and large-boned but I've always carried my height well and never felt that I looked like a man.

I like Susan very much and don't understand what she is trying to do. Do you?—TEMPER RISING.

Dear Temper: I cannot recall ever having heard a more tactless remark. By no stretch of the imagination can this woman be considered a friend.

If she brings up the subject again, ask her what she is trying to prove. And let me know, will you please?

Special Service

Dear Ann: Our 7-year-old son had to have some teeth filled. The dentist gave him a shot of novocain first and the needle scared the boy to death.

Yesterday I was in the room with the child and he began to fuss when the dentist came toward him with another needle. I tried to calm him but the dentist pushed me aside and told me not to "interfere."

He began to jerk the boy's head from side to side and slapped his hands—all the while yelling for him to behave. Is it necessary for a dentist to scream at children and slap them? Please comment. — AMAZED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Some dentists, no matter how competent, do not have the temperament or disposition to work with children. Obviously, this dentist should limit his practice to adult patients who can slap him back. Make a change.

Tennessee Waltz

Dear Ann: Maybe a lot of smart people write to you but you hear from a lot of nuts, too. Witness that letter from the wife who complained because her husband complimented her in front of company.

If she lives in Memphis, ask her to send her complimentary husband to me and I'll let her have my nitwit.

Kelly and I have been married for 24 years and if he ever told me I looked nice, or that a meal was good, I'd die of shock. I could shave my head and put a ring in my nose and he wouldn't notice.

Just to test him I once put a bandage around my head and he didn't say a word. Finally I asked him if he wanted to know why my head was bandaged. He said he thought it was a new hair style.

Kelly doesn't drink, smoke, gamble, cheat, swear, stay out at night or blow his pay check. I honestly think I'd let him have any of these vices in exchange for a few compliments now and then. Am I crazy? — TENNESSEE WIFE.

Dear Wife: It isn't what a man says that counts — but how he treats a woman. And I'd say your man treats you pretty good. Incidentally, do you ever compliment him? One hand does wash the other.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Thief Gets Hot Loot

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A sneak thief here believed in striking while the iron was hot. Marie Edlund was ironing in her kitchen when she was interrupted by the ringing of the front doorbell. Walking to the front door, she found no one there and stepped outside the house for a further look. When she finally returned to the kitchen, she found someone had entered the back door and stolen her electric iron.

Unfair Practice Charges Filed By Wheeling Steel

WHEELING (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp. has filed an unfair labor practices charge against the United Steel Workers union as the result of a dispute over the labor status at the company's fabricating plant.

The company, in filing the charge with the National Labor Relations Board Tuesday, said the USW was "coercing" Wheeling Steel into discriminating against future non - union employes of the plant.

The union contends it has bargaining rights for employes of the plant because it represented workers there before the plant was shutdown.

The plant is being renovated to resume production under an $8.8 million federal contract.

The company said its suggestion that future workers at the plant be allowed to decide whether they want to be represented by the USW was turned down by the union.

Salvage Operation

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Mrs. Lawrence Yankowitz has fashioned a rug out of belts from jersey shifts. She acquired the belts from an area where dress manufacturers dump remnants and discontinued samples.
